The Worthy Grand Matron and Worthy Grand Patron will meet with the Eastern Star, Tuesday evening, September 24.

W. W. ("Pap") Davis went to Salem Monday to visit the Fair, after which he will visit his daughter at Dallas. —Roseburg Review.

Mrs. Ella J. Metzger will give a $4 hat to the girl under 16 years of age who exhibits the best roll of butter at the School Children's Industrial Fair.

Naomi Chapter O. E. S. will hold a regular meeting next Tuesday evening, September 24. All members are requested to be present. Mrs. Lizzie Muir, Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Collins have moved into town from their farm on Mount Plagah, and will live in the house east of H. L. Fenton's residence during the coming winter.

Dr. V. Fink's crew of hop pickers finished work in his yard near Salt Creek, Wednesday. This yard is one of the largest in this locality, and employs a large number of pickers.

The Dallas public school will begin Monday, September 23, and Dallas college on the Wednesday following. In both institutions, an attendance much larger than that of previous years is anticipated.

Hon. N. L. Butler and son Ralph went to Portland, Tuesday, in response to a message telling them that Mrs. Butler had suffered an attack of heart disease. She is reported to be out of danger now and resting comfortably.

The new steam feed recently installed at the sawmill of the Willamette Valley Lumber Company has been in operation for about a week, and is found to add greatly to the speed and convenience of handling the carriage. The daily output of lumber is greatly increased by this new addition to the machinery of the mill.

In spite of the recent rains, the harvest of the prune crop goes merrily on. Few grown men, and no women and girls are employed in this work, and the small boys, who do carry it on, do not mind the rain. To crawl around in the mud on their hands and knees, seems to them rather a pleasure than otherwise.

Miss Laverne Burns, of Bridgeport, visited in Dallas yesterday.

Mrs. Frank Brown, of Portland, is visiting relatives in Dallas this week. John Olin returned yesterday from a week's visit with his family in Vancouver.

Mrs. A. J. Rhodes, of Seattle, is visiting at the home of her father, J. J. Williams.

Hon. J. H. V. Gates, of Hillsboro, came to Dallas yesterday to look after his interests in the Dallas water system.

Walter Roy and family returned yesterday from Buena Vista, where they have been camping during the hop picking season.

Miss Brittle McDevitt returned to Portland, Wednesday, after an extended visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDevitt.

Edward Bossler, a fireman on the mountain division of the Dallas and Falls City railroad, has been spending a short vacation in this city.

Mrs. Ella J. Metzger cordially invites the ladies of Polk county to attend the opening of her fine display of Fall and Winter hats, tomorrow (Saturday).

A larger number of people from Dallas went to the State Fair yesterday, than on any previous day of the week. It is expected, however, that Saturday will witness a still larger attendance from our town.

The Dallas Lumber Company has not been operating its mill since the latter part of June, and has employed the most of its crew on the repair work along the Rickreall, during the past two months. They will resume work at the mill, as soon as the Fall rains have raised the LaCreole sufficiently to make flooding logs possible.

The iron pump house near the railroad bridge has been taken down and will be removed to Myrtle Point, to be set up at that place. The pump, which was operated by a small gasoline engine, was used to fill the big tank that supplied water to the trains on this line, but has not been in operation since the installation of water-works in Dallas.

George E. Cutler has decided to retire from active work, and has sold his real estate list to Messrs. A. J. Barham and R. B. Winslow, who will conduct the business in partnership in future. The new firm will have their office in the building formerly occupied by Mr. Cutler, adjoining the postoffice. Mr. Cutler says that he and Mrs. Cutler will spend the coming winter visiting in California.

Mervin Boyer came in from his father's homestead on Salmon River yesterday for a short visit in Dallas. He has been teaching school in his home district this summer and will have charge of the school at Butler during the coming year. Mr. Boyer says that the travel in that locality has been heavier during September than at any previous time this season. Many hunters and homesteaders are passing through Butler every day. A party of men from Portland have recently taken up their camp near Devil's Lake, intending to be on the ground and ready for the opening of the hunting season.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office. J. Hannum, of Airle, was a county seat visitor yesterday.

W. R. Craven returned to his claim near Salmon River yesterday.

Miss Bertha Collins announces the opening of her millinery store Friday and Saturday evenings, and invites the ladies of Dallas to call and inspect her fine stock of Fall and Winter hats.

The Willamette Valley Lumber Company brought a donkey engine down from their camp above Black Rock yesterday, and anchored it on a siding near the mill pond, to pull out a jam of logs that had been formed alongside of the track where the logs are dumped from the cars into the water.

Hugh Hayes sent to the OBSERVER office this week a box containing samples of Italian prunes from his orchard in North Dallas. These prunes are remarkably large and well formed, and do great credit to Mr. Hayes' skill as a grower of fine fruit. Many of them are from 4 to 6 inches in circumference.

The college gymnasium is being arranged this week to receive the various exhibits for the approaching Industrial Fair. The hall is large and well lighted, and will be furnished in such a manner as to display everything to the best possible advantage. The interest of the children in the Fair has been so great, that the executive committee expects to have no trouble in filling the display counters to overflowing with fine exhibits from every district in Polk county.

READY FOR WORK

Dallas Handle Factory Will Begin Operations Next Monday.

The Dallas Handle Factory will commence work Monday morning with a full crew of hands. Nine men and three teams will come from Portland today and move out to the camp on the Holman place to cut and bolt oak timber. The company which formerly operated this plant relied entirely upon the farmers along the railroad to furnish them with stock, and were often compelled to suspend operation on account of their inability to get it. The new company, however, employing its own crew, will not suffer from such delays and will be able to keep in operation continuously.

POPULAR COUPLE WED

Miss Lenora Butler, of Monmouth, Becomes the Bride of Charles V. Teats.

Charles Velroy Teats, of this city, and Miss Lenora Butler, of Monmouth, were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Eva Butler, at 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening. The wedding was solemnized by the ring ceremony, the Rev. E. C. Wigmore officiating. The bride was given away by her uncle, J. B. V. Butler. She was prettily gowned in dotted voile over green taffeta, and carried a bouquet of white asters. The rooms were decorated with white flowers, vines and a profusion of beautiful roses.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Teats received the congratulations of the many friends and relatives present. An elaborate wedding supper was then served, followed by a reception. Many handsome presents were received. After the guests had departed, the young couple drove to Dallas to the new cottage where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Teats are worthy young people, and have many friends in Dallas and Monmouth, all of whom extend congratulations.
