Romance, comedy, sensation, pathos, scenery, electrical effects and costumes seasoned with a reasonable amount of gunpowder and served by an excellent company of players, is what may be said of "The Cow-Puncher" to be seen at Woodman Hall, Wednesday night.

The opening of the rainy season, if the climatic demonstrations of yesterday may be regarded as such, will be hailed with delight by those working in the sawmill of the Willamette Valley Lumber Company. The water in the mill pond became so low during the long dry season just passed, that the logs can scarcely be floated, but pile up in huge jams just as they are dumped from the cars. For over a month a donkey engine has been used to break these jams and drag the logs to the mill. A few days of rainy weather will raise the water in the pond to its customary level, and the tedious and expensive method will then be dispensed with.

William Faulk went to St. Joe, Saturday, on business.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dunn are visiting relatives and friends in Portland.

Mrs. Jacob Pfau died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mark Capps, near Eola yesterday. She was a native of Illinois, and was 76 years old. She came to Oregon in 1862 from Missouri. Five children survive her. Burial will take place at Rickreall tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Black arrived home this week from an extended visit at their old home in Denver, Missouri. They also spent considerable time in Kansas. They greatly enjoyed their visit, but like all loyal Oregonians, are glad to be at home again.

Frank Isaac, clerk of the new school district on the Grand Ronde reservation, called in and subscribed for the Observer, Saturday. He was accompanied by Andrew Smith, a director of the district. These men are full-blooded Indians, but are well educated and are proud of their public school.

Dr. J. R. N. Bell left Monday for a two days hunt in Polk County with Dr. O. D. Butler. For 16 years, with the exception of but two, these two small gentlemen weighing but two hundred and fifty pounds each have had an annual hunt together. They do well until they encounter barbed wire fences which they cannot crawl under, go through, nor jump, but have to go around.—Corvallis Gazette.

According to the Portland papers, Deputy Sheriff Bulger claims the credit for the arrest of Lewis Munson, last Tuesday, mention of which was made in these columns. Bulger says he located his man in a logging camp west of Falls City. He does not add, however, that his man had left the camp and spent several days in Portland without being apprehended by the Multnomah county authorities. It was after Munson had gotten safely away from Portland and returned to Dallas that he was arrested by Sheriff Grant, who had learned that the man was wanted by Sheriff Stevens.

County Court next week.

T. M. Arnold, of Pelee, was a visitor in Dallas, Sunday.

Henry Clamfield and son, Bert, of Salt Creek, were business visitors in Dallas today.

Have you ever noticed that when a man and his wife start to go anywhere, he tells her to get out his good suit, fix the buttons in his shirt, get his cuffs, good shoes, tie his necktie, brush his hat, perfume his kerchief, and a few other little jobs. Then he puts on his hat and says, "Great Scott! Ain't you ready yet?"

A man named Kibbey came into Dallas from Oakdale yesterday with a badly damaged optic, claiming that his neighbor, Sherwood, had struck him with the butt end of a whip. His face was so badly cut that the surgeon found it necessary to put in four stitches to close the wound. No arrests have been made. Dr. Bollman says Kibbey is in danger of losing the sight of the injured eye.

Miss Betsy Milne died Friday, October 25, at the home of her brother, C. G. Curtis, near Sheridan Junction. Death was caused by tubercular disease of the spine. The body was brought to Dallas, and the funeral services were conducted by the Rev. D. J. Becker in Chapman's chapel, Sunday afternoon. Interment took place in the Oddfellows' cemetery. Miss Milne was 19 years and 10 months old. She was a bright girl, and had many friends.

Mrs. Anna Dougan died at her home in Tacoma, Thursday, after an illness of two weeks. She was 54 years old, and left two children, Herbert Sears and Mary M. Dougan. Her first husband was David T. Sears, a former well-known citizen of Polk county, and her last husband was J. M. Dougan, a prominent Tacoma business man. By the death of Mrs. Dougan, her sister, Mrs. Frank Rowell of Dallas, becomes the last living representative of the family of the late Isaac Levens.

The players in the Dallas College basketball team are showing up in excellent style, and the enormous scores they run up in their daily practice bouts with the "scrubs," show that the hands of the veteran players of 1906 have lost none of their cunning. Shaw, Fenton and Craven are falling into line like clock work, and when Savery has recovered from his recent illness sufficiently to resume the work on the basket ball court, there will be things doing in the gymnasium that will remind the "fans" of last year and the year preceding it.

correct. Our 17 clerks were not sufficient to handle the crowd. Next Saturday will be another.

Its On The Go!

We are still selling Wall Paper. Its no joke, you will have to hurry if you get any before its all gone. At the rate its now going, it can't last over one week more. We are now going to start a closing out sale on all our Men's Suits and Overcoats. This will be no make-believe sale but a sale that will force you to buy if you ever expect to need a suit. Come in and look before they get all picked over.

We are overstocked in all departments and must unload. We now have the greatest stock of merchandise in Western Oregon.

A glance at our store last Saturday would have proven to you that what we advertise is correct. Our 17 clerks were not sufficient to handle the crowd. Next Saturday will be another.

WELCOME THEIR PASTOR

Members of M. E. Church Entertained at Home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Morrison.

The members of the Methodist Episcopal Church gave a pleasant reception to their new pastor, the Rev. M. P. Dixon, and his family, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Morrison last night.

Judge Dan P. Stouffer, in a short address, welcomed Mr. Dixon to his new charge, and the Rev. N. W. Sager, the Evangelical minister greeted him in behalf of the churches of the city. To these addresses, Mr. Dixon responded briefly, and thanked his new friends for their kind welcome to him and his family.

Vocal solos by J. H. Moore and F. H. Morrison evoked hearty encores from the assembled company. The remainder of the evening was spent in a social way, and in becoming better acquainted with the new pastor and his family. Punch and light refreshments were served in the dining room during the evening.

Mrs. C. A. Campbell fractured her right arm Saturday, by falling from the woodshed steps at her home.

Mrs. L. P. Round, of Falls City, was in Dallas today, returning from the W. C. T. U. convention in Eugene.

T. D. Phillips received a message this morning from Lewisville informing him that H. D. Staats, who has been ill for some time, had suddenly grown worse and that little hope was entertained for his recovery.

To do the family washing at home. When you figure up the cost of water, soap, starch, extra fire and time, and most of all the mess and trouble that it makes, and compare it with our price of 6 cents a pound, washed, starched and dried and 25 cents a dozen for flat pieces, you will see that you can't afford to wash at home.
