

Polk County Observer

J. C. HAYTER,
EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.
 Published Semi-Weekly at $1.50 per Year.
 Entered as second-class matter March 1, 1907, at the post office at Dallas, Oregon, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.
 DALLAS, OREGON, NOVEMBER 1, 1907.
 The way to build up Dallas is to pat-rize Dallas people.

Farmers coming in from the country say that the rain will be of incalculable help to them. The month of dry weather just ended kept the soil in such a condition that it was impossible to plow and seed, and thereby greatly delayed the Fall work.

All talk of a panic in these days of prosperity is idle. Business in all lines is good, the country has been blessed with bountiful crops, and there is more money in the United States today than ever before. There will be no panic. The people are too busy and prosperous to indulge in such an expensive luxury.

Three years ago, after completing a census of Dallas, the OBSERVER said: "The count shows that the town is making a steady and healthy growth. The day is not far distant when it will have a population of 2000 people." The predicted growth has been realized, and further predictions are in order. With the splendid start already made, we venture the opinion that the Government census of 1910 will give Dallas a population of 3000.

The next qualifying examinations for the Rhodes Scholarships for this state will be held at the University of Oregon, Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 21-22, 1908. The arrangements for conducting the examinations will follow those of last year, with the exception that an examination fee of $5.00 will be charged all candidates. The examinations will be under the direction of the Oregon Committee of Selection, composed of President P. L. Campbell, of the University of Oregon, chairman; President Ferrin, of Pacific University, President Coleman, of Willamette University; President Crooks, of Albany College, and President Riley, of McMinnville College.

The OBSERVER desires to call the attention of the Road supervisor to the condition of the public road near the L. O. O. F. cemetery. This stretch of road has become a regular dumping ground for the garbage and rubbish of the city and is in a shamefully filthy condition. Old boxes, ash barrels, tin cans and piles of decayed fruit line the road on either side from the top of the hill to the cemetery. The Supervisor should see that this highway is cleaned up and kept clean. Some other place than the public roads should be selected for a dumping ground for the city rubbish. Especially should the practice be forbidden on the road over which the sacred dead are conveyed to the last resting place. Please clean it up, Mr. Supervisor, and see that it is kept clean.

SINGERS ARE COMING
 Kellogg-Haines Company Will Appear at Woodman Hall, Friday Evening, November 8.

At the Woodman Hall, Friday, November 8, the Kellogg-Haines Singing Party will give the first entertainment of the course that has been secured for the coming season, under the auspices of Dallas College. Those who attended the Lyceum course of entertainments last winter were, without exception, delighted with the high order of talent exhibited by the artists whom they were privileged to hear. The course prepared for the coming season is considered by President Meek to be even better than that of last year.

The members of the Kellogg-Haines Singing Party are professional singers of long experience and national reputation. They give a varied concert program, introducing selections from standard operas, and presenting one long scene from some English or comic opera. Their repertoire consists of the choicest selections from such classical compositions as Pinaflore, Lucia, Dolly Varden, Il Trovatore and Faust, rendered by voices that have been drilled under the most skillful operatic teachers.

The coming of this company will give to the music lovers of Dallas an opportunity of listening to first-class operatic productions, such as have never been offered them before.

Catarrh

Nasal and other local forms of catarrh are promptly relieved by Antiseptics or Catarris, 50c., druggists or mail. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

GREETED BY LARGE HOUSE

Five Hundred People Saw the Cowboy Play at Woodman Hall, Wednesday Night.

Five hundred people witnessed the production of the breezy Western drama, "The Cow Puncher," at Woodman Hall, Wednesday night. Every seat in the house was sold long before the curtain rose, and those who came in late had to content themselves with standing room. The play was in the hands of a capable company, and a smooth performance was given, notwithstanding the fact that the players were hampered by a small stage and a lack of scenery. No blame can be attached to the company for the poor stage settings, however, as it carries a large supply of scenery which could not be used in the local theater.

"The Cow Puncher" is one of those Western plays, written by an Eastern playwright, that represents nothing to be found in this or any other part of the West. It is an impossible drama, filled with impossible characters, who are made to do impossible things. It is decidedly of the "meller-drammer" sort—one of those thrillers that work a "10-20-30" city audience up to the very highest degree of enthusiasm. The villain is made to "unhand the gyurl," and "honnah" and "virehoo" receive their due reward after a three-hours' pistol fight that leaves the theater smelling like a Chinese joss house.

The play is full of action, and there is always enough doing to hold the close attention of the audience. It must be said in justice to Manager Mann that his company is superior to those that usually tour the inland towns. It is a matter of regret that the small stage made it impossible to use the large amount of scenery and equipment necessary to make the play a complete success.

Uncle Frank Collins, who is seriously afflicted with asthma, suffered a violent choking spell yesterday afternoon and for a few minutes it was feared he was dying. He soon rallied, however, and is reported to have passed a comparatively restful night.

Several parties of young people have come over from Salem at different times, to spend an evening on the floor of the Colosseum rink. The Auditorium opened in Salem, Saturday, and a party of a dozen has been made up to drive over from Dallas tonight and repay the calls of their friends in that city.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weakness and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cure. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening medicine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy of known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take & eat.
