Thomas Prince, of Dundee, was in Dallas, Friday, showing some samples of the product of his walnut farm to the grocers of this city. The nuts were large and well shaped, and were packed in a most attractive manner, so that they appeared to a better advantage than the ordinary bulk stock that is shipped from the East. Mr. Prince has 90 acres of his farm planted in walnuts, 50 acres of which are in full bearing.

The coming of the Kellogg-Haines Singing Party, Friday evening, November 8, will give the people of Dallas an opportunity to hear one of the finest musical programs that has ever been rendered in this city. It is believed that the merit of this opening number will do more to win universal and unstinted patronage for the entire entertainment course that Dallas College is to put on during the coming season, than could be secured by weeks of soliciting.

The members of the student body of Dallas College, as a body, are taking up the various branches of work lying outside of the classroom, with more enthusiasm this year than at any previous time. The rivalry between the two literary societies is sharper than ever before, and the interest taken in musical work is shown by the organization of a college band, a male quartette and the proposed founding of a college glee club.

Telephone Gossip.

"Do you know whether the new Feed Store is doing much business?"

"Yes. I hear quite a good deal, but I understand Mr. Moore is cutting prices."

Such was the tenor of conversation by phone the other day between two business men. But let me say right here and now that the New Feed Store is not cutting prices, but selling goods at reasonable prices, giving patrons a square deal; thus receiving patronage by being content with living profits—and I will give the public the assurance that I will continue to do business on that basis. Yours for a square deal.

J. H. MOORE,

The Dallas Feed Store.

SKATERS WILL MASK

Costly Prizes Will Be Given For Original and Beautiful Costumes.

Messrs. Kerslake & White announce that they will hold the first masked skating carnival of the season at the Colosseum Rink, Thursday, November 14. Last year there were one hundred maskers on the floor, and they hope to have twice that number this year. Ladies' and gentlemen's prizes will be given for the most grotesque and the most beautiful costumes.

There is over a week in which those who intend to mask may devise their costumes, and unless the people of Dallas are sadly lacking in ingenuity, the Rink will present one of the most brilliant spectacles that has ever been witnessed in this city.

Program at Colosseum Rink.

There will be both afternoon and evening sessions at the Colosseum Rink this week, on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and Bartlett's orchestra will be in attendance at all evening sessions. Ladies will be given free admission on Tuesday evenings.

To do the family washing at home. When you figure up the cost of water, soap, starch, extra fire and time, and most of all the mess and trouble that it makes, and compare it with our price of 6 cents a pound, washed, starched and dried and 25 cents a dozen for flat pieces, you will see that you can't afford to wash at home.
