DALLAS, OREGON, JANUARY 7, 1908.

The way to build up Dallas is to patronize Dallas people.

"I didn't," says Fulton. "You did," says Heney. "I am innocent of any wrong-doing, and you are a liar," replies Fulton. "That's what Mitchell and Abe Ruef and Mayor Schmitz said," retorts Heney. And so it goes. The accusations made against Senator Fulton by the noted land fraud prosecutor are of a very grave nature, and now that Mr. Fulton has defied his accuser to make good, the people of Oregon are anxiously awaiting Mr. Heney's next move. If the accusations are untrue, Mr. Fulton has been made the victim of a grave injustice; if they are true, Mr. Fulton is not a proper person to represent Oregon in the United States Senate. It is now up to Mr. Heney to tell what he knows, if he knows anything. As the Oregonian remarked yesterday, the people of Oregon have a right to know all about the origin and basis of these accusations, and if Mr. Heney has any more documents to present, or deductions from those already presented that will throw further light on these matters, it is his duty to give them to the public.

Congratulations to friend Steele Moorhead of the Junction City Times upon the excellence of his special Home Edition, issued last Saturday. It is a splendid number, and would be a credit to a town many times as large as Junction City. The OBSERVER delights to rejoice in Brother Moorhead's prosperity. His paper was the only one in Oregon that stood with us in the fight against the the Initiative and Referendum fake and the adoption of the expensive and impractical Direct Primary. True, we lost out by about a half million votes, more or less, but we had the everlasting satisfaction of knowing we were right, didn't we, brother?

The Weekly Oregonian prints an extended notice of the coming goat show in Dallas, illustrating the same with half-tone pictures of two of U. S. Grant's fine bucks. Other papers are giving the show very liberal mention. The newspapers of Oregon are certainly good to the goat men. And the latter are deserving, for they are doing much to increase the prosperity of the state.

The Salem Statesman, always noted for the excellence of its holiday editions, comes out with a New Year number that will compare favorably with any of its predecessors. The faithful and sturdy old Statesman has been a loyal friend to Salem, and Marion County, and Oregon, during all of the fifty years of its existence. May its days be long in the land.

The Supreme Court of the United States has reversed the decision of the Federal Court in the Williamson land fraud case. Doc Gesner and Marion Biggs, who were tried along with Williamson, probably wish now that they hadn't been in such a hurry to go to jail.

Dallas has a splendid opportunity to establish a cannery, and, while there is not enough fruit at present, the cannery will at once stimulate the planting of fruit on a large scale, and the two will help one another, and help the country.—Salem Journal.

Upon leaving for Washington this week, Senator Fulton and Representative Ellis expressed themselves as strongly confident of re election next June. It isn't always the small boy that whistles to keep up his courage.

The Portland Telegram says Dallas has set out to get a cannery. That's right; and what Dallas sets out to get, it usually gets.
