LOGIC.

BY DEAN COLLINS.
Logician George, from day to day,
With earnest thought and burning words,
Casts salt in handfuls at the tails
Of the Republican dicky-birds.
They all attend with deep respect,
And say: "Those views may be correct."
But still the salt so thickly thrown
Just hits them on the funny-bone.
He demonstrates, triumphantly,
Republicans are cruelly bound
To follow close at Party's heel,
As humble as the cringing hound;
"But be emancipated, free,
And cast your next good vote for me;
Thus will you vindicate the right,
(And bring the Senate into sight.)"
"O, turn a new leaf over, boys,
And, independent now, at last,
From paltry Party's galling chains
That firmly bound you in the past,
Prove to the world that you are free,
By casting your next vote for me;
Thus will the people get their will,
(And I will be in office still.)"
"Is true, you've seen no Democrats
Lined up to vote for Calkins late,
But they've been free so long, you know,
They do not need to demonstrate;
While you, just loosed from Party's bond,
Must give some proof of where you stand,
To show the world that you are free,
(Also, to land a job for me.)"
"The toga of the Senator,
Or so, in sooth, it seems to me,
Is not a partisan affair—
That is, not like it used to be,
Before I cast my longing eyes
Upon that mantle as a prize,
(And thought I didn't have a show
To get the old thing, anyhow.)"
Thus as election day draws nigh
Logician George, with wily words,
Is throwing salt, in handfuls big,
To catch the festive dicky-birds;
And calling in endearing notes,
Because, in sooth, he needs the votes;
Yet, at the same, so wily thrown,
Just seems to hit their funny-bone.

SPRING OPPORTUNITIES

WISE TALKS BY U. S. LOUGHARY'S OFFICE BOY

Good morning, everybody! Look what's impersonating an Easter card, also the awakening of Spring, the arrival of broilers and other good things. Don't it make you feel good to see old winter on the operating table and old Sol peeping out from behind the clouds saying, "Come on out; the fishing's fine." I tell you winter has its good points, but I like to see Easter come, for Easter is the Christmas of Spring, when the bells ring for sulphur and molasses and Opportunity begins to knock at your door again. That's about all that knocks in the spring for most everything and everybody wants to boost. It's in the air. One opportunity to help boost yourself and boost my boss, is at your door. I want everybody that loves a kid to help me earn my salary this year. Keep me busy. We can deliver. Put me to the proof.
