AMERICAN SPORTSMANSHIP.

There is not a true born American but should feel great pride in the showing made by our representative athletes at the Olympic games in London recently. Such pride is indeed pardonable. Not however because America carried off more of the honors of the contest than did the visiting teams from any of the other nations represented; not because in the essentially Olympic features of the contest, (foot races, jumping, and weight throwing), the American athletes proved themselves easily superior to all other contestants. Honors of this nature are after all only specious. America's pride in her athletes should spring from another and a purer source—the fact that out of all the nations that met in the contests within the Olympic stadium, those who walked under the stars and stripes proved by their conduct that in the men of America is bred a spirit of true sportsmanship that should set the type for the world.

Handicapped by every disadvantage that could be heaped upon them, robbed often of the legitimate fruits of their labors by glaringly unjust decisions, goaded at times almost beyond endurance by the discourtesy and even insult offered them by those who, according to the unwritten laws of sportmanship, should have offered them the most courteous and hospitable treatment in their power, the American athletes maintained themselves throughout the whole trying experience in perfect dignity and self control, exciting unbounded admiration in the members of all the other teams.

At one time, when the men of every other visiting team were enraged by the unjust treatment accorded to them by the judges, to a point where the slightest encouragement would have resulted in a general secession and the breaking up of the entire Olympic program, it was the Americans whose influence stilled the dissatisfaction and prevented the impending demoralization. The other teams waited only for the American team to withdraw, many going so far as to declare their desire to do likewise, but the members of our team sturdily refused to do so, and remained at their post, fighting with unbounded grit, and often winning although the odds of injustice piled up against them made the contest appear almost hopeless.

England has long plumed herself as the home of true sportsmen and of true sportmanship, but the Olympic contests and the events that transpired therein have shown to the world that her glory has in a large measure departed. It was America who by her patience, dignity and self-control under injustice, and her gritty determination to fight the fight to the last ditch regardless of the odds against which she labored, that showed to the world the archetype of true sport and of true sportsmanship.

Claman's Company Well Liked.

Speaking of Claman's company of players who will play in Dallas Thursday night, August 6, the Tribune, of Pendleton, where they recently filled a two nights' engagement says: "Frequent interruptions of applause during the play and a robust ovation at the end of each act testified gallantly to the sensational success last night of 'On the Frontier,' as presented by Claman players at the opera house. The play has to deal with western frontier life and reveals a strong, wholesome play, intensely human in sentiment and an interpretatory company of great power and intelligence. The scenes are laid in the far west in the early mining days when the smooth villian attempts to rob the rightful owners of their possessions. Some praise should be given to Ben Claman and Bobby Birch for their masterly work. Clarence Monion as the villian, made good and succeeded in getting himself disliked by a sympathetic audience. The rest of the company was good."

HO, FOR AMERICAN LAKE!

Company H Starts For the Summer Encampment Next Monday Morning.

Monday morning, August 3! The day that has long been eagerly anticipated by the boys of Company H, O. N. G., will soon be here and then—ho, for American Lake, with its two weeks of out-door life, its drills and sham battles, and marshaling of gallant regiments!

The young men, conscious of the fact that they are only a new and unskilled body, and anxious to escape the contemptious nickname of "rookies" and "tin soldiers," patronizingly bestowed upon many new and awkward companies by the regulars and by the men of the more thoroughly drilled companies of the National Guard, have put in three evenings each week since their organization on the first of July, in hard and painstaking drill. Their uniforms, guns, and other equipments were issued about three weeks ago, and now, by continued work with them they have become sufficiently accustomed to their various accouterments to present a very creditable appearance, and their officers are confident that in the coming two weeks' work at the summer encampment, the men of Company H, will have no reason to be ashamed of themselves.

They will leave Dallas on the morning train Monday, and will start from Portland in the afternoon of the same day in the third section of the special train that has been chartered to furnish transportation for the Oregon troops to American Lake.

Although a few of the members of the company will be unable to go on account of their work in Dallas, a large enough list is assured to give this city a very creditable representation at the encampment.

CHUMPS.

BY DEAN COLLINS.

What makes you grit your teeth so hard?
What makes you want to sweat?
'Tis not your wilted collar
Nor the sweat drops in your hair;
But the everlastin' chatter;
And the everlastin' chew
Of the chump that stops and asks you;
"Is it hot enough for you?"
Oh the chumps, oh the chumps,
Oh the dinky, driv'lin' chumps!
'Tis not the summer sunshine
That makes the air seem blue;
But a man can't help profanity,
A man can't help the grumps,
When they ask their old stock question;
"Is it hot enough for you?"

The summer sun is scorchin'
Like a grass fire on the plains,
It's a beatin' on your brain-pan,
It's a-sizzlin' up your brains,
But you try to hold your temper
And to keep from bein' blue,
'Til some chump steps up and asks you;
"Is it hot enough for you?"
Oh the chumps, oh the chumps,
Oh the dull, egregious chumps!
They lack the happy talent
For inquirin' somethin' new;
And you long to chew their heads up
And spit 'em out in lumps,
As they drivel their accustomed
"Is it hot enough for you?"

Sure I hopes that, when our spirits
In the after-world engage,
They will set my little gridiron
Right beside his roastin' cage,
So that when he writhes and whimpers,
As the sulphur flames burn blue,
I can leer across and ask him,
"Is it hot enough for you?"
Oh the chumps, oh the chumps,
Oh the squirmin', sizzlin' chumps!
How sweet to me will be revenge
For all that I've gone through;
While they sweat and groan and blister
O'er the smokin' brimstone lumps,
I'll just grin and chortle sweetly;
"Is it hot enough for you?"

Accused of Forgery.

Morris Darter, a young man about 19 years old, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of forgery. A check on the Dallas National Bank drawn by Wes Elliott in favor of Bert Miller was offered at the Dallas City Bank yesterday afternoon by the young man, endorsed in due form. Several apparent irregularities in the transaction aroused the suspicions of the officials in the bank who promptly had the young man taken into custody. Questioned severely he steadfastly denied having committed the offense, and after a rigid examination he was finally placed in jail to await his hearing which will be held today. The prisoner was employed at the city rock crusher and had a considerable sum of money due him for wages, so no reason for the alleged crime can be imagined.

The Modesty of Women

naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of KNOWN COMPOSITION. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

TIMBER LAND, ACT JUNE 3, 1878.
United States Land Office,
Portland, Oregon,
June 4, 1908.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, Clarence W. Shults, of Dallas, county of Polk, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 7779, for the purchase of the S. E. ¼ of N. W. ¼ of Section No. 8, in Township No. 9 S., Range No. 8 West, and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before County Clerk at Dallas, Oregon, on Wednesday, the 26th day of August, 1908.

He names as witnesses: Aaron Mayhee, of Dallas, Oregon; Earl Wisecarver, of Dallas, Oregon; Seymith Dale, of Dallas, Oregon; Otto Ryerley, of Dallas, Oregon.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 26th day of August, 1908.

TIMBER LAND, ACT JUNE 3, 1878.
United States Land Office,
Portland, Oregon,
June 6, 1908.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, Earl G. Wisecarver, of Dallas, county of Polk, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 7780, for the purchase of the S. E. ¼ of S. E. ¼ of Section No. 4, in Township No. 9 South, R. No. 8 W., W. M., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes and to establish his claim to said land before the County Clerk at Dallas, Oregon, on Wednesday, the 26th day of August, 1908.

He names as witnesses: Aaron Mayhee, of Dallas, Oregon; Clarence W. Shults, of Dallas, Oregon; Otto Ryerley, of Dallas, Oregon; Seymith Dale, of Dallas, Oregon.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 26th day of August, 1908.
