MELONS AND COFFEE

WISE TALKS BY U. S. LOUGHARY'S OFFICE BOY

Well, Sir, school has been out two weeks and I haven't had any melons yet. I suppose it's my own fault for they are certainly getting plenty enough. I tell you what it is, next to the strawberry, a melon is the best thing a man can eat in the morning, and coffee is the best thing he can drink. A lot of folks have a kind of grouse against coffee drinking, but maybe they never get the right kind. Really good coffee hasn't a grouse in a gallon of it. Poor coffee contains too much of the bitter principle "tannin." I think they call it, and that makes a fellow peevish, especially too much of it. Lots of good coffee is ruined in the making; boiled too long; made too weak, and dosed with poor milk. To be a good and wholesome drink, coffee should be roasted fresh, made strong, and brought just to the boiling point (or made in a coffee percolator by pouring boiling water over the powdered coffee) and served with rich cream such as the St. Charles or Plover brands. Ma says this is so and that good coffee, properly made, never hurts anyone. Have you tried our M. J. B. coffee?
