Will Work in Hopyards. Having been so well satisfied with the result of experimental work of last year, the Young Women's Christian Association of Portland will continue the work of looking after the women and girls employed in the hopyards of Krebs brothers at Independence. The plan calls for the erection of a large tent where lunches will be served, the establishment of a day nursery and the chaperoning of all young women who go to the hopyards alone. Krebs brothers need 200 more girls to complete their crew of 900. The pickers will leave Portland next Thursday morning at 6:40 and it will require 15 coaches to carry them.—Telegram.
