DALLAS, OREGON, SEPTEMBER 25, 1908.

The way to build up Dallas is to patronize Dallas people.

OUR NATIONAL TICKET.

For President,
William H. Taft,
of Ohio.

For Vice-President,
James S. Sherman,
of New York.

Presidential Electors
J. D. Lee, of Multnomah County.
F. J. Miller, of Linn County.
A. C. Marsters, of Douglas County.
R. B. Butler, of Gilliam County.

The editor of a contemporary takes pleasure in making loud sport, through the medium of his news columns, of the Taft-Sherman Club recently organized in this city. In a conspicuous place on his editorial page, however, large black type, that "he who runs may read" with ease, cries that "Polk County should support several Bryan and Kern Clubs and the work of organizing should be started at once." An old and often quoted proverb has said that consistency is a jewel, but alas, it is only too often found to be a jewel whose rarity surpasses that of diamonds and rubies.

Monday, September 28, the public schools of Dallas will begin a new year and it has been found necessary to build a new building near the main school house to accommodate the increased attendance. When this main school building was erected only a few years ago, many of the people of this district were almost appalled at its size and declared that Dallas wouldn't grow enough in 20 years to need all the school room supplied by the new house. Something like seven years years have elapsed and already we are building new rooms to accommodate the overflow of attendance. Dallas has grown faster by about 12 years than those who once made a hasty estimate anticipated.

Demanding from President Roosevelt proof of the accusations he had made against C. N. Haskell, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, Mr. Bryan has received proofs and has received them with vengence. It is not one of Theodore's traits to do things by halves. Thusfar the Republicans have kindly furnished with startling promptness, whatsoever the Democrats have asked, even to furnishing the names of certain persons who "flopped" in the registration before the primaries. Really one would think that they might finally get a trifle tired of having such plain, unvarnished and sometimes unpleasant truths handed to them whenever they asked for them and would become a little less eager in their appeals in future.

Mrs. Anne Farley received a message from Portland yesterday announcing that a yearling buck belonging to her flock of Angora goats had carried off 1st prize and sweepstakes at the Portland Livestock Exhibit. The same animal won 1st and 2nd sweepstakes at the State Fair where he was entered with the exhibits of Riddell & Sons, of Monmouth. He originally belonged to them and was purchased by his present owner about a year ago.

W. L. Soehren, chief of the fire department, has had all of the city's fire hose taken out and given a thorough test durieg the past two days, and has had all hydrants and other fixtures for protection carefully examined and placed in first-class condition.

School books, pencils, tablets and a full line of general school supplies on sale at Stafrin's drug store. Buy now and be ready for work when school begins. 9-18-3t

B. H. Grant, of Portland, is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Grant.

Roy Sparks came over from Newport yesterday for a month's visit in Dallas.

THE HEIR'S LAMENT.

An heir to Roosevelt forsooth?
Alas what good to me
If be heir to Theodore
And Teddy swatteth me!
Within his will he writes it plain
And none may say him nay,
"I leave my all to William? Yes!
But not to William J."
How cruel Fate's envenomed shaft!
The Will he meaus is William Taft!

Ah, not to me my sire has willed
That hefty stick of his!
Ah, not to me doth Theodore
Bequeath "My Policies"!
Within his will, alack too plain,
The cruel sire doth say,
"I leave mine all to William H.,
But not to William J."
And I must slink in shame away,
I am not William H., but J.

How prodigal in years gone by,
With zeal of youthful fire
I sought in many a fell campaign
To swat mine august sire.
I reverenced not his hefty stick,
I bucked his policies—
Alas, too late I turn to them
And get instead a freeze.
My hopes are strewn like shattered chaff
And I have lost my fatted calf.

Ah how the voters scoff at me
And mock me more and more,
Who said I was the rightful heir
Unto Great Theodore;
For when I claimed my legacy
And when the will was read
They found Bill Taft was It, while I
Was disinherited.
I can't make good my heirship boast
And that's what augers me the most.

When, tired of husks, I wandered back
Unto my father's house,
The only welcome I received
Was just one order—"Raus!"
Forlorn without the portals grim,
I heard his hearty laugh
"My son here, William H., shall have
The fat and toothsome calf."
And so I stole in grief away—
I am not William H., but J.

Cast out, disowned, despised, forlorn
And disinherited,
Cut off without a sou, a bean,
A shilling or a red;
Vain, empty were the claims I made!
Alack, what profits me
If I be heir to Theodore,
And Teddy swatteth me!
'Tis up to me to fade away—
I am not William H., but J.

C. W. Bennett was painfully injured while working in the sawmill of the Willamette Valley Lumber Company, Tuesday. His right hand was caught between the head block and the log which was on the carriage and the index finger crushed off. He succeded in extricating his hand without injury to the other fingers.

J. C. Hayter, former editor of the Observer, writes us that his new address is 421 South Third street, Albuquerque, New Mexico. He arrived in that city last Saturday, and will probably remain there until after the holidays. He writes that he is enjoying the best of health and that he anticipates a pleasant winter's visit in the New Mexican metropolis.

Miss Agnes Cline, of Portland, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Anne C. Farley. Miss Cline has been employed as a trained nurse in Portland, but has been obliged to give up her work temporarily owing to a severe attack of scarlet fever from which she has only recently recovered.

The first shipment of this season's crop of hops from Independence was made this week and consisted of eighty bales produced by Thos. Fennel. The shipment was made by W. M. Don't fail to attend the last of the enjoyable dances to be given at the Colosseum rink Saturday night before the opening of the skating season next week.

Eugene Byerley is preparing for the reopening of his bowling alley next month. The building will be partly remodeled and thoroughly renovated, and two more alleys are to be installed. By making all his equipments strictly first-class, Mr. Byerley hopes to arouse considerably greater interest in the art of bowling during the coming winter and expects to see a bowling club organized by the young men of Dallas early in the season.

Deputy County Clerk A. F. Toner was busied nearly all day yesterday with the work of recording a single instrument, a deed of trust from the Falls City Lumber Company to Augustus S. Peabody covering all the sawmills and timber holdings of the company in and about Falls City. The consideration is $150,000. The original deed is in solid typewriting and covers 44 sheets of paper. Mr. Toner says that the recording fee alone will be between $35 and $40.

The first devotional services of the Y. W. C. A. for this year will be held in the association room in the college dormitory Sunday afternoon. All friends of the association and girls who are just entering Dallas College this year are cordially invited to attend. The first meeting of the Cabinet and the Advisory Board was held Tuesday night and arrangements for the year's work were outlined. A reception to the girl students of the college will be held tonight. All young women now attending Dallas College or alumni of that institution are cordially invited to be present.

George McDowell, whose spine was broken in a fall from a hop house near Airlie last week, is reported to be but little improved since he recovered from the stupor occasioned by the shock of the injury. He is perfectly conscious but practically helpless owing to the total paralysis of his lower limbs. The attending physicians say that he may continue to live in this condition for some time, although hopes of complete recovery are very small. There are however several cases on record of persons having recovered from such injuries and regained partial use of their limbs.

A TREACHEROUS TROUBLE

If You Suffer from Headaches and Dizzy Spells Do Not Mistake The Cause.

The headaches and dizzy feelings that trouble so many persons, are often but symptoms of kidney complaint. Nature gives early warnings of every disease, if you would but note and heed them. Backache, twinges of pain when stooping or lifting, headaches, faint spells and urinary disorders are among the first warnings of kidney trouble. If these signals are unheeded, there comes a steady, dull heavy aching in the back and loins, a noticeable weakness and loss of flesh, rheumatic attacks, weakening of the sight, irregular heart action, languor, attacks of gravel, irregular passages of the kidney secretions, sediment, painful, scalding sensation, dropsical bloating, etc. But there is no need to suffer long. Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney troubles. This remedy has made a reputation for quick relief and lasting cures.

Home proof is convincing evidence of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills. Call at Belt & Cherrington's drug store and ask to see statements of Dallas people who have used this remedy.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
