A PASSING OPPORTUNITY.

The committee appointed at the mass meeting Sunday to act on the proposition to establish a hospital in Dallas, has decided that it is inadvisable for the citizens of Dallas to attempt to raise the required funds at present owing to other heavy financial requirements they have been forced to meet within the past summer, and recommends that the matter be postponed for a time.

This is well enough if only they can bear in mind that postponement does not mean the complete dismissal of the subject. Too often the decision to postpone is nothing more nor less than a veiled funeral ceremony over a measure of exceptional importance.

At present there is scarcely a train leaves for Portland that does not bear someone who is being sent to that city to receive the medical attention that might be given them just as competently and much more quickly in Dallas, except for the lack of a properly equipped hospital. It is vain for the people of Dallas to imagine that the opportunity now offered them to have such an institution established in this city, will continue to hover over them waiting for them to grasp it when they feel the inclination.

The Observer is in receipt of a booklet on Woodburn, Oregon, published by the Woodburn Independent and devoted to an attractive exposition of the resources and industries of that city and the country around it.

The booklet is well arranged and excellently illustrated and should prove a potent force in attracting emigrants from the East into that locality if properly distributed.

The LaCroce Club will conduct a membership campaign and during that time the initiation fee, regularly $10, will be cut in half so that membership in the club will come within the means of all desiring to join.

The LaCroce Club is the best social club in the city and young men of Dallas can do no better than take advantage of the new ruling and apply for membership.

Thanksgiving safely and successfully disposed of, we can now devote our energies to preparations for Christmas.

Hospital Committee Meets. The committee appointed at the mass meeting Sunday afternoon to consider the proposition of raising funds for the establishment of a hospital in Dallas, held a meeting Wednesday evening.

Ray Howe returned to Dallas, Wednesday, for a short visit at the home of his father, James Howe. He was employed in Portland for a short time after leaving Dallas but went to California soon to take a better position and has been in San Jose for nearly a month.

H. E. Stone died at his home in Los Angeles, Friday, November 20. Mr. Stone was for several years a resident of Dallas and is well remembered by many of the residents of this city. The remains were buried in Ashland.

A THANKSGIVING THOUGHT.

BY DEAN COLLINS.

The epicures of yesterday, This morn we struggled from our beds, And noted with astonishment The vast dimensions of our heads;

Our watch and ward through good and ill— Today we thank our lucky stars That we are in the running still.

What feats were yesterday performed, What miracles beyond all question In gastronomic jugglery And wondrous sleights of the digestion!

The pumpkin pie, like moon of gold, Was pressed unto our raptured lips And, like most glowing lunar orb, Suffered at once complete eclipse;

Our watch and ward through good and ill— Now let us thank our lucky stars That we are in the running still.

Another day dawns on the world, Yet may we still our thanks be giving, While foaming seltzer crowns the glass, That we are still among the living;

Our watch and ward through good and ill— Now let us thank our lucky stars That we are in the running still.

CRIMINALS ARE AT WORK

Series of Robberies Are Committed in Different Parts of Polk County.

Polk county has, during the past month, been the scene of several small crimes such as burglaries and holdups, and during the past two weeks especially, has the occurrence of these crimes been exceptionally frequent. They occur at separate times and at different places, indicating that a single person or party of persons is systematically working the county in one locality after another.

Reports of petty robberies in the vicinity of Eola first appeared, followed shortly by news of a hold-up near Lincoln and on Tuesday night the postoffice at Monmouth was entered by burglars. Yesterday's Oregonian contained the following report of the crime:

"The postoffice at Monmouth was robbed Tuesday night and while Postmaster O. A. Wolverton declines to make any statement of the loss pending the arrival of the Government Inspector, it is thought the money loss is small, as no more funds were kept on hand than is necessary. The office is located in the two-story building at the corner of Main and Railroad streets and entrance was made by prying up the window on the west. The safe, which was only a small fire-proof affair, was blown open. The work shows it was done by skilled burglars using some powerful explosive, presumably nitroglycerine. Stamps, which could have been stolen, were left in the drawer."

The latest news in the list of reports of crime came from Perrydale yesterday morning, the store of Hon. D. L. Key having been broken into and considerable merchandise carried away. The exact amount of the loss has not yet been ascertained and no clue as to the character or the whereabouts of the criminals has yet been obtained.

Officers are at work on the case and it is thought that their efforts will soon result in the capture of the guilty parties and put a stop to the series of crimes that have lately plagued the citizens of Polk county.
