VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Eugene Smith Dies At His Home Near Dallas After An Illness Of Only A Few Days.

Eugene Smith died at his home near Dallas, Friday morning after an illness of only a week, his death being due to an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Smith was a son of S. R. and Myra J. Smith and was born in Princeton, Pennsylvania, in 1875, coming to Oregon with his parents in 1889, who located and made their home here from that time. Eugene Smith returned East a few years later, came back again to Dallas and finally went to Denver, Colorado, where he worked for some time as a telegraph operator.

About six years ago he returned again to Dallas and went into his farm in the suburbs of the city, where he resided until the time of his death. He was married three years ago to Miss Mary Smith, who survives him. Other immediate relatives who survive him are, his father, S. R. Smith; brothers, Jud. of Hanford, California; Clem, a railroad man in the East; Cassis, of Denver, Colorado; Nolan R., of Monterey, California; and sisters, Mrs. Hugh Smith and Miss Olive Smith, of Dallas.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon and the remains were taken for burial to the Odd Fellows cemetery. Mr. Smith was a man still comparatively young, strong and healthy and his sudden death comes as a stunning blow to those relatives who survive him. He was a man of excellent social qualities and strict business integrity and his untimely demise will be a source of deep and sincere regret to his many friends in this city.

Can You Truthfully Answer Yes?

During the past year have you been absolutely satisfied with all your groceries—your teas and coffee, your butter, canned goods and flavoring extracts?

Can you truthfully answer yes?

These things are all within the control of the merchant, and as long as painstaking care is exercised in their selection, you are pretty certain to get first class quality and flavor.

We do not claim to be perfection—we are only human and sometimes make mistakes—but there isn't a store in town that strives more faithfully to have its customers absolutely satisfied, or that will so gladly and quickly rectify a mistake. We deem it a favor to have an error called to our attention, and to have any goods returned that are not everything they should be in quality and freshness.

A WORD OF WARNING

Just recently a citizen of Patterson, New Jersey, contracted leprosy by wearing clothing that was sprinkled through a Chinaman's mouth in a Chinese laundry. Dr. Spaulding in charge of the department of contagious diseases of Chicago says: "The method of doing up clothes in Chinese laundries is dangerous and ought to be prohibited by law." Phone us and our wagon will call at your door. We want your bundle, large or small. Your linen will last longer when laundered by one who knows how. Special attention given to shirts, collars and cuffs.
