Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

DALLAS, OREGON, MARCH 30, 1909

The way to build up Dallas is to patronize Dallas people.

The newly constructed sewer system, the mains of which run through the full lengths of three of the more important streets of Dallas and which taps practically the entire residence district of the city, has been formally accepted by the city council. This new sewer, with the two mains on Court and Mill streets, gives Dallas a system of sewer drainage the equal of which is not to be found in any other city of equal size in Oregon or perhaps in the whole of the Coast states.

The amount of fruit and nut trees, which is being set out on the ranches and farms of this vicinity, is increasing wonderfully with each passing season. It will be a question of but a few years, until Dallas is supplying an enormous demand for those commodities in both the local and the export trade and then the far sighted persons who are now preparing for that time by planting orchards, will find that every tree that they have set out is "just as good as so much money in the bank."

In a communication from the student body of the Monmouth Normal, published elsewhere in this issue of the Observer, we have another view of the vexed normal school question. It is the view taken by students, who, after they are well along toward the achievement of their aim—the acquisition of an education which will fit them for effective work as a teacher—suddenly find the means by which they hoped to acquire that education threatened with dissolution and their two or three years' work on the verge of suddenly coming to naught. Small wonder that young people who find themselves facing a crisis of this nature, rally with one accord to the support of the institution on the existence of which depends their ability to complete the work that they have mapped out for themselves.

Passes Unfavorable Resolution.

Concerning the proposal to invoke the referendum against the state appropriation for the Agricultural College, the Airline Board of Trade, has passed the following resolutions: "Whereas, it being rumored that a petition is being circulated to impose the referendum upon the appropriation for the improvement of the State Agricultural college at Corvallis; Therefore, We the Airline Board of Trade, being in favor of the improvement of our state institutions and the advancement of education in our state, do resolve and look with disfavor upon any act the tendency of which is to retard the growth of education in our state."

Monmouth Makes Deposit.

President E. D. Ressler, of the Monmouth normal school in Salem, Friday, in the interests of that cherished institution. A noteworthy incident of his visit was the depositing of $1200 with the state treasurer for the maintenance of the school whose contracts with teachers and pupils are to be honored, legislators and knackers to the contrary notwithstanding. President Ressler did not know how the other normals were getting along in their struggle for existence, but as to Monmouth he said no little matter like cutting off their appropriation would be allowed to interfere with the orderly progress of the school.—Salem Statesman.

Leases Independence Hotel.

Moss Walker, former proprietor of the Walker Hotel in Falls City, has purchased the lease on the Little Palace Hotel, in Independence, from its former proprietor, F. W. Treanor, and will take possession of the business about April 1. The building, which is the property of J. M. Stark, proprietor of the Suedes Hotel in Eugene, will be entirely remodelled and refurbished, making it one of the best equipped establishments on the West Side.

Books For Free Library.

The following new books have been received at the Dallas Free Library: 9009, by Hopper & Becholt; The Silver Butterfly, Woodrow; Uncle William, Lee; Louis Rand, Johnston; Comrades, Dixon; Marie Schuyler, Lutz. The following volumes were donated by J. W. Parry: The Cardinal's Snuff Box, Harland; The Choir Invisible, Allan; Frederick the Great and His Court, Muhlbach; In Freedom's Cause, G. A. Henry.

Mrs. Ed F. Coad and daughter, Neia, were week-end visitors in Portland.

Commissioned Officers Examined.

Major Frank Baker, of the Third Infantry, Oregon National Guard, was up from Portland last week and put Dr. L. A. Bollman, Conrad Stafirin and Verne Compton through the examinations for captain, first lieutenant and second lieutenant, respectively, of Company H. Major Baker visited the rifle range near Ellensdale during his stay in this city and was highly pleased with it giving his opinion that it was one of the best in the state in many respects. There is, however, danger that the guardsmen may have to abandon their rifle range as their lease on the land has expired and there is some objection to their renewing it. Not wishing to lose all of the labor that they have expended putting it into condition for rifle practice, the members of the company will make every effort to retain it if possible, since a change at this time would seriously hamper their work of preparation for the militia encampment next summer.

Will Discuss Important Step.

Federation and final organic union will be considered at the sessions of the Oregon Conference of the United Evangelical denomination, which meets in St. John's Evangelical Church next Thursday night. Measures looking to organic union projected by the Evangelical-United Brethren Ministerial Association will come up for review. The Ministerial Association endorsed Dallas College, the United Evangelical school, with the condition that the Evangelical Association should be represented on the board of regents. Fraternal delegates will attend the conference from the Evangelical Association and United Brethren conferences. The proposed union, if effected, will mean much for Dallas College, and indirectly for Dallas, since it will almost double the backing of the institution both financially and in the sources from which it will be enabled to reinforce the ranks of its student body.

Four New Candidates.

Four new names have been added to the city ticket for the approaching election. F. J. Coad filed his petition for councilman from the second ward Friday; H. C. Eakin filed his petition as a candidate for mayor, and W. A. Ayres, for councilman in the third ward, yesterday, and Robert Howe presented himself for councilman from the second ward today. The complete ticket up to date is as follows: A. B. Muir and H. C. Eakin for mayor; E. N. Hall for councilman-at-large; Conrad Stafirin for councilman from first ward; F. J. Coad and Robert Howe, for councilmen from second ward; W. A. Ayres, Moses Manston and A. J. Martin for councilmen from third ward; H. B. Cosper and Charles Gregory for auditor and police judge.

Salem Horse Show, Saturday.

A large crowd of livestock breeders from all parts of the Willamette Valley will be in Salem, Saturday, to attend the horse show which will be one of the best ever held in the state. Great care has been taken in arranging the premium lists, that they may cover the widest possible field and offer the best opportunities to horsemen. Among the prizes are a number of fine silver cups, special trophies etc., which will be highly valued by those who are so fortunate as to win them. The show is not intended by its promoters to be a profit making enterprise, but its interest is to promote the breeding of better horses and more of them; to establish a market for the product and to assist the producer in a commercial manner.

Hop Contracts Filled.

Three hop contracts have been filed with County Clerk E. M. Smith during the past week as follows: T. Rosenwald & Company, a three years' contract with C. H. Mitoma for 40,000 pounds at 11 cents; and a three years' contract with W. P. and M. S. Bevens for 10,000 pounds at 11 cents; J. W. Seary & Company, a contract with Peter Schultz for 30,000 pounds of 1909 hops at 10 cents. Eleven cents is the highest price for which hops have been contracted since January 1, and that price has been conceded only on three year contracts. The prices offered on one and two year contracts range from 9 to 1 1/4 cents a pound.

Utopians Install Officers.

The installation of officers of the Utopian Literary Society, for the ensuing term, was held in the society room last night, a number of the young women alumnae of the college and friends of the association being present. An excellent program was rendered and a lunch was served. Following are the newly installed officers: Miss Pauline VanOrsdel, president; Miss Helen Gurney, vice-president; Miss Bobbie McCallon, secretary; Miss Mabel Jenkins, treasurer; Miss Harriet Hubbard, editor; Miss Leone Williams and Miss Ava Coad, conductors; Miss Etta Phillips and Miss Sadie Myers, censors.

School Closes at Brush College.

A successful term of school has just been closed in district 31, more familiarly known as Brush College, located near Eola. The work of the teacher, Miss Minnie Norwood, has been most satisfactory and she will probably be engaged for the next term. Miss Norwood is a resident of the same district in which she has been teaching and is well liked by all who know her. A very active literary society is being maintained, meetings being held each Saturday night.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dr. John F. Pierce, of the Editorial Staff of THE OREGONIAN MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unleavened Bread (Helonias Diodes) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription": "A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator, and a stimulant for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues: "In all cases where we have a medical history which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted, it is the Unleavened Bread, particularly to women. It is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication of a weakness of the reproductive system." "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unleavened Bread): atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women; mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant secretion of mucus in the region of the uterus; menorrhagia (bleeding), due to a weakness of the reproductive system; amenorrhea (absence of or absent monthly periods); anemia (thin blood); dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen; and all the above symptoms if more or less of the above symptoms are present, it is a most valuable remedy." "In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which I am more fully satisfied, and which is more generally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated cases." Prof. R. H. Hertzog, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal: "Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia, leucorrhoea, and other gynecological affections." Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully restores all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. E. H. Lindwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says: "It is an important remedy in disorders of the nervous system, and is especially useful in general debility, it is useful." Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio, says of Golden Seal: "In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which I am more fully satisfied, and which is more generally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated cases." Prof. R. H. Hertzog, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal: "Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia, leucorrhoea, and other gynecological affections." Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully restores all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Term at Buell Closes. The public school at Buell closed Thursday after a successful term. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kellogg, who had been teaching during the year were given a pleasant farewell reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Rowell, about fifty guests being present. Mr. Kellogg was in Dallas, Saturday, enroute for Clackamas county, where he has secured another position. He will be employed again next year in the Buell school.

Adjudged Insane. J. T. Chamberlain, of Falls City, was brought before County Judge Ed F. Coad, Saturday, adjudged insane and taken to Salem for commitment to the asylum. His insanity is resultant from a general physical breakdown and he will probably recover in a short time. He had served for a long time as city marshal in Falls City.

Additions to the equipment of the plant will be made as circumstances warrant.

J. B. Nunn reports that the shipments of fruit and nut trees into Polk county during the past few months have been larger than for many years and anticipates that the acreage planted in these trees will be more than doubled in a few years' time. Much of the hop land that has been ploughed up, will be replanted with fruit or nut trees.

Lester D. Butler went to Portland today to renew the treatment he has been taking for a catarrhal trouble from which he has been suffering for some time. Surgical treatment was found necessary owing to the advanced stage of the disease.

Can You Truthfully Answer Yes?

During the past year have you been absolutely satisfied with all your groceries—your teas and coffee, your butter, canned goods and flavoring extracts? Can you truthfully answer yes? These things are all within the control of the merchant, and as long as painstaking care is exercised in their selection, you are pretty certain to get first class quality and flavor. We do not claim to be perfection—we are only human and sometimes make mistakes—but there isn't a store in town that strives more faithfully to have its customers absolutely satisfied, or that will so gladly and quickly rectify a mistake. We deem it a favor to have an error called to our attention, and to have any goods returned that are not everything they should be in quality and freshness.
