FARMER A BUSINESS MAN.

Prosperity of the Country Depends Upon System.

To be up to date the farmer must plan ahead. If he is wise he will open accounts in his ledger for every crop he raises, including horses, cows, sheep, swine and poultry. He will have a system of bookkeeping that will show him at the end of the year which crop paid a profit and which created a loss.

It will be a great satisfaction to know how the potato, the onion, the general garden, the hay and the straw crops paid. His ledger will show how many days his teams worked, crediting them with such amounts as he would have had to pay had he hired teams to do the work. Against this will be the price of feed. There need be no item for labor in attending to the horses, as the manure and the use of the animals for pleasure drives will offset that.

The income from the cows and the sheep, the swine and the poultry would have their place, against which would have to be the cost of raising them. The writer knows of a progressive farmer who follows that system year after year. His daughter keeps the books. He reports each night the sales, the purchases, the hours the teams were at work, etc., and thus he is able to keep a record of his doings and knows exactly what each means to him.

Beginning the new year, the farmer should lay out his plans for the spring operations, the size of the vegetable garden, the varieties to grow, the increase of the small fruit plots and the additional trees to the orchard, the changes and the repairs that should be made to the barn and other buildings, not forgetting improvements on the old homestead.

There are a hundred and one matters that can be planned for 1900's operations, and no better use could be made of one's evenings than to map out all these matters.

The latest catalogues of reliable seeds, nursery and implement houses can be secured, and profitable time may be spent by carefully looking them over. Lists of seeds, trees, tools, etc., should be got out and ordered before the general rush in spring. This will avoid delays, errors and vexations generally.

The farmer is a business man, and each year the farm is becoming more important to the welfare of the country. The farmer is no longer the subject of ridicule, but the emblem of property in all the high class publications. The whole world looks to the sturdy tiller of the soil for the means of maintaining prosperity in the land.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases. If we could properly investigate them and by the use of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost numberless cures effected by his Golden Medical Discovery, which has proven itself to be a most potent stomachic, blood purifier, and cleanser of the system. It is a most reliable and powerful remedy for catarrh of the bladder, indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart, and all the various diseases of the kidneys, and restores strength and vigor. It cures urinary troubles, which are clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvellous in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weakness and deranged menstruation, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of testimonials published in all the standard medical works. It is a most reliable and powerful remedy for catarrh of the bladder, indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart, and all the various diseases of the kidneys, and restores strength and vigor. It cures urinary troubles, which are clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, useful and medicinal plants. The processes of their manufacture were original and the skillful chemists and pharmacists with use of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. The medicines are entirely free from alcohol and other harmful ingredients. It is printed on full size paper, and is a most reliable and powerful remedy for catarrh of the bladder, indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart, and all the various diseases of the kidneys, and restores strength and vigor. It cures urinary troubles, which are clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. ard bordering mixture. Extensive experiments have been carried on during the year by the department on nearly all of the common fruit diseases which are preventable by spraying, and it has been demonstrated that the above mixture is a very useful one.

A Self Closing Hinge.

A hinge such as is shown in the illustration may be made by the amateur blacksmith, and it is not only inexpensive, but is self closing and will not get out of order or readily break. It is made by twisting two small rods of the required size twice around, as shown in the cut. For small gates one-quarter inch or three-quarter inch or three-eighths inch rods are about right, but for large gates or doors larger rods should be used. The rods are heated red hot, placed in an iron vise and given two twists, as shown. The four ends are hammered out flat and the holes drilled and countersunk for the screws, bolts or nails. As will be seen, the hinge acts like a screw and will always close the door or gate by the weight of same. If you have to forge, fire rods in the scrap pile and most any smith will make a pair of hinges for less than the price of a pair of strap hinges, and they will last much longer and, as above stated, are self closing.

Words to Freeze the Soul.

"Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless." These appalling words were spoken to George Blevens, a leading merchant of Springfield, N. C. by two expert doctors—one a lung specialist, the other a specialist in liver trouble. Dr. King's New Discovery, after three weeks use," writes Mr. Blevens, "was as well as ever. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for me." Infants with Coughs and Colic, the ites, the most distressing of the lungs, are cured on earth, 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guarantee satisfaction. Belt & Cherrington's drug store.
