DALLAS, OREGON, APRIL 20, 1929

The way to build up Dallas is to patronize Dallas people.

While experts in the science of organic chemistry are hunting for the destructive bacilli in the mains of the Portland water system and nearly every other city in the Willamette Valley is registering some complaint or other against the quality of their water supply, Dallas can congratulate itself on having water in which no one need have the slightest fear of encountering any of the active and maliciously inclined animalcules that seem to furnish such cause of alarm in many other places.

The number of serious accidents that have occurred in the logging camps near Falls City, Mill Creek and other places in western Polk County of late, give ample testimony to the wisdom of the movement to establish a hospital in this city. Situated as it is, Dallas is in prompt and direct communication with nearly all of those places where accidents resulting in serious and fatal injury to the laborers in the camps and mills, are most likely to occur. A hospital located here will afford to the unfortunate victims of the accidents (which are usually unavoidable) that occur with such frequency, prompt and adequate care. The result will be less fatality resulting from mill and camp accidents and less danger of injured men becoming permanently maimed or disabled. This phase alone, aside from the numerous other features that may be suggested, stamps the enterprise as a worthy one and bespeaks for it the support of all the citizens, not of Dallas alone, but of the entire western half of Polk county.

City Council Proceedings.

Last night's meeting of the City Council was consumed mainly in routine business concerning street work, sidewalks and allowing of such claims as were presented against the city. The marshal was instructed to flush all the new sewers on Oak, Academy, Clay and Washington streets and place them in good condition. A motion was also carried for the city to enter into contract with Ray & Company for the location of their big scales on Oak street near the present site.

POLK'S BLOODED STOCK

G. G. Hewitt, of Monmouth, Owns Some of the Best Bred Cattle in Oregon.

In the recently published "dairy number" of the Pacific Homestead, which gives a general outline of the progress of that industry in Oregon, G. G. Hewitt, proprietor of Mistletoe Stock Farm, near Monmouth, Oregon, says regarding his herd of dairy cattle:

"We have at the head of our herd the young bull, Mistletoe Pogs No. 75,371, and he is just as good individually as he is in breeding, and that is saying a great deal. He carries through his sire, Gertie's Stoke Pogs No. 55,492 (sixth in register of merit), 25 per cent of the blood of Stoke Pogs of Prospect 60 in the list, 12 1/2 per cent of Stoke Pogs 5th (25 in the list), 25 per cent of the blood of Gertie of Glynlynn No. 74,475, 21 lbs. 2 1/2 ozs. in seven days, 16,780 lbs. 3 ozs. milk in 365 days, average test, 4.728 per cent. Through his dam, Brown Beasle Marie No. 147,537 (test 499.7 lbs. butter fat in 10 months 5 days), he carries 25 per cent of the blood of Recorder No. 29,239 (15 in list), son of Brown Beasle No. 74,997, champion butter cow World's Fair 1893, 25 per cent of the blood of Combination No. 4389 (25 in list), 12 1/2 per cent of the blood of Diploma No. 16,219 (61 in list), the sire of Merry Maiden, sweepstakes cow at the World's Fair 1893.

"We have in our herd two grand-daughters of Exile of St. Lambert, sire of over ninety tested daughters, three grand-daughters of Stoke Pogs of Prospect, over 60 tested daughters, two grand-daughters of Chief Engineer, three grand-daughters of India Land-seer Roter. Now, with such blood as this as a foundation we feel as though our herd contains as good blood as any herd in the state."

Accidents in Logging Camps.

Tom Thrasher, a laborer in the logging camp above Black Rock, was caught under a rolling log yesterday and the bone in his right leg broken. The fracture is not complicated and a rapid recovery is expected. Dr. A. B. Starbuck who attended him returned from Black Rock this morning. He reports that Al Layton, who was injured last week, is doing as well as could be expected considering the extent of his hurts. Mr. Layton was caught in one of the lines from the donkey engine and thrown to and fro, with great violence, his body being severely bruised in a number of places and one of his ribs shattered. A number of accidents of a less serious nature have also occurred in the camps within the past few days.

Legal Blanks at this office.

The repair work on the court of the Dallas tennis club will when completed, have it placed in better condition than at any previous year. A number of new members have joined the club and applications from many others have been offered. A fine season of sport is anticipated.

Willis Simonton has again been employed in the sheriff's office, where he is assisting in the work of writing up the taxes. Sheriff Grant himself is obliged to be away on official business a large part of the time and the work of handling the collection of the taxes has proven a trifle too heavy for two deputies.

The first of the series of cases instituted by the Anti-Saloon League in Polk county against the soft drink establishments of Dallas and Independence was begun today. The testimony was taken this morning and as we go to press the jury is still out with the prospect of being slow at reaching a verdict.

Virgil, the 8-year-old son of J. A. Bewley, of Willamina, who with a companion was playing with a gopher gun last Sunday, received a charge of shot in the shoulder by the accidental discharge of the weapon. Surgical aid was summoned and no permanent bad effects are anticipated on account of the injury.—Telephone-Register.

Adams & Brobst are holding a big sale on house furnishings, implements, spray pumps and many other commodities in their large stock. The sale began yesterday and will continue throughout the present month. Prospective purchasers of house furnishing goods etc., will do well to investigate the numerous bargains offered.
