PIONEER PASSES AWAY

Andrew Siefarth Dies at His Home in This City Aged 75 Years and 4 Months.

Andrew Siefarth, an aged and respected citizen of Dallas, a pioneer of Oregon and a veteran of the Indian War, died suddenly at his home yesterday aged 75 years.

Mr. Siefarth's early life was quite adventurous. He was born in Long-alaw, Prussia, December 2, 1833, and, his mother dying when he was but three years of age, he came to America with his father in 1839. They settled at Quincy, Illinois, where he worked at the cooper and shoemaker's trade until 1850, when he left that state and started, in company with six others, for the mines of California.

The party was forsaken near the sink of the Humboldt river by their teamsters, who found their provisions running low, and they were obliged to continue their journey on foot. In crossing the Humboldt desert several of his companions died of hunger and fatigue and Mr. Siefarth and one other barely escaped with their lives.

After remaining in California about four months, during which he mined with good success, he became disgusted with the rough company he was obliged to keep and decided to come to Oregon. The trip from California to Oregon was made by water and here again he narrowly escaped death by shipwreck.

Until 1856 he lived a rather roving life, mining and working at various places, meeting with many adventures especially in his prospecting experiences. In 1856 the Indian War broke out and he decided to enlist, serving faithfully through the entire struggle.

In 1858 he married Polly G. Bowen and after six years' residence in Marion county, he came to this county. From that time until his death he resided continuously in or near Dallas.

He is survived by his wife and the following children: Willard C., Edward W., George W., Mrs. Minnie Morris, Nora B., Andrew P., Mrs. Carrie Campbell, Mrs. Linnie Shepherd, Mrs. Sadie Muscott and Mrs. Cleve Shepherd. Three of his children died before him: John C., Alpha and Grover.

The funeral will be held in the Christian Church tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. C. A. Sias conducting the services. Burial will take place in the old Dallas cemetery.

Mr. Siefarth was a man of a strong religious nature. He united with the Methodist Church in his youth, and throughout his life abode steadfastly by his religious convictions. A man of kindly impulses, the list of his friends included nearly all who knew him and his sudden but peaceful passing from among us will evoke from all a reverential tribute to the long and active life that has drawn thus serenely to its close.

Born, Sunday, April 25, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lofly, of Black Rock, a daughter.

J. B. Thompson left today for a week's visit in Spokane and other cities of Washington.
