

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. PURE BRED BEEF CATTLE.

There are many farmers who seem to think that pure bred cattle are too much pampered, too highly fed and are too delicate for average farm conditions. Such is not the case, for pure bred cattle receive only such care as the average farmer can and should accord to his live stock, and, as far as high feeding is concerned, only a few show animals are so treated, and they not to the point of injury, writes an Ohio breeder in the Rural New Yorker. Owing to their rational treatment almost all pure bred stock are constitutionally strong and vigorous and are quite capable of giving a good account of themselves on the pastures and in the feed lot.

The ultimate object of all pure bred beef cattle breeders is the production of excellent beef, and as soon as all beef producers are convinced that pure bred cattle can make good in competition with grades and scrabs in the feed lot and on our pastures there will then be an unlimited demand for pure bred cattle.

In our county there is a young man who has stocked up with Angus cattle with the object of raising pure bred beef. There are three excellent herds of Angus cattle here, and by watching the local cattle sales this young man was able to secure the foundation of his herd at quite low prices. He is raising these cattle under ordinary farm conditions, so that there need be no trouble about registration, should he get sale for some of his young stock for breeding purposes or sale for some of the steers to feed for the fat stock shows. However, for the most part he has so far made the production of beef his prime object and expects to continue to do so. He recently sold several for beef at 25 cents per hundredweight advance over prices of other cattle at the time these were sold.

Such an example—and experiment, one might say—as described above

cannot help but be a good object lesson for any neighborhood. It will show what such cattle are capable of and that the registration of an animal does not necessarily imply that it is too fine to make profitable beef. High grade cattle are more profitable than the common kind, and if one raises his own calves and is not interested in dairying will not raise pure bred cattle for beef? Do not think that they are too fine or too costly for you on your farm, for if you are capable of succeeding with common stuff you really deserve the best, and you will find that pure bred cattle are well suited to your conditions.

Value of Pure Bred Stock.

The purchase of first class pure bred stock is one of the first lines of investment to be considered by the stock farmer who does not already possess such stock. No argument is needed to emphasize the added value of pure bred animals. They may produce no more, but their selling value is far more than their added cost of production. The greater esteem in which they are likely to be held by the owner will usually induce better care, which in turn will bring better returns. So many farmers make the mistake of shifting about from one breed to another, while the few who stand by one and strive to improve their herd seldom fail to attain success. The beginner may well afford to start with a few pure bred animals rather than a larger herd of no particular breeding.

Improving the Herd.

Dairymen who cannot afford to buy pure bred animals should buy a male calf and when raised have their best native cows served. By this method they can improve their herds at the least cost.

Some Dairy Pointers.

Feed is too expensive to use sparingly. You get no returns for the subsistence ration. It's what you feed above that that really makes you money.

The difference between the average farm cow and a really good cow is usually the difference between 150 and 350 pounds of butter fat every year.

No two cows can be fed just alike and still be fed to the best advantage. It's knowing the individuals that pays.

Some say that cows are worth more than bread, but it is well to remember that the cow makes the bread.

Many a poor cow bears more yet eloquent testimony of the high price of feed.

Every dairymen needs more alfalfa. He needs it for hay and hog pasture.

The winter calf needs special care, but he pays well for it.

CHAMPION JERSEY.

Jacoba Irene, Bred in This Country, and Her Wonderful Record. Some months ago Financial Countess, an imported Jersey owned by C. E. Parfet of Colorado, held the official world's record for Jerseys with a production of 765.3 pounds of fat. A little later Adelaide of Beechland, bred by Mr. Sweet of New York, but now owned by the Ladd estate of Portland, Ore., where the year's work was accomplished, eclipsed this record by producing under official supervision 849.62 pounds of fat during the preceding twelve months. And now comes Jacoba Irene, owned by A. O. Auten of Illinois, with another eclipsing record of 954.1 pounds, says a writer in Hoard's Dairyman.

Jacoba Irene and Adelaide of Beechland are of American breeding for several generations, which suggests that if one's ambition is to discover and disseminate the best representatives of the Jersey breed it is not necessary that he should cross the ocean to find them.

Bred by J. M. Shradar of St. Joseph, Mo., and dropped April 3, 1898, Jacoba Irene commenced her world conquering career for Mr. Auten by freshening Dec. 11, 1905, and in the succeeding twelve months gave 11,391.1 pounds of milk containing 619.9 pounds of fat; average test, 5.44 per cent. She freshened again Dec. 10, 1906, and during the ensuing year gave 14,255.7 pounds of milk containing 792.1 pounds of fat; average test, 5.55 per cent. Thirteen and one-half months later, Jan. 28, JACOBA IRENE.

1908, she freshened again, and her record for this third year is 17,253.2 pounds of milk containing 954.1 pounds of fat.

It goes without saying that she was well born, but none of her immediate ancestors was especially renowned. Ida of St. Lambert being her great-grandmother. Indeed, so far as can be learned, the others left no records from which one could predicate the wonderful producing ability she has demonstrated. About all that can be said is that her dam, Pogis Irene II, was less than twenty-three months old when Jacoba was born, that her granddam, Pogis Irene I, was born and that this granddam was a heifer's first calf. It would seem, therefore, that the more or less widely disseminated opinion that a heifer's first calf is of inferior quality has no foundation in fact and that early breeding does not necessarily result in diminished size or impaired constitution.

Anti-acid For Calves.

When calves crave for wood or other unnatural substances it is an indication of an excessive acid condition of the digestive organs. They need an anti-acid, the same as cows eating bones to neutralize this acid condition. Give them a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda in milk twice daily.

Mixed Ration More Profitable.

For wintering cattle it is more profitable to feed a mixed ration forage than to feed any single kind of forage. —Nebraska Experiment Station.

STOCK AND DAIRY.

A close, poorly ventilated stable may be very cold. It takes plenty of pure air to keep cattle warm.

Selecting Range Cows.

In selecting range cows for dairy work the Colorado experiment station reports that grade Shorthorns have usually been found the most satisfactory. The cow should be selected for four dairy points—a good udder, prominent hip bones, a sharp bone at the top of the shoulder and large stomach capacity.

White Specks in Butter.

White specks in butter are sometimes nothing more than fine particles of milk curd caused from lack of care in skimming. Sometimes they are small specks of dried cream due to dry cream having been scraped from the sides of the pan and being too dry to thoroughly soften and mix with the rest.

Selecting Breeding Stock.

In building up a herd of pure bred animals on the farm as much attention should be given to the foundation of that herd as would be given to the foundation of the house or the barn on the farm. The selection of the breeding stock is of prime importance. If you could secure the help of a successful breeder in making the first purchase it would be advantageous. Men of experience are quick to observe certain important points the beginner would overlook. Without sound judgment, good care and management you cannot expect to succeed in increasing the fertility of your land, building up a home or establishing a herd of pure breeds.

MY PUNKIN PIETY.

Since I've grown old I oft sit down And shed repentant tears Because I was a dreadful kid Back in my early years. Dear mother trusted me so far. But I was always near Where'er she put the cookie jar. And, strange, they'd disappear. The doughnuts, tarts and sugar cake, Cake roasters, jumbles, snaps—How quickly they would their leave take! It was the rats—perhaps. One day ma made a punkin pie—A bully pie, oh, my! I watched her mix the eggs and things And winked the other eye. I cannot lie. I stole that pie. And, nudging Brother Jack, I hustled for the kitchen door. But mother called me back. I had the pie shoved up my back. It slipped down on my chair. It was my luck, black, black. To sit down on it square! My mother laughed until she cried. I cried until I laughed. They called me "Punkin"—"Punkin-head." Oh, my, how I was chaffed! I'm called a pious saint today. Of course I've a variety. But mother oft recalls to me My early punkin piety. C. M. B.

A TREACHEROUS TROUBLE

If You Suffer From Headaches and Dizzy Spells Do Not Mistake The Cause.

The headaches and dizzy feelings that trouble so many persons are often but symptoms of kidney complaint. Nature gives early warnings of every disease, if you would but note and heed them. Backache, twinges of pain when stooping or lifting, headaches, faint spells and urinary disorders are among the first warnings of kidney trouble. If these signals are unheeded, there comes a steady, dull heavy aching in the back and loins, a noticeable weakness and loss of flesh, rheumatic attacks, weakening of the sight, irregular heart action, languor, attacks of gravel, irregular passages of the kidney secretions, edema, painful, scalding sensation, dropsical bloating, etc. But there is no need to suffer long. Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney troubles. This remedy has made a reputation for quick relief and lasting cures.

Home proof is convincing evidence of the efficiency of this remedy. Call at Belt & Cherrington's drug store, and ask to see the statements of Dallas people who have used this remedy.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and no other.
