DALLAS, OREGON, JULY 6, 1909

The way to build up Dallas is to patronize Dallas people.

SAFE AND SANE.

(By our unofficial poet.)
"Hand Blown Off by Giant Cracker,"
"Girl in Wilkesbarre, Pa., May Die,"
"Town Burns Up in Oklahoma,"
"Observer Reporter May Lose an Eye."

Such is the tale we read each year,
With bulging eyes and bated breath,
On July fifth, and sixth, and seventh—
But "Give Us Liberty, or Give Us Death!"

SHOULD CHANGE THE DATE.

The custom of holding the Polk County reunion in connection with the celebration on such years as Dallas publicly observes the Fourth of July is one that we believe should be changed. The interest of one holiday naturally detracts from the interest of the other, and as the pioneer reunion has always been held on the first day, it has been the less favored, both in quantity and quality of entertainment and in attendance. The people of the county, especially the farmer folk, often feel that they cannot leave their work for two days in succession at such a busy season of the year, and as the celebration features always offer the greater attraction, it is but natural for them to attend in greater numbers on the second day.

By holding the pioneer picnic at an earlier date, say about the first week in June, it would be possible to prepare a program that would provide entertainment for every hour of the day, and it is certain that many more people would attend. True, such a plan would require a greater expenditure of money than is required by the present arrangement, but the cheerfulness with which the business men of Dallas have always responded to every appeal for funds for public celebrations bears eloquent testimony to the fact that money is a secondary consideration when it comes to providing pleasure and entertainment for the people of the county.

The younger generation cannot do too much for the pioneers, and their day should be made the best day of the year. Dallas counts it a proud privilege to be permitted to honor these grand old men and women, and this feeling increases as the ranks grow thinner with each succeeding year. The Observer therefore suggests that in future the reunion be held separate and apart from the celebration, feeling confident that the suggestion will meet the hearty approval of a great majority of the people of Polk County.

The towns that did not celebrate this year are having much to say in favor of a "safe and sane" Fourth. But just wait another year and hear them whoop it up for the old-time article.

The Statesman says that the people of Polk County, particularly those of Dallas, will "flock to the cherry fair." Sure, Mike. They will flock to the Salem show just about like Salem "flocked" to the Dallas celebration—and if they do, there will be just about 15 of them there by actual count. Now, that Dallas and Salem are soon to be close neighbors, we want our friends over the river to know that Dallas is a neighborly sort—but we also want to serve notice that Dallas also believes in reciprocity.

Three thousand five hundred mountain trout were served at the barbecue in Bend on July 4. An exchange remarks that "this is certainly a splendid advertisement of Oregon's attractions as a fisherman's paradise." Yes; and it is also a splendid advertisement of Oregon as the home of the game hog. The serving of a wagon load of gamey and delicious trout to a miscellaneous lot of galeots, probably nine-tenths of whom are too lazy to cast a line into the water for themselves, was little short of criminal. It is the sort of wholesale slaughter that has robbed Oregon of the fish in her streams and the deer and elk in her hills. It is something to feel ashamed of—not to boast about.

We have all heard of the man who wet his hair, let it freeze, and then broke it off, to keep the barber from getting his quarter; also, of the man who pastured his goat on a deceased relative's grave; also, of the man who gave his children ten cents apiece to go to bed without their supper, and then stole it from them after they had gone to sleep. But if newspaper reports are true, the meanest man has made his appearance down McMinnville way. The Carlton Sentinel says that after the box containing rare coins, historical records, and other valuable mementoes had been sealed up in the cornerstone of the new Old Fellows' building, some sneak thief dug a hole in the cement, stole the box, and made away with it. If that isn't pretty near the limit of human cussedness!

Former Dallas Girl Weds.

At the home of her parents in this city, Miss Artie Hubbard was united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to Mr. E. B. Stone, of Portland, by Rev. C. P. Coe. Miss Hubbard is well known here, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hubbard and has lived here for a number of years. Mr. Stone is manager of the jewelry department of Olds, Wortman & King. They left Wednesday afternoon for their home in Portland.

Present Your Bill.

All persons having claims against the celebration committee are requested to present the same before Friday, July 9. This is important, so do not neglect it.

J. A. Hannum, of Airfie, was in Dallas on a business errand yesterday. He says the heavy showers will be of some benefit to the late sown grain in his neighborhood, but fears that a continuation of the rain might do much injury to the hay crop, the greater part of which is now in the shock.

TROUT FOR LA CREOLE RIVER

Famous Polk County Stream Will Receive Attention of Fish Bureau.

After a lengthy correspondence, Deputy County Clerk Fred Toner has received notice from the Bureau of Fisheries in Washington, D. C., that a shipment of Eastern brook trout for the LaCreole river will be sent out some time prior to November 1. The Bureau writes Mr. Toner that he will be advised in advance of the date of shipment, and that full instructions as to meeting the messenger and planting the fish will be sent.

This will be good news to the sportsmen of Dallas, all of whom are desirous of seeing the LaCreole restored to its old fame as a trout stream. The Bureau writes that only a sufficient number of fish to serve as brood stock can be sent, and the local fishermen will be expected to take the necessary steps to protect the trout until they have had time to reproduce. Mr. Toner says that it is probable that the shipment will be about equally divided between Ellendale and Canyon Creeks, as it is certain that the young fish will be better protected in these small branches than they would be in the main river.

Miss Ednelle Collins returned home Friday from Salem, where she has been employed as a teacher in the Kindergarten department of the State Institution for the Feeble Minded. She will spend her two months' vacation visiting relatives and friends in Dallas and vicinity.

Major T. H. Devoe, U. S. A., of Washington, D. C., was in Dallas, Sunday. He visited the Armory and made a few suggestions concerning possible small changes in the arrangement which might prove of benefit to Company H. The people of Dallas, by the way, are proud of their militia company. The boys took part in the parade Saturday, and lent greatly to the attractiveness of that feature of the day. They marched well, looked well, and gave the parade the military appearance so desirable on an occasion of the kind.

An ingenious piece of show window decoration and one somewhat out of the ordinary was placed on display by Craven Brothers in their hardware store last week. It was in the form of a man-of-war, every part of which was represented by some familiar article of the merchandise in which they deal. Two cross-cut saws were bent together to form the keel, above which rose the full deck accoutrement of a monitor. Mouse traps served as turrets, with shotgun shells protruding in the role of cannon. The other features were worked out with equal ingenuity making a highly attractive and novel display.

DEATH CLAIMS PIONEER

Gold Hubbard Passes at His Home in Eastern Washington.

Word was received in Dallas yesterday that Gold Hubbard, an old pioneer of Polk County, died at his home near Pullman, Washington, Saturday morning. Mr. Hubbard had been ill for several weeks, and a letter received from his son, Riley, last week brought the sad news to relatives in Oregon that the end was near. No particulars of his last illness have reached Dallas, but it is supposed that death was the result of a general decline due to old age.

Mr. Hubbard was a member of one of Oregon's well-known pioneer families. He resided on a farm near Smithfield, in this county, for many years, and then moved to Eastern Washington. He is survived by a large family.

Prizes For Floats.

Those who contributed to the success of Saturday's parade by furnishing beautiful floats were Campbell & Hollister, Dallas Mercantile Company, Guy Brothers & Dalton, Dallas Meat Company, Adams & Brobst, Craven Brothers, Ray & Company, Stowe & Sears, Leo Smith, Dallas Steam Laundry, W. C. T. U., Woodmen Circle, and Pacific Handle Company. The judges awarded first prize to the Circle, second to Craven Brothers, and third to Campbell & Hollister. In the automobile section, Miss Ollie Howe's car took first prize, Eugene Byerly was second, and R. E. Williams third.

The swellest line of Men's Hats ever shown in Dallas at Dallas Mercantile Company's store.

P. A. Finseth and M. J. Wright will leave tomorrow for an overland trip to Coos Bay. They will go to Newport, and then travel by leisurely stages down the beach to North Bend and Marshfield. They expect to be gone about ten days, and anticipate a pleasant and healthful outing. To Mr. Finseth belongs the distinction of having made one of the quickest trips on record between Coos Bay and the Willamette Valley. A few years ago, when he was conducting a branch store in North Bend, he left Empire City on a tug boat at 5 o'clock in the evening. The little craft steamed into Yaquina Bay at 6 o'clock the next morning. A quick run by gasoline launch was made to Yaquina City, enabling him to catch the morning train for Corvallis. He arrived in Dallas at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, the entire trip from Empire City having been made in less than a day. Mr. Finseth says he will not attempt to break any records this trip, however, as he is out solely for rest and recreation.

A WORD OF WARNING

Just recently a citizen of Patterson, New Jersey, contracted erysipelas by wearing clothing that was sprinkled through a Chinaman's mouth in a Chinese laundry. Dr. Spaulding in charge of the department of contagious diseases of Chicago says: "This method of doing up clothes in Chinese laundries is dangerous and ought to be prohibited by law." Phone us and our wages will call at your door. We want your bundle, large or small. Your linen will last longer when laundered by one who knows how. Special attention given to shirts, collars and cuffs.
