C. S. Rogers, a recent arrival from Canyon City, Colorado, has secured employment in H. G. Campbell's real estate office as an assistant in the sales department. Mr. Rogers is a former Mayor of Canyon City and was for many years president of one of the large mining companies of southern Colorado. He came West with the intention of locating, if he liked the country. Being favorably impressed with Dallas, he has decided to remain here a few months and will remain with Mr. Campbell while making a thorough study of local conditions. Mr. Rogers has travelled extensively in the last few months, and he finds land cheaper in Polk County than any other place he has visited. He thinks this county has the best prospects for an advance in land values of any place on the Coast.

Death Follows Operation.

Mrs. Eph. M. Young, of Independence, died in Portland, Monday, after a short illness. She was taken to the city last week for treatment in one of the hospitals. A surgical operation was decided to be necessary, and on Monday she submitted to the ordeal. She lived but a few hours after the operation. The body was brought to Dallas on the Tuesday evening train and from there shipped to Independence for burial. Mrs. Young was a native daughter of Polk County and had many friends in Independence and Dallas to whom the news of her death will come as a sad surprise.

The Famous Angle Lamp

Never smokes or smells whether burned at full height or turned low like gas. It is not merely an ordinary lamp improved. It is an entirely new method of oil lighting. For simplicity and convenience of operation it is the closest rival of gas or electricity. For splendid reading light and artistic general illumination it is the superior of either. The angle at which the flame burns throws the best light from its most brilliant surface directly downward. The effect of the light is doubled, producing a reading light with which no other system can even compare. Yet the Angle Lamp is the most economical of all lighting methods. Costs less to burn than even the ordinary lamp—fully 1/2 less.

But call and see it or write us for full description booklet.
