EXPERT POTATO CULTURE.

Specialist Gives Hints For Growing Tubers on Irrigated Land.

One of the recent farmers' bulletins issued by the department of agriculture is written by E. H. Grubb of Carbondale, Colo., an expert grower, who says:

The improved planters of today open the furrow, drop the seed, cover it, firm the dirt over the seed and mark the next furrow. Such a planter is drawn by two horses. The writer plants the potatoes about two or two and one-half inches below the surface of the soil. Experiments with potatoes planted in rows all the way from thirty-six to forty-two inches apart indicate that the best distance depends upon the seasonal conditions and type of soil. It is a problem for each grower to solve for himself. The distance apart the potatoes should be planted in the row also depends so much upon the variety, the fertility of the soil, the availability of water, etc., that each farmer must determine this from his own experience. I plant them eight inches apart in rows thirty-six inches apart. This gives the largest tonnage of potatoes of desirable size.

The writer's experience has been that seed of large size (two to six ounces) produce strong, vigorous shoots, as they furnish an ample supply of plant food to sustain a strong and vigorous growth until the feeder roots can take up the food from the soil.

During the last two years the best results were obtained from planting medium sized whole seed. While the cost of the seed has been considerably greater, the stand has been approximately perfect. Experience has proved that from one or two eyes only are sprouts developed in uncut seed. The seed end furnishes a strong vine. The other eyes usually remain dormant.

One of the greatest advantages of using whole seed is the protection from disease which may be present in the soil and which may attack the more tender exposed parts of the cut seed.

As soon as possible after the potatoes are planted the cultivator should be started. This implement has four shovels, each four or five inches wide and about fifteen inches long, two on each side of the row, and is drawn by two heavy horses. These shovels should run as close as possible to the planted tubers without disturbing them. The first cultivation adds to the depth of the dirt over the seed and permits the use of a light smoothing harrow without disturbing the tubers. The cultivator also loosens the soil on each side of the row and better fits it for the potato roots which will soon invade it.

After this the potatoes should be harrowed once a week, if possible, first lengthwise of the rows and then across, until the vines are five to six inches high.

After this the cultivator is used, but is not run so deep as at the first cultivation. Frequent shallow cultivation keeps the surface of the soil loose, conserves the moisture and gives a chance for the root system to spread.

PREPARING CORN FOR HOGS.

Iowa Bulletin Offers Valuable Suggestions to Farmers.

In the corn belt, where corn is the principal hog food and hogs one of the principal farm products, the best method of preparing corn for feeding to hogs is a question worthy of the attention of every farmer. The most common method of feeding corn is in the ear just as it comes from the crib. Other methods that are often used are shelling and soaking, grinding and feeding dry, grinding and soaking and grinding together with the cob. It is estimated that it took a hundred million bushels of corn to feed the hogs of Iowa last year, according to a bulletin from the Iowa experiment station. To have shelled and ground this corn would have cost $3,000,000. In order to find out whether or not such an expenditure would be justified the animal husbandry section of the Iowa experiment station conducted a series of experiments in which corn prepared in all these different ways was fed to both young and old hogs. These experiments, which were conducted during 1907 and 1908, produced some interesting and valuable results. The data and conclusions obtained from these experiments have been published in bulletin No. 106. A careful study of this bulletin will be of great value to every hog grower in the corn belt and give a definite basis on which to plan future feeding operations. Copies can be obtained from Director C. F. Curtiss, Iowa experiment station, Ames, Ia., as long as the supply lasts.

VALUE OF FERTILIZER SHOWN

Millet Crop More Than Doubled by Properly Enriching the Soil.

The picture herewith represents the value of fertilizer on sandy soil. A strip of land in New York had celery on it at one side in 1908 with an application of about 300 pounds per acre of a 2-8-10 fertilizer; the other side had no fertilizer. The land was plowed and fitted exactly alike and German millet sown about June 15, 1909. The showing is remarkable, as the season was the driest and also the coolest for years, with only five inches of rainfall after July 1, which is about half of normal. The picture shows the growth of one square foot from each section, that fertilized in 1908 producing almost sixteen and one-half tons of green forage to the acre, while the other made only 6.8 tons. There are several points to be thought of here—first, that fertilizers of a good grade pay well the first year, and then some pay for the second year.

If this is so with millet, would it not be so with grain seeded with grass and clover? That millet is a profitable crop both for soiling and cured is apparent when seven and one-half tons cured fodder can be secured per acre. As millet contains only about 2 per cent of protein, it should be fed in connection with alfalfa or clover hay. If these cannot be obtained the ration should be balanced with such feeds as oilmeal, cottonseed meal or the better grades of gluten feed.

"I have used millet for some years with dairy cows and young stock," says the farmer who made this fertilizing experiment, "and think very highly of it. It is said to be injurious to horses through the effect it has on the kidneys. With the hay crop as light as it has been for two years, as the dry season has been very hard on new seeding, it will surely pay our farmers to give more attention to the millets. Any one of the different kinds can be sown after all other spring crops are in and can be harvested and out of the way before fall work begins."

Usefulness of the Hen.

The period of a hen's usefulness depends altogether on the hen. While the first year is usually the best for egg production, it is not always the case, some hens laying better the second year. But, as a rule, one will get the greatest number of eggs from a given number of fowls by having the pullets hatched early.

The meat of yarded poultry is always more tender than that of fowls having free range, due to the extreme muscular development of the latter.

It is said that there are more than 2,000,000 goats in this country, and all are practically free from tuberculosis. Thousands of them are milk goats and are used regularly for this purpose.

ADAMS' BIG STORE, DALLAS, OREGON

A difference of 15 degrees in average winter temperatures as between two localities is a factor which will largely determine whether certain shrubs, fruits and flowers can be successfully grown or not. In latitudes or sections where a winter temperature of 20 below, F., for a considerable period is likely the pear, peach, European plum, many choice varieties of roses and other shrubs are virtually proscribed. In rare instances this lower temperature may come for thirty-six hours in a latitude where the warmer temperatures usually prevail, and as a result havoc is wrought with the tender things.

Summons.

In the County Court of the State of Oregon for Polk County.

D. L. Keyt, Plaintiff vs. Preston Lung, Defendant.

To Preston Lung, the above named defendant.

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled Court and action on or before the 11th day of May, 1910, and if you fail so to answer, for want thereof, the Plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum demanded in said complaint, to-wit: the sum of $250.00 and for his costs and disbursements.

This summons is ordered to be served upon you by publication thereof once a week for six consecutive and successive weeks in the "Polk County Observer," a weekly newspaper published at Dallas, Polk County, Oregon.

By order of the Hon. Ed. F. Coad, County Judge of the State of Oregon for the County of Polk, duly made and entered on the 28th day of March, 1910.

The date of the first publication of this summons is the 29th day of March, 1910, and the date of the last publication of this summons is the 10th day of May, 1910.

Dated this March 28th, 1910.

Summons.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Polk County. Sarah E. Disbrow, Plaintiff, vs. Arthur Disbrow, Defendant.

To Arthur Disbrow, the above named Defendant:

In the Name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the Complaint filed against you in the above entitled Court and cause on or before the 11th day of May, 1910, and if you fail so to answer for want thereof, the Plaintiff will apply to said Court for the relief prayed for and demanded in said Complaint as follows:

For a decree of said Court forever dissolving the marriage contract now existing between the above named Plaintiff and Defendant and awarding to Plaintiff the care and custody of the three minor children of Plaintiff and Defendant to-wit: Blaine, Melvina and Edward S. Disbrow, and for the payment of five dollars per month by Defendant for the support of said minor children and for her costs and disbursements of this suit and for such other and further relief as to the Court may seem equitable.

This summons is ordered to be served upon you by publication thereof once a week for six consecutive and successive weeks in the "Polk County Observer" a weekly newspaper published at Dallas, Polk County, Oregon. By order of the Hon. Ed F. Coad, County Judge of the State of Oregon for the County of Polk, duly made and entered on the 29th day of March, 1910. The date of the first publication of this summons is March 29, 1910, and the date of the last publication thereof is May 10, 1910.

BACKACHE IS KIDNEY ACHE.

To Eliminate the Effect, You Must Remove The Cause.

Pain is nature's signal of distress, a warning that must not be ignored. Those sharp twinges in the back, those stab-like pains that follow any sudden twist of turn, are simple signs of hidden dangers in the kidneys. No trouble starts more easily, gains ground more rapidly, nor proves more often fatal than any disorder of the kidneys. All the outward appearances of health may remain until a terrible disease has taken root. Don't wait. The moment you feel any uneasiness, lameness or pain in the back, the moment the urine shows irregularity, either in its appearance, on in the quantity or number of the passages, begin with Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy has been curing kidney troubles for seventy-five years, and never yet has failed to give relief if taken in time. It cures the kidneys, and thus cures backache, lame back, headache, dizzy spells, urinary troubles, rheumatic pain, gravel, dropsy, swellings, nervousness, languor, sciatica, and all other symptoms of kidney troubles.

Home proof is convincing evidence of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills. Call at Fuller's drug store and ask to see the statements of Dallas people who have used this remedy.
