

COD CHARCOAL FOR HOGS

An authority on hogs writes us: "All hogs should be kept before the hogs at all times. Most farmers know this, but few practice it largely because of the extra effort required to remove the charcoal. Charcoal made from cowdung is probably the best fed by the dogs and is not difficult to make. To make this coal no kiln, pit or opening with earth is necessary. And put the work aside to be done till the time will be past, not earlier. Start three or four days as near the supply of coal as may be. When they are well started gather the coals or, rather, the crows, from the field. Then they will feel at home and will remain and will be ready to work for you when the time comes. If you are not in the habit of keeping feed, hay and water before your calves all the time, just try it for a month and you will notice an improvement in their appearance that will surprise you."

Feed for the Bull.

Many build a pen for the bull. This is an excellent means for the animal to get sunshine and air, but he will not exercise in a pen. The pen should be used in connection with the feed pens.

Exercise for Hens.

Force the hens to take a moderate walk now and often. A walk of fifteen minutes or more will keep them in good condition.
