FROM SCHOOLROOM TO FARM

Former Principal of Dallas Public School Enjoys Outdoor Life.

"The life of a farmer for me," laughingly exclaimed Professor W. L. Reynolds, as he stepped into the Observer office this morning to exchange greetings. "It is the healthy, outdoor work that gives a man muscle and makes him feel that life is worth living."

While numerous leading business men of Dallas, who were once naughty schoolboys, will unite in declaring that there never was anything much the matter with the Professor's muscles, the fact remains that his friends never saw him looking better. He has a nice little farm and orchard near Shaw, Marion County, and with his wife and son, Willis, is leading the life of a happy, contented granger.

Professor Reynolds had not been in Dallas for several months and was kept busy shaking hands with friends during his few hours' visit this morning. He is pleased to note the many improvements on every hand and predicts a bright future for Dallas.

WEDDED ON THANKSGIVING

Miss Edna Hall Becomes Bride of Mr. Victor A. Ballantyne.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Hall, when their daughter, Edna, was given in marriage to Mr. Victor A. Ballantyne.

A few minutes before 12 o'clock, Miss Alice Grant sang sweetly, "I Love You Truly." Then as the midday hour was chiming forth, the young couple took their place under an arch, to the strains of the Lohengrin march, played by Miss Vera Cosper. The Reverend D. M. Metzger read the impressive marriage service.

The home was beautifully decorated with ferns and chrysanthemums. The arch under which the ceremony took place was covered with ferns, while a touch of red at the rear made a pleasing contrast. At the top of the arch, a lovers' knot was tied.

The bride was daintily attired in a princess gown of white messaline silk and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of white carnations.

After the ceremony, the guests spent an hour in the enjoyment of a bountiful wedding feast. The happy pair left at 2:35 for Sodaville, Oregon, where they will be at home to their many friends after December 15.

The groom is a son of the Reverend and Mrs. M. J. Ballantyne, and, like his father, is a minister in the United Evangelical Church. He is a graduate of Lafayette Seminary and at present is pastor of the church at Sodaville. His bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Hall and is a charming young woman. She was educated at Dallas College and has many friends among the young people of Dallas.
