POLK COUNTY YARD EXCELS

Japanese Grower Has Fine Prospect For Big Hop Crop.
The Japanese hop grower, C. H. Mitoma, of Polk county, is acknowledged to have the finest hop crop in the Willamette valley. He has nearly 100 acres of hops that are in the finest possible condition. There are no missing hills, he has them trellised up 18 feet, from three to six vines—as big as bedsteads—to the hill, but more of them four than five or six.
He does not believe in sheeping the yards. He says sheep may help a crop one year, but they hurt it the next. A large part of his crop will go 3000 to 4000 pounds to the acre, says the Salem Journal. On a large guess Mr. Mitoma will have 210,000 pounds of cured hops. He has 20,000 pounds sold on an old contract at 11 cents a pound. He has sold 60,000 pounds to Joseph Harris for 30 cents, which will leave him 150,000 pounds to sell at the top of the market. The market now bids fair to go to 40 cents. In that event the Jap's 100 acres will total $60,200 for the crop of 1911. The cost of making the crop is seven cents a pound, and at that figure his net profit will be $41,500.
Mr. Mitoma is a good business man, and has been in Oregon 13 years, and he is a native of Japan. He is a make him wealthy. He was two years in California, and owns 165 acres of land on the Willamette river bottom, the richest hop land in the world. It cost him over $100 per acre to clear his land and he employs about 20 men all the year around and a number of horses. He has no desire to return to Japan to live, but would like to visit the country again. He has a wife and one daughter, and all dress after the American fashion.

ARMY SURVEYS NEAR SALEM

War Department Has Experts Tracing Out Topography of Country.
A military map is now being made of the territory north of Salem. The department of war now has a detail of ten soldiers, all skilled military engineers, sketching the topography of the country extending along the east side of the Willamette river toward Portland. Twenty-five townships will be covered in this survey. It will keep the men employed until October.
Levels are being run, streams traced and height of water in the sloughs during flood periods noted. These soldiers walk along the leading public roads and byways, sketching the contour of the surface, locating bridges, fords, and noting points of advantage from a military point of view.
When completed, a copy of these maps will be filed with the chief army engineer at San Francisco and a copy forwarded to the war department at Washington. This survey will close the work of the war department on the Pacific Coast in spying out the land with a view to the most feasible management of an army, should an attempt be made by any foreign power to crowd into Uncle Sam's backyard.—Salem Statesman.

SHOULD REPORT ALL FIRES

State Forester Elliott Believes Stitches In Time Saves Nine
Owing to the number of forest fires that have not been reported until after they have gotten beyond control, and therefore a menace to surrounding property, State Forester F. A. Elliott is urging upon all state fire wardens the necessity of reporting to him all fires as soon after discovered as possible, instead of waiting until they become dangerous to life and property.
Sheriff J. M. Grant is in receipt of a letter from the state forester containing the following instructions: "Every state fire warden, or other persons, in case they are unable to get in touch with a state warden, should telephone or telegraph (collect) to F. A. Elliott, state forester, Salem, in forming him of forest fires before they get beyond control."

PLEASANT "JOLLY-UP" PARTY

Members of Epworth League Have Bonfire in City Park.
The Methodist Epworth League held a "jolly-up" social in the city park Wednesday evening. A large number gathered at the clubhouse and marched to the park, and many more came shortly afterwards. On arriving at the park they were greeted by the committee in charge, who had previously hung and lighted Japanese lanterns, and built a roaring bonfire outside of the fence, close to the creek.
Musical stunts and games engaged the attention of all for a share of the evening. After these were ended, all gathered around the bonfire to toast "wienies," which were eaten with sandwiches. Then all fell to toasting and eating marshmallows.
The crowd around the fire, after they had finished all eatables in sight, divided off on either side of the fire and sang songs in chorals and in opposition, closing with "Home, Sweet Home" and "Good Night, Ladies." All went home in the good time they had spent together.
Coming Soon.

Heart interest runs hand-in-hand with the best of comedy and weaves together a beautiful drama true to life. The largest and best theatrical company playing under canvas on the road today. Everything as bright and new as the moonlight sun. Thirty people, special extra, but mammoth water-proof tent—a seating capacity of 1800 people. Mr. Curtis' Concert Band, and Roy O. H. McManis' Symphony Orchestra. Big free street parade at noon daily. One night only, in Dallas, Wednesday, August 9.

MARKET BEATS RECORD

Predicted Oregon Hops Will Bring 40 Cents.
World's Shortage Is Great and Local Growers Will Reap Benefits Thereof.
The Oregon hop grower is facing one of the best markets it has ever known. The price is going to be high this season and will undoubtedly break the record for recent years. Within a few days, unless present indications are deceptive, 30 cents will be paid here for the growing crop. At any rate, the growers of Oregon will realize enough money on their crops this year to make up for their losses in the past.
