Subscription Rates: One Year $1.50, Six Months .75, Three Months .40

Entered as second-class matter March 1, 1907, at the post office at Dallas, Oregon, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

DALLAS, OREGON, AUG. 8, 1911.

The way to build up Dallas is to patronize Dallas people.

BRIGHT DAYS AHEAD.

That a new era of prosperity is dawning for Dallas and Polk county is assured by the news that J. K. Arnsby Company will locate their big prune packing plant in this city...

When 100 acres of Polk county soil yields the owner a net profit of $40,000 for one year's outlay of labor and capital, it would seem that the price asked for such land, even if big, as charged by some, is still nowhere near its actual value...

The people of Coos Bay have had too many expensive experiences with railroad rumors to become too enthusiastic over the prospects of a railroad now, even in the face of seemingly authentic assurances that one will be built...

A noted phrenologist who has examined the head of Robert LaFollette, declares that Bob will win the presidential nomination on the Republican ticket next year...

The assertion that perhaps the campaign against the house fly is all wrong, and that the insect ought to be allowed to live because it "removes dead, organic matter" is taken seriously by the Insurgents...

Senator LaFollette is exercised over the failure of his little scheme to put President Taft into a dark, deep hole in connection with the wool bill and the free list bill...

Over in Oregon City a fight has developed between the local telephone company and property owners who possess shade trees, to prevent the company from cutting them down or interfering with their growth...

Good Roads Will Solve High Cost of Living

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—"You are reasoning in a circle, my friend, when you ought to cut cross lots."

Thus did St. Hawkins, a plain, untutored, but hard-headed farmer, puncture the laborer's philosophy of a high-browed exponent of domestic economies, who had just climaxed an address to a gathering of farmers with the statement "that the cause of high prices and the high cost of living is freight rates, and the cure is a reduction in rates."

"Before this, I, too, had formed some opinions from garbled sophistry which I found in books and speeches by theoretic and office-seeking politicians, but it was hauling half a load of hogs to market the other day over a road knee deep in mud that made me realize there were other things than freight rates involved in the high cost of living...

"That set me to figuring. It took me a whole day with a team and wagon to haul 1500 pounds of logs the ten miles I had to go. At the rate of $3.50 a day for team and driver, I easily ascertained that the wagon haul, without allowing anything for repairs or keeping of myself and team, was costing 46 cents a ton per mile."

PORTLAND PARTIES TO OPEN NEW HOTEL

New Crider Block Leased For Hotel Purposes; Contract Signed Today.

George A. Berry, proprietor of the New Scott Hotel in Portland, arrived in the city yesterday and within a short time had leased for hotel purposes the greater portion of the concrete building being erected on the corner of Mill and Jefferson streets by J. W. Crider...

Oh, Prunes!

Oh, Prunes! Thou art it! To thee, oh, hail! Thou art paramount. We bow down before thee. And worship at thy shrine. Kissed by the winds of heaven Ripped by the sun of suns, Thy juice is nectar for the gods. Man likes thee. And woman seeks thee. In the mart of the world. Thy enraptured cheek Looks good to us, O prune. But thy price Looks better. Rising with each rising sun It sure is A corker. O prune, We salute thee! Kings acknowledge thee; On thee monarchs munch, And proud princes partake And all nobility nibbles, O prune of Polk!

Adds Soda Fountain.

In order to keep up with his increasing business, Everett Gwinn has made arrangements to put in an up-to-date soda fountain in his confectionery on Main street, between Court and Washington. He received a shipment of store fixtures yesterday morning, including a soda fountain and counter, which cost him $600, and he says he will have the best of the kind in Dallas.

Bitten By Insect.

Eugene Hayter, the well-known cashier of the Dallas National Bank, has been compelled to extend his summer vacation much longer than he expected or even wanted to, all on account of some pestiferous insect which bit, stung or pinched him on the back of the neck while he was away visiting his daughter, Mrs. H. R. Patterson, Jr., at Grays River, Washington, recently. For several days he was compelled to remain in bed and suffered considerable pain, but is now improving and will soon be all right again.
