HOP GROWERS OPTIMISTIC

Talk of Forty Cents Next Shows Polk County Producers.

The recent sharp rise in the hop market from 30 cents to 35 cents has created considerable enthusiasm among the growers, and considerable speculation is indulged in as to what the result will be. There is among many a feeling that the price will yet go to 40 cents, and the market is holding its breath, as it were, in expectancy of what will happen next.

The crop is looking fine in this country, and several returning from other parts of the valley say that the local yield and quality promise better than anything they have seen. Picking will begin about September 1.

TAX DELINQUENTS LISTED

Amounts Will Be Advertised in Observer, Beginning Next Tuesday.

The force of deputies in the sheriff's office has just completed the delinquent tax list for 1910, which, in accordance with a late law passed, is to be published in the Observer next Tuesday. The list covers 20 pages of typewritten legal cap.

The taxes on the real property to be advertised became delinquent April 4 last, and are subject to a penalty of 10 per cent and interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum until they shall have been paid.

Certificates of delinquency may be issued after the expiration of six months after the property becomes delinquent, upon application to the sheriff and upon payment of the taxes, penalty, interest and cost of advertising. Certificates of delinquency shall bear interest at the rate of 15 per cent per annum from the date of issuance until redeemed.

In order to accommodate taxpayers living at a distance from the county seat, Sheriff Grant has arranged for the payment of the delinquent amounts at the following banks, beginning about the middle of the week:

- Salem—Ladd & Bush's bank.
- Independence—Independence National bank.
- Monmouth—Polk County bank.
- Falls City—Bank of Falls City.

DALLAS BOYS IN CAMP

COMPANY H IN PRACTICE WARFARE AT FORT STEVENS

Training Being Given in Coast Defense With Big Ten-Inch Guns.

FORT STEVENS, Or., Aug. 9.—Twenty-two hundred men, making up practically all of the Oregon National Guard, are under canvas in three big camps at Columbia Beach and Fort Stevens. The troops will remain in the field for 10 days for coast defense maneuvers and field instructions.

Company H, of Dallas, is here with the companies from Eugene, Cottage Grove, Ashland, Roseburg, Albany, all of them being under command of Colonel George Q. Yarnall, of Eugene.

Not until after dark did the last of the big force reach the beach and the work of establishing camp was carried well into the night by many of the late arrivals.

All the camps will be roused at 5:30 o'clock in the morning and after mess at 6 will get down to camp work. Guard mounting will take place at 7:30 a. m. and at 8 a. m. the whole force will take the field for company and battalion drills in close order, which will occupy the entire day.

Expect Naval Battle.

When the mosquito fleet detachment from the Pacific squadron passes into the vicinity of the mouth of the Columbia river, en route to Astoria, it will be the signal for full preparations at Fort Stevens for a simulated attack on a hostile fleet by the big coast defense guns, manned by Oregon National Guardsmen. Vigil is being kept up day and night for the little craft, which are expected hourly.

The entire Fourth Oregon Infantry has been thrown into the coast fortifications and the various companies of that command are manning the batteries of ten-inch guns. Officers and men are displaying unusual adaptability in the artillery work.

Coast Defense Practice.

Just how to sink a hostile vessel while it is 12,000 yards away and barely visible, is the phase of modern warfare in which the guardsmen are being thoroughly instructed.

Attached to each company is a detail of two non-commissioned officers from the regular army, but the regular army gunners and gun crews remain in barracks. This is a decided departure from the program of four years ago, when the guardsmen merely acted in support of the regulars. The test is intended to decide just what efficiency may be developed on short notice by soldiers who have had no training in coast artillery operations.

Not only will the guardsmen at Fort Stevens be given a week of practical instruction in handling the huge guns that defend the mouth of the Columbia, but at the conclusion of the course they are to try their hand at gunnery.

Next Monday the sub-caliber projectiles are to be directed at moving targets near the jetty, with the infantrymen directing the fire.
