First Games of Basketball to Be Given in New Armory Friday Night, December 8.

The Dallas basketball season will open with a game in the new Armory in this city on the night of Friday, December 8, when the newly organized team of Company H will contest points with McMinville College team. The local tossers are practicing faithfully and it is predicted that they will be able to put up a stiff game.

On Christmas day the Dallas Guardsmen will go to Silverton for a game with the team there.

It is also announced that a game will be arranged with the University of Idaho team, from Moscow, to take place here in January.

Company H players are expecting to meet the Multnomah team, of Portland, in this city some time during January.

POULTRY BREEDERS WILL EXHIBIT AT GOAT SHOW

Polk County Association Decides to Accept Offer For Use of Armory in January.

At the meeting of the Polk County Poultry association held in the court house last Saturday, it was decided to accept the offer of the Angora goat breeders to hold a joint exhibit in the Armory, January 3, 4 and 5.
An invitation from Independence, accompanied by an offer of free use of building and lights and at least $100 in cash was rejected, as the Dallas Commercial club had previously offered to contribute toward the purchase of new coops, etc.

Forty per cent of the entrance fees will be used for cash premiums.
Twenty-five per cent of that amount will be devoted to first prizes, and 15 to second prizes, while the third will be awarded suitable badges.

C. S. Graves was appointed to arrange for engaging a judge of the show, who is to use the score card system in deciding on winners.

The women of the Presbyterian church are very busy preparing for of New England goodies cooked by real New England cooks, and everybody is given a cordial invitation to attend and enjoy the feast and the sociability. The cost of admission is

WORLD'S GREAT FERRY

New Boat Building in Oakland to Have Four Tracks, Will Accommodate Twenty-four Coaches.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—The Southern Pacific company's steamer Solano, which has ferried thousands of trains every year since 1879 across the Carquinez straits between Port Costa and Benicia, California, and which has been known all of these years as the largest ferryboat in the world, is to lose its famous appellation. Its successor to the title will be the ferry steamer Contra Costa, now being constructed in the Oakland shipyards of the Southern Pacific. The building of the old Central Pacific railroad across the great west and the steamer Solano are today two of the favorite topics of the California pioneers.

The Solano is not to be retired from service, however. Both the old and new boats will carry the transcontinental trains across the narrow straits that separate Carquinez and San Pablo bays.

The Contra Costa, while the general dimensions do not vary materially from those of the Solano, will be slightly larger.

Built of Oregon Pine.

It is being constructed of Oregon pine, and will be placed in service immediately upon its completion.
The length over all will be 433 feet four inches, and the width 116 feet.
Its tonnage will be 3800 tons. The most radical difference between this new steamer and the Solano will be the location of the engines. Instead of being propelled by one engine, located in the center of the boat, there will be two independent engines, of 2500 horsepower each, located below the main deck, one engine for each paddle wheel. Steam will be supplied from eight dryback Scottish boilers.

There will be four parallel tracks, 12-foot centers, on the Contra Costa.
These tracks will be absolutely straight on the deck of the boat, there being no deck houses in the center of the steamer to require a curve, as on the Solano. Its capacity will be 36 freight cars and two loe-comotives, or 24 passenger coaches and two locomotives. The present aprons and slips of both Benicia and Port Costa terminals will remain as they now are, the guard lines of the new steamer being identical with those of the Solano. The Contra Costa will be provided with a cafe and bar on the main deck, also a waiting room for local passengers.

Eye Scalded.

Mrs. Malinda Kimball, one of Oak-dale's most highly respected pioneers, was painfully scalded about the right eye and cheek last week by the steam from a teakettle spout, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Robinson. She stooped over the kitchen range, and being somewhat near-sighted, came in contact with the vapor, with serious results. She is reported as improving.

Walter Sears, who is assistant to A. T. Nunnally, special sales manager for the Eilers Music House in this district, left for Forest Grove Monday afternoon on business connected with the company. He will return in a day or two to resume his work with Mr. Nunnally.

TROUT TO STOCK
ALL STATE STREAMS

will be unexcelled. It is believed that in that time the trout will be able to propagate and mature sufficiently to amply re-stock the main river.

It will be the policy of the warden to make the distribution as wide as possible, closing small tributaries in all parts of the state. A year hence, the same plan will be followed, so that after three years, many new streams will be opened for fishermen every year.

About 75,000 steelhead trout are now being released in the upper tributaries of the Clackamas river.
These have been fed by the state for some time, but have been held at the government station at Cazadero. The commission is now getting ready to gather a large number of trout eggs at the coast stations, and up the Mackenzie. This work will be done in the spring.
