SEMI-WEEKLY

NATIONAL ORATORS MAY SPEAK AT FAIR

FAIR COMMITTEE HOLDS IM-PORTANT MEETING AND DIS-CUSS PLANS FOR FIRST ANNUAL EXHIBITION.

WM. J. BRYAN MAY COME

Move to Be Made to Secure Bryan, Senator Gore, or James; Fair Open to All Polk County Exhibitors; Lectures by Fruit Men and O. A.
C. Demonstrations.

Perfecting arrangements for the coming Polk County Fair to be held in Dallas Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 3, 4 and 5, the general committee held a very important meeting at the Court House Saturday night. The committee was in session nearly two and one-half hours and every phase of the situation was discussed.

The committee desires to impress upon the people of Polk county that the fair is open to every one in the county who has anything they want to exhibit, and it is hoped that all will take advantage of the occasion to show their products. The farmers are urged to bring their vegetables, grain, etc., or anything else, and the ladies are urged to exhibit canned and preserved fruits and samples of their culinary art.

The matter of a textile display was discussed and this portion of the fair was turned over to the ladies of the Dallas Woman's club. The committee desires to assure all exhibitors in any department that their displays will be thankfully received and arrangements made to properly place them where they will show to the best advantage. Ribbon prizes will be given in every class and room will be provided for all.

Noted Politicians May Come.
The matter of furnishing attractions for the big crowds expected, is in the hands of experienced members of the committee. W. V. Fuller, who visited Portland last week, told of a conference with an aviation company that while the company was anxious to contract with the fair people for aeroplane flights here, the expense would be too great to consider, with the funds at the disposal of the fair.

Mr. Hyster suggested a plan which, if successful, will result in bringing some large crowds to the fair. He stated that two of three prominent Democratic leaders, who are anticipating to visit Oregon early in October, and he thought it might be possible, if the matter was taken up in time, to have their itinerary so arranged that a speech in Dallas on one or more of the days of the fair would be probable. Among these men are William J. Bryan, Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, and Ollie James, of Kentucky. The advisability of securing one of these men as a special invited speaker to the fair, and Mr.
Hyster was instructed to make any arrangements possible along this line.
It was also suggested that, possibly the Republican and the Progressive parties might make similar arrangements for the appearance here of some of their prominent speakers and this led to the idea of making a "Republican Day," a "Democratic Day" and a "Bull Moose Day" at the fair.

On motion the various county central committees of the different political parties will be urged to make arrangements to secure dates for their best speakers at the fair and also a special invitation will be sent to all district and state candidates to visit Dallas on the fair dates.

Fruit Lectures Probable.
On the suggestion of N. L. Guy, of the Fruit Growers' association, it was decided at the fair for lectures by prominent orchardists. George Skiff called attention to the advisability of securing an exhibit from the Oregon Agricultural college and the presence of representatives of the college and the practical demonstration work for which the institution is noted. All these matters were left with the Fruit Growers' association.

To Have Competent Judges.
One of the principal questions discussed at the meeting was the necessity of securing competent judges in all departments, especially in poultry and live stock. It was felt that those who exhibited in these departments would be better satisfied if men in whose judgment all had confidence, were secured. Accordingly President Woods of the Polk County Poultry association was entrusted with the duty of securing a judge for the poultry and the matter of securing a competent judge for the live stock was left with the heads of the different departments.

It was also decided to offer a prize of at least $25 in cash to the school district making the best exhibit, all details being left with Superintendent H. C. Seymour.

Committee on Parades.
Committee on parades was appointed by Chairman W. A. Ayres, consisting of W. V. Fuller, W. L. Soeh-ren and N. L. Guy. This committee will make the arrangements for the parade and the committee on the proposed automobile parade and endeavor to secure a large number of machines in the parade. A prize will be given for the best decorated car but just what it will be has not yet

HOPPICKER IS DROWNED

Lester Royal, New Arrival From Ohio, Loses His Life in Willamette Near Eola, Sunday Night.

EOLA, Sept. 15.—(Special).—Lester Royal, an employee of the Lively hop yard, was drowned in the Willamette river near this place on Sunday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock. A friend who was with him at the time attempted to save him, but was unsuccessful, the body not rising to the surface but once. A number of men from here dragged the body for some time but did not succeed in finding the body. Royal lately came here from Ohio, where his family resides.

OLD COMPANY IS DISBANDED

MAJ. KNAPP TRANSFERS STATE
PROPERTY TO LIEUT. STAFRIN.

Provisional New Company Is Organized Under Command of Staffrin; to Be Recruited to Full Strength.

Former Company G. O. N. G., of Dallas, formally went out of existence on Saturday, when all of the state property contained in the armory, and the control of the building itself, was turned over to Lieutenant Conrad Staffrin, by Major Knapp, from Adjutant General Finzer's office, who came to Dallas for that purpose.

The disbandment of the company followed instructions from the general staff, as the result of the investigation following alleged mutinous charges preferred against officers of the guard.

Steps looking to the formation of a new company were at once taken, and it is probable that this will be accomplished within a few days.
Lieut. Staffrin is in charge of the new company and will continue as its commander until an election of officers is held. The calling of this election is entirely in the hands of Staffrin, who will not decide on the date of the new company shall have been fully organized, and substantial additions to its roster have been made. The membership of the old company was 62, but it is probable that a number of the former members will not continue in the new company. It will not be necessary for former members of the old company, whose enlistments had not expired, to enlist in the new company, their membership being automatically extended to the new recruits will, of course, have to regularly enlist. It is the intention of Lieutenant Staffrin to recruit the company up to its former strength.

It is probable that Mr. Staffrin will be selected as the new captain of the company.

TO GROW LOGANBERRIES

Combination of Portland and Minnesota Capitalists Plan Development Activities at Broadmead.

Portland, Sept. 17.—Broadmead farm, in Yamhill and Polk counties, which was purchased a year ago by a combination of local and Minnesota capitalists, known as the Broad-mead company, is to be subdivided and planted to loganberries.

The real feature of this plan for improving Broadmead is the arrangement made by the company to plant the tracts in loganberries and care for them until the first crop is ready to gather.

For the purpose of taking over the selling agency of Broadmead farm, the Northwest Land company has been organized, with the following officers: W. P. Hurlburt, president; C. V. Everett and C. D. Simonds, of Everett & Simonds, vice president and secretary respectively. President Hurlburt is now in Minnesota, where he expects to establish branch agencies.

The Broadmead agency includes among its stockholders E. W. Barnes, H. P. Barnhart and B. Lee Paget, who are well known in Portland. The officers are: President, A. D. LaDue, president First National bank, Lauverne, Minn.; vice president, E. W.
Barnes; secretary and manager, V.
C. Mead, formerly president First National bank, Hills, Minn.

The highly profitable result of the loganberry crop this year has thoroughly demonstrated the commercial possibilities of this prolific fruit. The loganberry reaches its greatest perfection in the moist bottom lands of the Willamette valley.

W. H. Shreve spent Sunday in Dallas, at the home of his sister, Mrs.
A. B. Muir.

DEMOCRATIC IDEAS EXPUNDED BY CANDIDATE

DR. HARRY LANE, ASPIRANT FOR SENATORIAL TOGA, FIRES
OPENING GUN OF POLI-TICAL CAMPAIGN.

MEETING IS WELL ATTENDED

Urbane Doctor Devotes His Time to Mild Attack on the Tariff and the Relation of Comical Anecdotes; Senator M. A. Miller Lambasts Republicans in Closing Talk.

Devoting a considerable portion of his speech to the tariff, which he denounced as a tax, and maintained in force for the benefit of the few at the expense of the many, advocating the recall of United States senators and judges, declaring in favor of the Oregon System but expressing the belief that the initiative should be amended, Dr. Harry Lane, of Portland, Democratic candidate for United States senator, entertained a good crowd at the circuit court room in the court house in Dallas on Friday night, with a speech of about a half hour's duration. The doctor is an entertaining talker. "Talker" is advisedly because he did not attempt to make a speech—he just talked, and his talk was filled with anecdotes and personal experiences which provoked much merriment and kept his audience in a good humor. He did not abuse anybody and though he handed Ben Selling a few digs.

Compliments for Dallas.
In beginning, after his introduction by Oscar Hyster, chairman of the committee, Dr. Lane paid a high compliment to Dallas and the band. He also told of the pleasant impression he received in viewing the court house in the midst of its well-kept lawn, and said that of the two, the latter was the hardest job.

"In asking the people of Oregon to elect me to the United States senate," said the speaker, "I want them to do so simply upon the platform upon which I stand. I will tell you what I believe ought to be done, and what principles I advocate, and if I can't have the office under those conditions, I don't want it."

Another Ash Street Fire.
In paying his respects to his principal opponent, Hon. Ben Selling, republican candidate, Dr. Lane declared that "Ben is pussy-footing in this campaign and will continue to do so until he is completely routed. It is practically impossible to get him to declare himself emphatically whether he supports Roosevelt Taft or ex-president Roosevelt." The speaker declared that, should he be elected, he would try to serve the people of Oregon, when such effort crossed the will of "the interests" big business would "bust" him. So far as he himself was concerned, he was "independently poor and he had been busted" so often that the thought of it didn't scare him. "There is too much business in the United States senate," shouted the speaker, "and too many wealthy men."

Tariff is Denounced.
Dr. Lane paid his respects to the tariff and again voiced the well-worn and threadbare arguments opposing it. He declared that it is a tax, and while its original object was to raise revenue during a great civil war, it had now become a special privilege for the great corporations at the expense of the common people. He called attention to many alleged crimes against the people and growing factions, declared that, if he had his way, he would remove the duty on steel rails and place a tariff of $5,000,000 on every foreign duke or count who marries an American heiress. He declared that the great strike of the Massachusetts mill operatives last winter was the direct outgrowth of the tariff which permitted employers to grow wealthy, and enabled them to trample upon the rights of their employees. He pointed a vivid picture of the manner in which that affair was handled and of the inhuman methods adopted to force the strikers to yield, and said that when such atrocities could be used under the guise of law, "it's about time you hired Harry Lane to go to the senate and help stop it."

Initiative in Danger.
The speaker declared that the "Oregon system" was all right, and im-placated that "some of us" were advocating the system long before "Johnny Bourne, it's self-styled leader took it up. He said that the initiative was in danger just now, its enemies had loaded it with a lot of useless measures in the hope of making it distasteful, and thus lead to its repeal by the people themselves. As a remedy he advocated that it be amended so as to prevent the submission of a large amount of "nonsensical propositions." Whether the genial doctor was taking a sly whack at the Oregon City law factory in this proposed reform was not made clear.

Crowd Kept in Good Humor.
Dr. Lane is an adept story teller and kept the audience in good humor during his speech by the many

Opening Date For Dallas City Schools Postponed by Board Until Monday, September 30

In deference to insistent appeals from many parents, the opening of the fall term of school in Dallas, which was announced to take place on Monday, September 23, has been postponed until Monday, September 30, according to announcement made today by the school board. The lateness of the hop picking season and the demand for pickers in the prune orchards is the reason for the week's postponement. At the time the first date was decided on, it was thought that the harvesting of both crops would have been finished, but the

SMALL BLAZE DOES DAMAGE FOUNTAIN PLAN UP TO COMMITTEE

FIRE AT NASH RESIDENCE
BURNS WASHING MACHINE.

Small Boy and Matches Supposed Cause of Saturday's Scare; Home of Chris Hosh Slightly Damaged.

Fire, probably caused by a small boy with matches, did a small amount of damage at the residence of George Nash, 111 Ash street, at noon on Saturday. The blaze was first noticed by neighbors, who saw smoke issuing from the woodhouse adjoining the residence. The Nash family were away from home at the time, and Mr. Nash was notified at the store. A fire alarm was turned in, and in the meantime, neighbors ran to the dwelling where they found a quantity of laundry and a washing machine ablaze. It was the work of a moment only to extinguish the fire, and the street last week by a fire which originated mysteriously in the kitchen.
Mrs. Hosh discovered the wall paper of the kitchen on fire, but succeeded in extinguishing it without turning in an alarm. She thinks it caught from an overheated flue. The loss was fully covered by insurance.

Exhibitors Have Trouble.
From Many Sources Come Complaints
Director at Fair Management.

According to reports exhibitors at the state fair at Salem this year have experienced considerable trouble. Mrs.
Braden, of this city, lost three valuable prize-winning birds, and other owners have had to hustle to secure their property. It appears that complaints are not confined to Dallas, as reports from other neighborhoods are to the same effect.

Formaldehyde is Poor Drink.
Riekraal Resident Who Tried It Can't Recommend Devotion.

David Smith, who lives near Riek-raal drank a quantity of formaldehyde by mistake one day last week while he was confined to Dallas, as the balance. A physician was hastily summoned, however, and after strenuous work, had the patient in an improved condition. He is considerably better and is expected to fully recover.

Moose Open Headquarters.
The "County Central Committee" of the Bull Moose party for Polk county have opened headquarters in rooms over Staffrin's drug store, corner Main and Court streets. George Skiff presided at the meeting, while Tom Cherrington will officiate as wet nurse. The room will be tastefully decorated with nice, red bandanas, and chairs will be provided for the entire "party" should all the Polk county members happen, by any chance, to visit the city on the same day.

Friends Show Their Esteem.
Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Receive Unexpected Visit From Neighbors.

In testimony of the esteem felt for them by their neighbors, among whom they have lived for the past year, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold who have resided on the Hugh Smith farm near Dallas, were treated to a genuine surprise recently when a large number of their friends visited their home unannounced, bringing with them a number of valuable presents and plates of appetizing refreshments. A very pleasant evening was spent. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold will visit for a time at the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Ritner, in Kings Valley, after which they will leave for Southern Oregon to make their home.

Poultry Association Gets Prize.
The Polk County Poultry association, which was awarded the third prize at the state fair, received their prize money, $19 in cash, on Monday.

Infant Improves.
The infant child of Mr. and Mrs.
George Coad, whose life was desperately lost, is reported as improving, with bright prospects for complete recovery.

1600 B.-XES FROM 6 ACRES.
* Airle Hopyard Shows Record Yield For Year, So Far
Reported.
* Riley Matheny, a hop raiser of Airle, broke the record so far reported this year in raising the largest amount of first-class hops from the smallest area.
* Mr. Matheny planted six acres and raised 1600 boxes of fine hops. Last year the yield was 960 boxes on the same ground, which was obtained by hop exports to be an exceptional case.
* The Matheny hop yard is located about two miles above Airle on a sandy bottom near the * Luckiamute, and the excellent soil for hops is said to account for the wonderful yield.

CHURCH YEAR CLOSES

Methodist Church Society of Dallas

With last Sunday the regular conference year closed at the Dallas Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev.
L. R. Fields left for Ashland, where the annual conference is in session this week and will continue over next ports issued by the different societies of the church, the past year has been among the members of the church with the work of Rev. L. R. Fields, and the general sentiment among the members and others is that he again be returned to this charge.

PLAY FOR LIBRARY BENEFIT

"Mary Jane's Pa" May Be Given by Dallas Local Talent.

At a meeting of the Dallas Library association, which was held at the home of J. G. VanOrsdal on Monday night, it was decided to present a play to the people of Dallas for the benefit of the library. The money received will be used to buy new books. The services of Mrs. Edward Caldwell, a graduate of the Emerson School of Oratory, University of Wisconsin and Northwestern University, have been secured to coach the play. "Mary Jane's Pa" will probably be given.

BOGUS CHECK ARTIST AT WORK

Unknown Forger Swindles Hotel Man
Out of $22 and Decamps.

On Sunday a man signing his name as "R. L. Wyatt" presented a check drawn in his favor by C. L. Crider, in Landlord Serr, at the Gail hotel and got the money. On Monday when the check was presented for payment at the Dallas National bank it was discovered to be a forgery. The swindler had very cleverly executed the check, using a rubber stamp bearing the words "C. L. Crider Hardware & Groceries," which was stamped across the face of the check.
The forger left the city at once and all trace of him has been lost.

BIG CROWD IS PLEASED

Artisans Program at Woodman Hall Draws 200 People; Every Number is Roudly Applauded.

Open meeting of Dallas Artisans last night at the Woodman hall was attended by a crowd that numbered fully 200, and every one of them seemed pleased to see the entertainment offered, judging by the enthusiastic applause that greeted each number.

Attorney Lot D. Brown delivered the opening address in his usual de-clamatory and following that the program was carried off with precision.
The stirring strains of national airs played by Jack Eakin's orchestra, which made its initial bow in the Dallas public, were among the most appreciated numbers on the evening's program.

The selection by the male quartette composed of Messrs. John E. Miller, Willis Simonton, Jack Sibby, and Fred Zeller, was a "walk over" over all the other quartette selections of the evening.

DALLAS MUST ACT OR COLLEGE WILL GO

NECESSITY OF ACTIVITY ON THE PART OF THIS CITY IF IT WOULD RETAIN INSTI-TUTION IS SHOWN.

NEW YEAR OPENS SEPT. 25

Outlook Encouraging But Soliciting For Students Is Hindered by Uncertainty of Location; Total Enrollment Probably Will Reach Last Year's Record if Local People Help.

If the city wishes to retain Dallas College under the new federated plan already announced in these columns, it will be necessary to move in the matter, and that quickly, according to statements made by the college officials. Other cities are striving for the college location and are offering inducements, but this city has the inside track in many ways, and will receive favorable consideration if something is done toward raising; the enrollment without delay.

Year Opens September 25.
The next school year at Dallas College will open Wednesday, September 25. The opening exercises will be held in the college chapel at 10 o'- clock a. m. President A. A. Winter will deliver the principal address.
Immediately after these exercises the registration and classification of students will begin.

The faculty for the new year will remain practically unchanged, except that President A. A. Winter will resume his place in the class room in place of Prof. L. P. Gilmore, who had charge of the science department last year.

In view of the inquiries that have been made with reference to the department of Music, the faculty is pleased to announce that Prof. William Caldwell will again have charge of this work, as usual.

Uncertainty is Handicap.
Prof. D. M. Metzger, Dean of the College, who has spent his summer vacation in the field soliciting for new students, reports that the new recruits will at least make good the loss sustained in a regular way last year.

"The registration last year from outside the city was larger than it has been for years," said Prof. Metzger, "and about the same number are expected this year. Whether or not the total enrollment will be equal to former years is a matter for the local community to answer."

Uncertainty is Handicap.
"One thing that naturally made the appeal for new students especially difficult this year," continued Prof.
Metzger, "is the uncertainty that still hangs over the question of the permanent location of the larger "Federated College of Oregon," which is to take the place of both the Dallas College and the Philomath College. If this question had been definitely settled, I would have found it easier to have more than doubled the new recruits from outside of Dallas this year. With these, would have come some families who would have made our city their home for a number of years, and perhaps permanently."

"President Winters' work will be so arranged this year that part of his time can be devoted to this problem of location. No time should be lost by the local community in determining what can be done in this matter, because there are some other cities which are inquiring seriously into this opportunity. Dallas must act soon, or lose."

Gymnasium Arranged.
"To those who have been inquiring about gymnasium privileges for students during the coming year, we are glad to announce that the authorities are negotiating for a place, with good prospects for arrangements which they believe will be entirely satisfactory."

"To the opening exercises, to be held on Wednesday morning, September 25, the public is most cordially invited."

16-YEAR OLD LAD HEARS CALL Lester Young Dies at Family Home After Fight With Tuberculosis.

Little Bernice Lockwood, five nine-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
R. E. Lockwood, died at their home, 214 Shelton street, Monday morning, of dysentery. The child was taken ill at a hop yard near Independence Sunday. Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon, interment taking place in Dallas cemtery.

Eugene Minister Pleases.
Dr. Holmes, of Eugene, delivered two excellent sermons at the Christian church in Dallas last Sunday, morning and evening, and was listened to by good-sized congregations.
He will fill the pulpit again on Sunday.
