

A BLUFF CALLED.

That the Itemizer announced the probable election of Harry Hinshaw to the general freight agency of the S. P. two weeks before any other paper in Oregon.—Itemizer, Sept. 12. (watch the dates).

"Now comes an order from the highups that the separate office here is to be discontinued and Mr. Hinshaw relieved. He has always since leaving the ticket office at Hillsboro been detailed on separate assignments and he does not know where will be his next location.—Itemizer, Aug. 1. (watch the dates).

H. A. Hinshaw, who held the position of assistant general manager of the road, was called to San Francisco the first of the week to consult with the head officials of the Southern Pacific, and while no definite announcement has been made, it is probable that he will be promoted to the position of general freight agent of the lines in Oregon, lately held by H. E. Lounsbury, who has been transferred to the O. W. R. & N. railway.—Observer, Aug. 6. (watch the dates).

H. A. Hinshaw has been called to Prisco for a conference with S. P. officials, and we may soon hear of his promotion to general freight agent.—Itemizer, Aug. 8, two days after the Observer printed the story.

A. D. Braun, of Salem, who purchased the Dallas Bakery from Charles Mulkey, took possession of the place the first of the week. The shop was closed today while repairs were being made to the oven, but will be open as usual tomorrow.

The Misses Kennedy, of Venice, California, were in the city a few days last week, visiting their brother, Charles Kennedy of the Dallas Lumber and Logging Company. They left Thursday afternoon for Seattle, Wash., where they will visit friends.

Mrs. J. B. Chambers, of Eugene, a former resident of Dallas, arrived on Monday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. A. J. Martin and Mrs. Henry Nien.

STATE NEWS

There will be things worth seeing at the tri-county fair, to be held at Condon, October 15-17. Sherman, Morrow, and Gilliam farmers will have exhibits that will show a never before the possibilities of that section of the state. The Condon Business Men's association will have full charge of the fair and it seems that each of the three counties will have large showings of products. Wheeler county has asked for space to install a collection of products that are not intended to be put in competition with the three counties but will be simply an advertising feature for Wheeler.

Prizes for agricultural and livestock exhibits amounting to $2,000 and an additional $3,000 for racing purses will be distributed at the Central Oregon fair, to be held at Prineville, October 14-15. Improvements to the fair grounds have been completed and the most successful fair ever held in Crook county is anticipated.

Oregon has started to export hogs. A breeder with a stock of 100 head of purebred hogs, at Aurora reports a sale of blooded swine to Honolulu people, where they will be used for breeding purposes. It has long been a reproach to Oregonians that the state does not produce enough pork for its own use, but this situation is being slowly overcome.

Ashuel Smith, of Ladner, B. C., who won a silver cup valued at $1,000 at the New York Land show last year, will come to the Pacific Northwest Land products at Portland November 18-23, with exhibits of 100 varieties of potatoes. He is confident that he will win the chief prize and Oregon growers should test themselves lest he make good his threat.

A large number of special trains will run to Pendleton from Portland to carry the thousands who will attend the Round-Up, Sept. 26-28. Other sections of the Pacific Northwest will send big delegations and Puget Sound will be well represented. Indications are that this year's show will be bigger and better both in attendance and program than ever in its history.

Vale Enterprise: With four big locomotives puffing back and forth through the local railroad yards and towards the Malheur canyon, Vale is some railroad headquarters. This should be enough proof to towns along the main line that Vale is the busiest railroad center in the interior mountain country, if not in the entire Northwest.

Klamath Herald: In less than two weeks H. Newham has produced from his single acre and a half of garden in this city and sold in the local market over 700 dozen ears of corn. The corn is well filled out, tender and sweet, and there has been in Mr. Newham's experience here no damage resulting from frost.

Best for the Hands: S. L. Chapman, Massie, Ky., says: I used Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve on my hands, which were sore, and I find it the best I ever tried. It cured them completely. Sold by Stratlin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Marks, Linn county pioneers of the early 50s, now residents of Oakland, Cal., are visiting their son, County Clerk Willard Marks, at Albany. Mr. Marks, according to the Albany Democrat, looks only 60 of his 80 years. Astoria: Officers of the Scandinavian-American bank yesterday closed a contract with the Fisher-Stevens company, of Charles City, Iowa, for the installation of a handsome system of mahogany finish, with tile floors for its new bank building now under construction at Twelfth and Duane streets. Eugene Guard: A volunteer sunflower came up on G. W. Knapp's place on the river road and he let it grow. He brought the perfected head to this office yesterday.
