

POLK COUNTY NEWS

MOUNTAIN VIEW

(Too late for last week)
Charlie and Dick Pearce and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Southwick are attending the Pendleton Round-Up.

Mae Lynch left for Falls City Saturday where she will have charge of the sixth grade this year.

Jack White and family have moved out on the farm from Salem.

Rosa Grice is attending the High school at Monmouth this year.

Mrs. Chapman is staying with her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Southwick, while Mr. Southwick is attending the Round-Up.

Among those that are attending the Salem High school from here are Robbie and Bernice Adams, Victor Lynch, Albert Bouffleur, Glen Southwick, Ora Cairth and Olive and Esther Porter.

John Lynch leaves Saturday to take up the work as teacher in a school near Mill City.

OAK DALE

(Too late for last week)
J. S. Macomber has been very sick with an attack of appendicitis and other ailments but is recovering slowly.

Mrs. William Shewey is in very poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Southwick and sons left Thursday, Sept. 20 for their future home at Stockton, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Stafrin and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Elliott and Miss Walker visited at the Garwood place (O. E. Dennis) Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Stafrin brought the party up in his auto by Ellendale and returned by the hill road to Dallas.

He is the first one to drive an auto up the Halleck hill this summer.

He said he had no difficulty whatever in coming up. A little grading on the Halleck hill would make the "loop" one of the most picturesque drives in the whole country.

School will open here next Monday with Miss Wundor of Monmouth, as teacher.

A family by the name of Dunn have moved to a place a short distance south of Joe Murphy's and will engage extensively in wood cutting for the Salem Railway Co.

Mrs. Joe Murphy visited her aunt, Mrs. Rachael Dodd, of Dallas, Wednesday.

Prof. Metzger took dinner at the Garwood place Sunday.

Little Ruth Dennis is having the whooping cough.

Prosperity for the farmers

Big Crops and High Prices Form Pleasing Combination.

Portland, Oct. 1.—(Special)—Farmers of the Pacific Northwest are to be envied this year for prices are high and crops abundant. In almost every section the producers are rolling in new wealth.

Thomas Morgan, of Enterprise, harvested 110,000 worth of grain from one ranch in Union county and he will grow enough on other ranches near Enterprise to bring his total crop up to 35,000 bushels.

A man in the Table Rock district of Jackson county raised 6,000 sacks of potatoes on 30 acres. These potatoes are now worth at the Medford depot, $1.25 per sack, or $7,500 for the crop from 30 acres.

A farmer in the Molalla district, Clackamas county, has sold $500 worth of clover seed from eight acres and has 27 tons of clover hay, worth $270, from the same land.

A hop farmer in the Mission Bottom country near Salem, has grown $40,000 worth of hops on 100 acres. The crop is already sold at that figure.

Every neighborhood throughout the state can show similar instances of farmers getting rich. There are unlimited opportunities for others. The farmers of Washington. It is said, will receive $25,000,000 more for their crops this year than last, and it is probable the increased value in this state will not be much below that figure.

Value of Commercial Club.

The Vale Enterprise has a good idea of what a Commercial club is and has the following to say: "A great many of our citizens are inclined to overlook the good that is accomplished by the Commercial club. The people of Vale are not alone in this, as it is the same, practically, all over the country. The Commercial club shoulders all the trouble and expense of advertising our community, and trusts to the people to repay them. They spend many nights in figuring on something to help the town, and the people, who are to reap the benefit, sleep peacefully. They give a good part of their time and often spend some expense money, and the people do not compensate them in any way. The officers never stand back from the work simply because there is no payroll in connection with their office. The small growing town is the one that needs a Commercial club and a town never amounts to shucks unless it has one."

If you have any doubt of the merit of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey one bottle will remove the doubt and your cough at the same time. Look for the bell on the bottle. It is the genuine. Sold by Conrad Stafrin.

After New Settlers.

The Portland, Eugene & Eastern, the Southern Pacific's system of electric lines, has definite plans for bringing settlers to the Willamette valley. When the interurban roads are put in operation, special efforts will be made to bring thousands of Eastern people to settle on the land, hoping in this way to divide up the large farms and encourage more intensive agriculture. The company will pay much attention to the establishment of canneries, fruit evaporator and other plants to utilize farm products.
