

Type of Soldiers In Balkan Uprising and Two Rulers

Photos by American Press Association.

In the uprising of the Balkan kingdoms against Turkish rule in Macedonia and Albania the Serbian troops were among the first to mobilize under orders from King Peter. This picture shows the type of the Serbian soldiers and also King George of Greece, who united with the Balkan kings in revolt, and the sultan of Turkey. The army of the Serbs came to about 130,000 combatants in case of war. In Serbia, as in her neighbor states, service is compulsory and universal. Continuous service in the infantry is for two years and for the artillery and cavalry two years. Then comes service in the reserve and territorial troops for every Serbian until he reaches the age of forty-five. The Serbian infantry has the Mauser rifle, and the artillery uses a quick firing field gun on the Schneider-Canet system.

Promises are easily made and too easily broken, but this I have to say, that if elected to the office of County Sheriff by the voters of Polk County, I will give the very best that is in me.

I respectfully solicit your support.

DESERT ROOSEVELT

IN ILLINOIS THIRD TERM SENTIMENT IS STEADILY DECREASING.

FARMERS RESENT CHANGE

Reports From All Sections Are to the Effect That Republicans Have Determined to Remain Loyal to Party.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Polls which are being received at the headquarters of the Republican national committee indicate that the third term candidate will not receive on election day anything like the support given him in the primaries, when he was a Republican seeking the nomination of his party for the office of president.

These figures are confirmed by statements published in newspapers in various parts of the state, by letters received at the headquarters and by Illinois people who visit Chicago and express their opinions on the political situation.

Rev. Clark S. Thomas of Elgin, who has traveled through the state from East St. Louis to Vincennes and from Springfield to Centralia, was emphatic in his assertion that the Roosevelt sentiment in Illinois is disappearing.

When former Senator William E. Mason, nominated at the primaries for the position of Congressman-at-large from Illinois, recently returned from a speech-making tour he reported that the Roosevelt sentiment was waning in the localities which he had visited.

Roosevelt Losing Supporters.

"I have been all over the state of Illinois, addressing Chautauques, home-coming rallies and farmers' picnics, and everywhere I went I met the opinion that Mr. Roosevelt is losing supporters," said Mr. A. C. Rankin of Chicago. "Large numbers of people believe he is organizing his movement merely as an aid to elect Wilson and defeat Taft, and they refuse to be a party to his treachery."

"I have just returned from a tour through some of the counties of Illinois," writes Henry I. Nowlan, a prominent attorney in this city, "and I find that the third term sentiment is on the wane."

Change Among Farmers.

"Republican conditions have improved in my section of Illinois more than 25 per cent since I was here two weeks ago," says Mr. W. W. Clark of Aurora, Ill., formerly labor editor of the Chicago Inter Ocean and now editor of the Aurora Sentinel.

"The change is principally observed among the farmers. They appreciate the prosperity which they have been enjoying under Republican administration and they are beginning to realize that a change to Democracy means an end to their good times. The trend toward President Taft is plainly apparent."

Pledged to Republican Ticket.

"I cannot speak for other parts of the state," said Mr. W. E. Wire of Hebron, Ill., while in Chicago recently, "but I know that in my precinct Roosevelt will not poll one per cent of the vote which he received in the primaries last spring."

Mr. Wire was formerly chairman of the county committee of McHenry county, and is now a member of the county committee.

While there are some sections in the state where the Roosevelt sentiment continues to manifest itself, the fact that it is generally disappearing is proven beyond a doubt.

THE TIDE HAS TURNED

From the Patterson, N. J., Press.

It is apparent that the turn of the tide which has been generally expected, in favor of the re-election of President Taft, has set in all over the country. The Third Term movement is rapidly waning, and the testing process of Governor Wilson in the crucible of public opinion is proving a distinct disappointment to the Democratic party.

No impartial observer of the political situation now believes that Roosevelt has any chance of winning, and it is apparent that the Democratic standard bearer has made a great mistake in adopting the cry of death to the protective tariff as his slogan.

So manifest is the turn of the tide toward Taft that the Democratic leaders have ceased to regard victory for their party as a sure thing.

CANVASS OF INDIANA

It Shows That the Roosevelt Movement is Now on the Decline.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 30.—A careful canvass has been made of the Roosevelt sentiment in every county in this state. The inquiry was started by a prominent business man of this city, who was anxious to learn for himself the true condition of affairs. He sent out a large number of letters to men in each of the counties who were not politicians and would have no incentive to falsify the situation. The replies showed that in every county in the state, with one exception, there had been a marked decrease in the Roosevelt sentiment. The opinion was universally expressed that the Third Term candidate had fewer followers now in Indiana than at any time since the campaign opened and this number was steadily decreasing. A few of these reports summarized follow:

White county—"Ours is an agricultural community and the farmers all seem satisfied with conditions and are not calling for a change. I see no evidence of Bull Mooseism spreading. On the contrary, it is weaker than at first."

Stearns county—"The Third Termers are on the down grade and will not be as strong a month later as they are now."

Lake county—"Sentiment for the Progressive is weakened, especially among the farmers. Sentiment is growing more and more favorable to the administration."

Montgomery county—"The Bull Moose sentiment here is waning. The Third Term party is losing as the campaign progresses."

De Kalb county—"There will not be many Bull Moose voters here. Taft will get some Democratic votes—quite a number."

Miami county—"The changes are now coming all our way. There are no more desertions from the Republican ranks."

Tippecanoe county—"The Bull Moose sentiment is subsiding."

Reports from Allen and La Grange counties are to the same effect.

SLIDING BACK IN NEVADA

Roosevelt Has Reached His Limit and Is Rapidly Receding.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 26.—The decline of the Roosevelt movement, noticeable throughout the country, is very apparent in Nevada.

"The interest in the Bull Moose movement is crystallized in Roosevelt," says the Evening Gazette, "and that interest is waning." The Gazette further states that Roosevelt's disappointing speech in this state, the fact that he is receiving funds from George W. Perkins and is being supported only by cast-off politicians, are drag-stones about his neck. The Gazette sums up the situation in Nevada as follows:

"Roosevelt has reached the limit of his power and is sliding back rapidly."

A BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

President Taft Has Given Good Government to the People.

From 1882 to 1892 the ordinary expenses of the federal government increased at the rate of about 3 per cent a year. In the succeeding decennial period they increased about 4 per cent a year. Under the presidency of Mr. Roosevelt the annual increase was almost 6 per cent. Mr. Taft has not only stopped this annual increase, which has so long seemed inevitable, but has actually brought about a decrease. Under Mr. Roosevelt the ordinary annual expenses of the government grew from about $471,000,000 to $662,000,000, an increase of $191,000,000 in seven years. Mr. Taft has reduced them from $662,000,000 to $654,000,000.

We talk a lot about economy in public affairs. Isn't it worth while to stop a moment and give credit to a president who has actually done what we have all been saying ought to be done?

What Happened.

Ah, if the workmen of this country could only know how they have been fooled about the protective tariff working for their benefit. Why, if the protective tariff was relieved at a great many points, this is what would happen, that American industry would take on a new size and speed.—Prof. Wilson.

Why, certainly that is what would happen—just as did the last time the protective tariff was "relieved."

The Difference.

From the Belvidere (Ill.) Republican.

The difference between the Roosevelt and Taft administration is that Mr. Roosevelt talked loudly against those whom he called "malefactors," and secretly protected some of them from the law, while Mr. Taft has made no threats, but has just enforced the law.

KANSAS IS REPUBLICAN

Roosevelt Strength Among Voters Is Decreasing Perceptibly Throughout State.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 23.—Notwithstanding the enthusiasm which has always existed in Kansas for Theodore Roosevelt, it is undeniable that his strength as a presidential candidate is decidedly waning throughout the state.

If he were the candidate of the Republican party, and if there were a chance of his election, he would, of course, sweep the state without any serious opposition. But neither of those conditions exists. The fact that his own leaders have been obliged to yield to the wave of indignant protest which swept against them on account of their effort to have Roosevelt's electors placed in the Republican column has not only proven the strength of the Taft sentiment, but it has eliminated all possibility of Roosevelt carrying the state. The withdrawal of his electors from the Republican column has emphasized the fact that he is not the Republican candidate; and Kansas is too well satisfied with the conditions which have prevailed during the past sixteen years to follow any man, however popular he may be, out of the Republican party.

The Roosevelt sentiment has been further weakened by the universal conviction that there is no possibility of his election and that the only effect his candidacy can possibly have is to expose the country to the danger of a Democratic victory. Kansas is as far from being a Democratic state as it ever was and with the substantial collapse of the Roosevelt campaign, this state will be found in its accustomed place near the head of the Republican column.

LOSING IN NEBRASKA

Progressive Party Will Die Before Election Day Comes Around.

Reports from Nebraska show that the Roosevelt sentiment is decreasing. The Third Term party," says one letter to Director Mulvane of the eastern bureau of the Taft campaign, "is dwindling down to Pops."

James H. Clark of Hastings, Neb., president of a large company which handles investments, securities and farm mortgages, and who has exceptional opportunity to know the feeling among the farmers, says that in Nebraska the farmers are beginning to realize that if they followed Roosevelt they will land nowhere, and if they allow a Democratic president to be elected, they will be ruined.

In Lincoln, Neb., the Third Term party had difficulty in securing even two hundred and fifty signatures to a petition for their county convention. "The Progressive party will die before election," says one report. "Sentiment is looking better for Taft every day."

Dwindling in Missouri.

Fred A. Williams, secretary of the Republican central committee of Calaway county, Missouri, makes the following report:

"What little Moose sentiment we have here is dwindling and everything is shaping up well for Mr. Taft in November."

"Dunning's the lowest form of wit." An ancient worthy shrilly cackled. But wouldn't he have had a fit if a daffy'd he'd ever tackled?

—New York Mail.

ELMER E. PADDOCK

As a candidate for Representative he presents to the Republican voters of the county for their favorable consideration the following as his platform, which is a matter of record in the County Clerk's office:

Subscribes to Statement No. 1. Favors lower taxes and strictly opposes all extravagant and unnecessary appropriations.
