

DEATH'S SCYTHE IS HEAVY LADEN THIS WEEK

Ladies, members of Cascade Lodge No. 92, Knights of Pythias, attending in a body and acting as escort and pallbearers. Several members of Marmon Lodge, of Dallas, were in attendance, deceased being a member of the order.

Aunt Sarah Grant

Mrs. Sarah J. Grant, familiarly known as "Aunt Sarah" Grant, passed away at her home near Kings Valley, Polk county, on Wednesday, January 8, and was buried Friday, the funeral services being held at the home and a brief service at the grave. The attendance was large, many of the pioneers of Polk county being present. The lady was an aunt of Sheriff John Grant, of Dallas, who attended the last rites.

Deceased was born in Kentucky December 2, 1826, moving to Clay county, Missouri, in 1829. She was married in March, 1845; came with her husband to Oregon by ox-team in 1852. Her husband was R. J. Grant, who served two terms in the state legislature, and died in 1891. Five children were born of this union, two of whom are living, Mrs. Mary Bevens of Padua, Polk county, Oregon, and the son, James, who resides on the old homestead near Kings Valley.

$42,000 FOR BOUNTIES

Secretary of State Asks Usual Appropriation for Wild Animal Bounties for 1913-1914.

In his biennial report Secretary of State Olcott recommends an appropriation of $42,000 for the payment of bounties on wild animals during the years 1913-1914. The secretary recommends a comparatively large sum because of a deficiency of $12,000 existing as a result of an insufficient amount having been provided by the legislature of 1911.

The legislature of 1911 appropriated a sum of $50,000 which became exhausted several months ago. One-half of the bounties is paid by the state and one-half by the county in which the animal is killed. In his report the secretary states that he believes an examination of the claims paid by the state under previous laws will show that there is no apparent diminution from year to year in the number of animals killed and for which bounty is claimed and paid. It follows, therefore, the secretary says, that adequate appropriations should be made to meet the payment of all such claims incurred during a biennial period.

Company G. Elects Captain.

By a unanimous vote on Tuesday night of last week Conrad Stafrin was chosen by his company as captain for the ensuing term. The election was attended by nearly the full company, and by Major Smith of Portland, inspector of elections, and Lieutenant Knott of the 25th Infantry, who acted as chairman of the examining board, were present, leaving for their posts on Wednesday. Captain Stafrin will not be able to name his lieutenant until the arrival of his commission.

They make you feel young without making you look old. Free demonstrations. Remember the days and dates. Scores of Dallas references.

For the benefit of the public the following facts should be stated: Dr. Freeze, the Eye Specialist, who comes to Dallas each month is a graduate of Kansas Optical College and McCormick Medical College, Chicago. He is a trained specialist with nine years experience in fitting glasses and his permanent office is at 308 Merchants Trust Building, Portland.

Bert Teats could not withstand the temptation to see the Multnomah-Dallas game of basketball on Saturday, so came down from Sheridan on a "business" mission Friday. He was immediately selected Saturday night by the Multnomah and Dallas basketball teams as referee, and he declared there was considerable of the game he was unable to see. He left yesterday for home with divers sore places caused by the unusual work necessary in correctly negotiating the fouls and misplays between the two teams.

Mrs. Winnie Braden, J. M. Card and J. P. Kliver are today arranging poultry exhibits at the Salem poultry show. Mrs. Braden will exhibit her White Rocks, Mr. Card will show the Brown Leghorns, and Mr. Kliver the Rose Comb White Leghorns. In the recent show at Newberg, Mrs. Braden won grand champion honors with her famous Barred Rock cock, and the medal was sent to her during the week, the bird getting the remarkable score of 92½ points. A cock of this kind commands a market price of $50 or more, and is as proud of his record, apparently, as his owner.

Yamhill Couple Happily Wed. Yesterday a quiet little affair in which Justice Holman acted on behalf of the applicants for matrimonial honors, attracted the attention of guests at the Hotel Gail. The happy ones were Nellie McKinney and Nelly May Ewart, both of Yamhill county. The bride was sweet 16 and the groom had seen some 27 summers to his credit, according to the court records. Mother of the bride gave legal permission for the marriage of her daughter. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for the Yamhill home.

MULTNOMAH EASY PREY

Famous Portland Athletes Fall Before Prowess of Company G Basketball Players in First Contest.

The famous Multnomah team of basketball players, aspirants for championship honors, met defeat on Saturday night at the Armory in a game filled with roughness, the score being in favor of Company G of Dallas, and the tune being set to the pitch of 19 to 22. Eight bruised Portland players paid the penalty for roughness, having a total of 19 fouls called during the game against the boasted state champions.

The home players resorted to their winning style of play, the short, quick movements of the home guards making victory certain. The work of Gates won the plaudits of the large crowd, he having as an opponent one of the fastest players who ever appeared on the home floor. Gates negotiated four difficult baskets from the field. Ballantyne found two and Shaw had two in his favor.

The home team was slated for a game against the Salem Stars at that place Saturday, but the Salem fans cancelled the date today for some unknown reason.

DRESS OF MALTESE WOMEN.

Silk Hooded Cloaks Hide Face and Form From the Curious.

The dress of the Maltese is very singular, and that of the women striking to the extreme. When abroad they are all arrayed in black. They put on over their other dress a robe or loose skirt of that color, brought high on the bosom, and in place of bonnets their heads are covered with a black silk mantle which invests their shoulders and descends halfway behind.

The part which covers the head is furnished with a piece of whalebone inserted in the bend, which keeps it in position and prevents the silk from dropping over the eyes. One hand, placed inside, is always necessary to hold together the sides of the skirt in front, and the other hand is often held under its folds, only a forefinger being suffered to appear through the opening left for the purpose. Of course, under such mufflers little can be seen of the beauties of form or feature if a Maltese nymph happens to possess them. The eyes and a moving, pallid black figure are all that can be distinguished.

But sometimes the fair one deigns to exhibit her face to a curious gazer in place of engrossing herself the privilege of sewing, and features good but unadorned, rather pleasing than handsome and irradiated by a pair of fine, sparkling eyes, are displayed to the beholder. The complexion is a dark olive, purplish a hint of a sort of mahogany stage.

The mantle is obviously borrowed, or rather it has descended from a distant age and people. It answers to the veil of eastern ladies.

Such figures, thousands of whom are abroad on the Sabbath, give the streets a funeral look. It seems as if all Malta had gone into mourning.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Scott's Narrow Escape. The world had a narrow escape of never having known a Sir Walter Scott. When a tiny babe he was left in charge of a maid, but the girl's heart was in Edinburgh, whither she wanted to go to join her lover. She was, however, compelled to stay and look after the infant at Sandy Knowe. The girl regarded her charge as an obstacle to be removed and afterward confessed that she carried young Scott up to the crags under a strong temptation of the devil, as she expressed it, fully intending to cut his throat with her scissors and bury him under the moss.

Classifying Him. "Brother Hardesty, can't you make your contribution for the education of this year?" "Dr. Goodman, I'm more than doubting it. I have just started that youngest boy of mine to college."—Chicago Tribune.
