

GOOD ROADS BILL HOLDS ATTENTION OF SENATE

relating to bills which have contemplated an increase in the expenditure of the funds of the people. As I said before, the members want to be fair with the people and the governor, but they do not propose to be led by the nose even at the behest of Oregon's spectacular executive. Even should they completely sever all relations with the governor's office, I do not believe that the people of the state will suffer, and I say this in all honesty and as one who has on many occasions defended Governor West against the attacks of his defamers merely because his politics happened to be at variance with their own.

"Official Suspender." Senator Hal Patton, of Salem, is the senate's "official suspender." Every morning, promptly following the invocation, Senator Patton is on hand with his: "Mr. President, I move that the reading of the journal be dispensed with." There are never any objections, but one shudders in contemplation of what might happen if the urban Marion county senator should be absent some morning. The lobby is growing perceptibly, and the corridors are filled with the friends of some of the many measures now before both bodies. Hereafter when you see a piece of meat on the butcher's block that looks like mutton, but isn't, you'll find a tag thereon conveying the information that it's "goat." Senator Burgess' bill requiring that all goat meat offered for sale shall be plainly labeled, having passed the senate last week. There was no opposition to it, except from Senator Joseph, who, by the way, is the "official objector," and based his opposition to the bill on the fact that he was the proud possessor of "one goat" and knew the characteristics of the breed. He declared that goat meat was about the most appetizing parcel that he could tackle, much preferable to mutton, in fact, but he thought this "labeling proposition" was a scheme to place goat meat in disrepute. Senator Burgess assured him that this was the only way to protect Joseph and all other lovers of the goat from being imposed on by the butcher and sold mutton instead.

Monmouth Freshmen Entertain. Monmouth, Ore., Jan. 28. (Special)—The Freshmen class of the Monmouth High school gave a very novel and interesting entertainment on Saturday evening in the assembly hall of the high school building. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental solos, dialogues, and a good many novel features consisting of exhibits of the pictures of the largest ocean liners, largest locomotives, and exhibitions of the first telegraph systems up to and including the latest wireless telegraph systems. They also had pieces of armor plate as used on U. S. war vessels, pieces of the different Atlantic cables, a mineral exhibit and many other curiosities. They also gave an interesting lecture on the development of agriculture which was illustrated with stereopticon views. After the program refreshments were served and the rest of the evening was spent in a sociable time and was enjoyed by all present.

Mayor Craven Honored. At the annual meeting of the state hardware dealers, in Portland last week, J. R. Craven was re-elected vice-president of the association. Mr. Craven also won second prize for the best prepared paper read before the meeting, and made a proud record for Dallas by punctuating his paper with the fact that he was from Dallas—and not The Dalles—as every newspaper reporter in Portland would have it.

The Juice of the Loganberry. At Brooks, a few miles north of Salem, there is said to be in successful operation an establishment for bottling loganberry juice—an article that promises to rival the famous grape juice of the East. Might work well in connection with a cannery, hey?

Charles H. Lehman, manager of the Oregon Home Builders' company, of Portland, was in the city today. He was accompanied by George P. Gray, Polk county representative of the company, who will remain in the city for some time.

L. Elliott is in charge of the Polk County Mercantile store during the absence of Manager Clark, who is in Portland. It is learned that Dr. Clark has rented a home on Oak street and will bring his furniture to Dallas soon and make this city his permanent home. Father Boyne, of the Catholic church, was made his home in the same residence, which has been rented by Mr. Clark.

Residents of Dallas were recently interested in an advertisement appearing in a Portland paper, advertising a dental practice for sale in Shanghai, China, and signed by Dr. Donohoe, evidently a former dentist of Dallas, who wandered to the Orient and is willing to leave the land of rice and rats. He announces the living as easy, no dental law, and wants $300 for the practice. Dr. Donohoe did a dental business in offices in the Uglow block, on Main street, for some time.

Baseball Fans Are Active. Mr. Adame, of McMinnville, who is interested in forming a baseball league as mentioned in a recent issue of The Observer, was in Dallas Wednesday and found several willing fans who assured him of hearty support in the formation of a league as proposed by other cities in the vicinity. A committee from Dallas will attend the general meeting to be held at McMinnville on February 5.

Fatal Accident at Salem. Harry Marshall, Fred Geringer, Joe Gash and Louis Houser attended the funeral of Frank Hug at Salem, Saturday.

Mr. Hug was a friend and relative of the gentlemen, and was killed in a peculiar manner at the plant of the woolen mills at that place. In a fall from a step ladder, the gentleman sustained a fracture of the skull, which in a short time resulted in his death. It was thought at first that he had suffered an injury to the spine, but the discovery was made a few hours before his death that the skull had been fractured and the brain suffered an overflow of blood from the bursting of a blood vessel.

Five sheep were killed by a train on the Salem, Falls City & Western yesterday at the outskirts of the city, the animals being the property of William Miller. The train encountered the flock, which had gathered on the tracks in some unaccountable way, with the result stated.

Marmion Lodge, Knights of Pythias, are planning to entertain visiting knights from Falls City, McMinnville, and other points, on Friday night, at the regular session of the lodge, when work in the third rank will be done. The work will be followed by a lunch and smoker.

RUSSIA'S BIGGEST FORGERY.

Gang Turned Out Millions of Counterfeit Notes.

Russia's secret police are busy tracing the producers of millions of counterfeit notes that have been passed into circulation in Russia and on Russian financial houses abroad. It is the biggest and most perplexing forgery case they have ever tackled.

Four of the men concerned in the traffic—a commercial drummer named Dunalersky, a merchant named Semov and two others named Liebenthal and Rochlin—have been captured with skillfully forged notes to the face value of nearly a quarter of a million rubles in their possession. They have been subjected to the Russian variety of the third degree examination, but have revealed nothing leading to the discovery of the forgers factory.

Two men suspected of complicity were traced in vain to France.

His Lesson. "You know I refused you half a dozen times before we were married," said Mr. Meekton's wife.

"Yes," replied her husband. "I suspect that's what has kept me from ever wanting my own way again."—Washington Star.
