Miss Jennie McVicker, of Salem, is visiting friends in the city.

Robert Fisher will soon leave for an extended stay in Wallace, Idaho.
H. R. Fishback, of Monmouth, was a business visitor in this city Monday.

Ed F. Coad was at Salem Friday to attend to some legal matters and visit friends.

Claire and Dewey Alford were here from Salem Sunday, visiting friends.

Miss Jean Byers, of Salem, visited relatives and friends in Dallas over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nichols, of Falls City, were visitors in Dallas Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Starr, of Salem, were in Dallas Sunday, while en route to their home.

—Dallas Wood and Coal Yards, W. L. Barber, proprietor, Office phone 334. Residence phone 663.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood Craven left Sunday for a two-weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Craven in Alhambra, California.

The ladies of the M. E. church are making preparations for a chicken-pie supper that they expect to give March 18.

Dr. Bollman returned last week from Chicago, where he went to take a post-graduate course, and is again at his practice in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Riggs and son came up from Portland Saturday, to visit relatives. Mr. Riggs returned home yesterday, and Mrs. Riggs remained for a longer visit.

S. B. Taylor arrived home last week from a visit to Ann Arbor, Michigan, and other Eastern points. Mrs. Taylor and children are now visiting relatives in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. L. D. Brown came up from Portland for an over-Sunday visit. She left yesterday morning for Baker, to bring her children home. Mrs. Brown has been taking treatment in Portland for several weeks for throat and nose trouble.

Bert Teats was here from Sheridan Saturday "on business." Mr. Teats says it was real business and that the Silverton basketball team happened to come at the same time he did, had nothing to do with the "business."

However, Mr. Teats was on the side lines to cheer his old-time globe-trotters.

Mayor Hubbard, of Falls City, was a Dallas visitor Saturday on business. Mr. Hubbard says that Falls City is bound to take a leap forward this summer. The new mill is being erected to take the place of the one destroyed by fire, and this will make the city again with a good payroll.

Mr. Hubbard said that it was expected that the mill would reopen about the 15th of this month. Other improvements and a general feeling of easiness makes Mr. Hubbard believe that Falls City is going to make big strides this season.

Real Development Work. Real development work is being accomplished by a Bend bank, which is importing blooded livestock and distributing it to farmers, taking their notes in payment. Following the successful introduction of thoroughbred hogs, which has recently stimulated the hog industry, the bank will bring in a number of carloads of fine dairy cows.

You Get More Than The Paper

When you buy your writing paper at my store, you get more than the paper. You get the benefit of my twenty years' experience in the paper business. You get for nothing that which cost me time and money to learn.

When you buy your paper or envelopes at this store, you have the satisfaction of knowing you are getting the best that is made.

There are three names that stand pre-eminent in the paper world. They are Hurd, Blair and Crane. I carry the goods of all three of these renowned paper makers—the Hurd stock in the box stationery, visiting cards and correspondence cards; the Crane stock in the pound paper and correspondence cards, and the Blair line of tablets.

These three lines are "just a little better than the best of the rest," and the prices are within the reach of every pocket-book.

In the fifteen months I have been in the stationery business in Dallas, my paper, envelope and tablet trade has increased over 100 per cent.

There's a reason. J. C. HAYTER Bookseller and Stationer 428 Main Street

FOR DEMONSTRATION FARMS.

Important Conference to Further Objects of New Law. Portland, Or., March 4.—Probably the most important gathering scheduled for this month is a conference of all the various agricultural interests on the subject of how to get the fullest possible benefit from Senate bill 72, providing for the extension of the work of the Agricultural College throughout Oregon.

The State Bankers' association, the Portland Union Stockyards, the Garden Contest association, the Oregon Irrigation congress, the Oregon Central Oregon, and Tri-County Development leagues, the farm press, and railroad officials. It is desired to get the fullest information and the ideas of all on this subject, and learn how to launch the extension plan in the best possible way.

Western Hemlock Valuable. Western hemlock, says the Department of Agriculture, deserves a better opinion and more general use than it now obtains. Intrinsicly it is among the most important of western woods. The wood of western hemlock has generally been considered an inferior one chiefly because of the prejudice created by the name, which has caused it to be identified with eastern hemlock. Tests by the forest service, however, show it to have 88 per cent the strength of Douglas fir, one of the country's chief construction timbers. In fact it is often mixed with Douglas fir and used for the same purposes.

The wood is practically free from pitch, has a handsome grain, takes paint and stain well, and works smoothly. It is suitable for sash and door stock, furniture, interior finish, framing, flooring, boxes, barrels, and pulp. In bridges and trestles it can be used for all but the heaviest construction. When properly treated with preservatives, it is a valuable cross tie and pole wood.

According to forest service bulletin 115, the best stands of western hemlock are found in the coast region and through the Cascade mountains. The bulletin further gives the results of tests by which the mechanical properties of western hemlock have been determined, and tells of the different uses to which the wood is adapted.

To Reduce Living Cost.

Portland is planning three apple days the last of this week, when growers and consumers are expected to establish closer relations than ever before. This is the first step in a determined movement to reduce the living cost, and grocers of the city have promised their assistance in distributing the fruit to consumers with a minimum of cost to the latter.

AUTO SHOW PROMISED

Portland Dealers Promise First Event of Kind March 17-22; to Make Event Annual Feature is Plan.

Portland, March 4.—(Special)—Not wishing to be outdone by other Northwestern cities, Portland's progressive automobile dealers will stage a motor show during the week of March 17-22. While it will not be the most elaborate or pretentious display of gasoline chariots ever held, it will give the public and sub-dealers an opportunity to compare the cars side by side. This is the chance many have been waiting patiently for. It is certain that the show will attract thousands of prospective buyers and scores of country dealers and those who are looking for the right kind of a machine to engage in the business. Upwards of 35 makes of pleasure cars and 15 brands of commercial vehicles will be on dress parade.

That the show comes at an opportune time for the country dealers is self-evident. Few have closed for the 1913 season. They will not do this until road conditions are good, and this date is yet several weeks distant. Coming in the latter part of March, the combined exhibit gives the smaller agents the chance to look over the cream of the field before making any decision.

Realizing that the show will help the "little fellow," several of the larger dealers raised an awful howl when the show subject was broached. However, the public-spirited men carried the idea through. The largest automobile houses in the city will exhibit.

Men representing three of the biggest motor car distributing firms in the Northwest are handling the details of the show for the dealers. The committee is composed of E. E. Gerlinger, head of the Gerlinger Motor car company; Captain W. H. Gray, of the Northwest Auto company, and Robert Atkinson, sales manager of J. W. Leavitt & Co.

The dealers propose to make the show an annual affair. It will be established as one of Portland's yearly attractions.

DALLAS GIRL GOOD AT ROWING Mildred Clemens Wins Honors in California Rowing Race.

According to a report received through the daily press on Sunday, Miss Mildred Clemens, now of Portland, but former Dallas resident and student at Dallas College, gets very favorable mention for her skill with the oars. The Oregonian says of her success: "Miss Mildred Clemens, a Portland girl and a graduate of Lincoln High School in the class of '09, is gaining laurels in California as an expert in rowing. On Washington's birthday she was stroke of the winning sophomore crew of the University of California, who gained a victory over all contestants in the races on Lake Merritt, in Oakland, where the annual event was held. Miss Clemens has many friends here who she learned to row when she was a high school girl, acquiring her skill on the Willamette river. She is a member of the Portland Club at the University of California, a member of the finance committee of the Associated Women Students. She is also prominent in the Women's Parliamentary Club, and is actively interested in athletics."

BORN.

FORD—To Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Ford, on Wednesday, February 26, a daughter.

The child was born prematurely, and is being kept alive in an improvised incubator. Dr. McCallon believes that the infant may live and reach its maturity, although the utmost care will be necessary to bring this about.

BARHAM—Thursday, February 27, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barham, a son.

"Roller, Good Machine." Hon. Verd Hill, of Independence, was in the city Saturday attending to business matters and shaking hands with friends. Verd, who is nothing if not a Democrat, said that he had not intended to "go back" when the legislature assembled in veto session today, but the action of the governor in putting the kibosh on his "hop fare" bill caused him to change his mind, and he proposes to return to the capitol and if possible secure the services of Pat's steam roller in his own behalf. As a "fattener" Verd says that the roller is sure some are intimate parts of the very business of justice and legal efficiency.

These are some of the things we ought to do and not leave the others undone, the old fashioned, never to be neglected, fundamental safeguarding of property and of individual right. This is the high enterprise of the new day: To lift everything that concerns our life as a nation to the light that shines from the hearth fire of every man's conscience and vision of the right. It is inconceivable we should do this as partisans; it is inconceivable we should do it in ignorance of the facts as they are or in blind haste. We shall restore, not destroy. We shall deal with our economic system as it is and as it may be modified, not as it might be if we had a clean sheet of paper to write upon, and step by step we shall make it what it should be, in the spirit of those who question their own wisdom and seek counsel and knowledge, not shallow self-satisfaction or the excitement of excursion-ism which they cannot tell. Justice, and whither they cannot tell. Justice, and whither they cannot tell. Justice, and whither they cannot tell.

Doctors Use This for Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says: "There is almost no relation between skin disease and the blood." The skin must be cured through the skin. The germs must be washed out, and no salves have long ago been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and all other skin diseases, such as eczema, thymol and other ingredients for eczema, are now known as D.D.D. Prescription for eczema. Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist writes: "I am convinced that the D.D.D. Prescription is as much a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria. We have been prescribing the D.D.D. remedy for years." We, ourselves vouch for the D.D.D. CONRAD STAFRIN
