HAVE you ever asked yourself what more you could want in an Automobile than the Studebaker "25" gives you?

Run over in your mind the requisites of a fine car—business for any trip, mechanical efficiency, easy riding qualities, power, speed, convenience, economy—and notice how perfectly the Studebaker "25" fulfills your mental picture. Yet $970 buys this car, complete from silk mohair top to extra rim. To find the superior of the "25" in design and performance you must go far up the price scale. Few cars at any price possess the responsiveness of the long stroke "25" motor, and none is more easily controlled. If you are seeking a car of moderate size, in which every detail satisfies the most exacting, in which weight is replaced by lightness, and where maintenance costs are low,—if you have an idea that $1000 would about purchase such a car, we would say to you "Less than that" and strongly urge you to look over the Studebaker "25".
