Pauline Nesmith came up from Portland and spent a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hill were in Salem last week.

The band concert here Saturday night was better than was expected. The boys did credit to themselves and their instructor. John Orr has surely done some fine work in getting the boys so well along in such a short time. They made a neat little sum from the sale of baskets and they had a full house.

John Koser came up Saturday returning Sunday.

OSTEOPATHY.

Some Groundless Objections. In some communities there is much misinformation extant concerning osteopathy. This is circulated by interested parties, or is repeated by those who are misinformed.

Some people have the idea that the treatment is so expensive as to make it prohibitive to those of moderate means. Others seem to believe it is so severe that invalids cannot "stand the treatment."

These erroneous notions have prevented many who need the treatment, and who would be benefitted by it from having it. On all these matters the best way is to get information at first hand, from reputable physicians of the system. If this is done, it will be found that, all things considered, osteopathy is the most economical treatment known; that it is adapted to the condition of the patient; is as applicable to babes and the weakest invalids as to the more robust; and that there is nothing about it to which the most refined and sensitive could offer the slightest objection. Market Day.

Sheridan's first market day held on Saturday proved a successful one and was attended by many country people from a distance. All the property sold brought satisfactory prices and demonstrated the usefulness of such a market. The next one will be held on Saturday, April 20th, and stock is already being listed for this sale. "Dolarway" in Forest Grove.

Forest Grove, already probably one of the best paved of the smaller cities of Oregon, will put in several blocks of the Dolarway pavement during the coming season, a recent contract having been let for $125 per yard, including the grading, using five inches of gravel concrete for base.

More Hardsurfacing.

The city council of Willamina, at its last meeting took active steps to put down more hard surface street improvement in that city during the coming year. They have already tried the plan in the thriving Yamhill city and the people appear to like it.

Now S. P. Property?

It was quite generally talked that the Southern Pacific had taken over the Independence & Monmouth railway, but we were unable to have the rumor substantiated. Enterprise.

McMinnville Masons to Build.

The masons of McMinnville are planning the erection of a $35,000 home in that city. It will be erected on the site of the present two-story brick structure.
