NO REASON FOR IT

You Are Shown a Way Out.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the word of a resident of this locality who has found relief. The following is convincing proof:

F. A. Sutton, Hoyt and West Sts., Salem, Oregon, says: "For ten or twelve years kidney trouble was the plague of my life. I suffered intensely from pain in the small of my back and was often unable to move. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but to no avail, and I was in a bad way when I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They benefited me at once and after I had taken the contents of three boxes, I was free from every symptom of kidney complaint. My health is now of the best and for that reason I cannot recommend Doan's Kidney Pills too highly." (Statement given January 31, 1906.)

Re-Endorsement. Recently Mr. Sutton said: "I willingly confirm all that I have previously said in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy cured me three years ago and I have had no return attack of kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

CHILD SHOTS BABY SISTER

Near Tragedy Enacted by Juveniles at Independence Ranch.

Independence, Or., May 20.—(Special)—What threatened to be a pathetic tragedy occurred three miles south of here when a five year old boy, the son of P. O. Burbank, pulled a gun to his shoulder, shouted at his sister, three years old. "Look out, I'm going to shoot you so you can't walk," pulled the trigger and fired. The bullet went through the little girl's leg near the knee, but failed to touch the bone.

The boy had been sent by his father to get the gun. He had been working the ejector not knowing that it would load the gun.

CANCER OF THE BREAST

Its Different Forms and Progress; its new Treatment by

Bloodless Operation

as used by

the Chicago Specialist now in

to introduce his Electric Methods.

Cancer of the breast is usually divided into two forms, the hard or scirrhus cancer and the soft or medullary cancer. In addition to these there is the eating form called Paget's disease of the nipple. The scirrhus cancer nearly always starts near the nipple in the milk ducts, as a little lump, often on the site of a former milk cake, or an abscess. It grows slowly but steadfast. Soon it implicates the skin of the breast and an ill smelling ulcer forms. Later the cancer germs and cells will migrate into the lymphatic glands in the armpit and in the lower part of the neck. And from there the cells and germs will attack internal organs like the liver and others. This of course means death.

The medullary cancer may form in any part of the breast and grows far quicker to large size and also attacks quicker the lymphatic glands in the armpit, and from there quicker the internal organs.

The nipple cancer begins as a small ulceration on the nipple and often is mistaken for eczema. It creeps along the milk ducts into the breast and forms a swelling there. It will also go eating along the skin as an ulceration often forming nodules in the skin that reach clear around the chest and which later on form open sores. Finally, but far later, the lymphatic glands are attacked as in the other two forms, and then the progress is the same.

Aside of these "true" cancers there is a malignant growth found in the breast called "sarcoma." This is usually found in younger persons, grows very fast and often to enormous size, the breast looking like a lump of polished blue steel. It does not affect the lymphatic glands, but its cells go by means of the bloodstream to the lungs and form new growths there causing death by suffocation.

A benign tumor of the breast called adenoma will often turn into cancer and consequently had best be removed before it becomes cancerous. The usual way most physicians and surgeons treat cancer of the breast is either to cut it out with the knife or to eat it out with plasters or salves. In many cases too the patients themselves neglect a small lump in the breast even if it has the shooting cancerous pain. They put on all kinds of liniments and by rubbing this in only irritate the cancer so that it grows quicker. Often even when large ulcerations exist no physician is called in but all kinds of patent ointments are used.

When a cancer is daily irritated by plasters to eat it out the cells and germs multiply very fast and finally begin to migrate to the lymphatic glands. In fact the cancer often grows more in the deeper parts than the eating plaster removes from the surface of the ulceration. A lump of course comes out, but in the meantime the deeper parts have become infected and after superficial healing the cancer returns.

In addition to this the infected lymph glands finally allow cancer germs and cells to migrate into the internal organs and cause death. In other cases they also form large ulcerations.

In operations with the knife the fresh cut surfaces are frequently insulated during the operation with the cancer germs and cells as all the blood vessels and lymphatic spaces

CRIDER'S GENERAL STORE DALLAS, OREGON

May 21.

He has been engaged for cases that take him four weeks yet to treat; so he will surely be in Dallas for another month yet. But as patients can never tell before an examination by him how long they have to be treated or how long after an operation they will have to be under his care, they ought to come without delay or they will risk that he refuses to operate upon them or treat them, for it does not pay him to stay for a single solitary case in Dallas after he has finished all his other work here.
