The way to build up Dallas is to patronize Dallas people.

OUR PECULIAR LAWS.

It must be expected that people will find something wrong with the laws, or rather the practice which the law permits, when we see the liberty and privileges which Johnson, the negro pugilist enjoys.

There must be something wrong, somewhere, when it is possible for a convicted criminal, under sentence, to thus disport himself, and that something isn't a credit to the laws of this great and enlightened country.

MAKE IT PERMANENT.

From all reports the Polk County Chautauqua which opens in this city on July 4, for a session of six days, will present one of the best programs of the kind ever attempted at any previous assembly.

here, does not expect to pay dividends on its investment. But the plan enables the people of the different communities to see and hear some of the best lecturers and attractions in the country at the minimum cost.

The chautauqua is a new feature of outdoor entertainment in Polk county, let us hope that it will be made permanent.

Business men who insist that "advertising doesn't pay" must look upon a concern that spends $50,000 in one year alone in advertising in newspapers, as managed by a company of fools.

Since it has been announced that Senator Chamberlain would again be a candidate for United States senator, and that, in trade for the support of Senator Lane and his friends, the senior senator from Oregon has agreed to turn over all his patronage to Lane, many who have been after federal appointments and depending on Chamberlain to land the jobs, are wondering where they are at.

The Medford Mail-Tribune is having a hard time of it in trying to accuse McNab of "playing politics" and, at the same time, condemning Attorney General McReynolds.

The hustling little city of Amity is catching the spirit of progress that is animating several Willamette valley communities—a petition has been presented to the city council asking for the paving of several blocks on the principal street in the business district.

While it is probably true that many who voted for Wilson in November are losing confidence in him as a "business" president, it is probable that the fellows who are after the jobs are still standing pat.

At last the news is out—Senator Chamberlain is to be a candidate to succeed himself. If he succeeds, however, in landing that federal appointment how about it?

There is no further excuse for going without buttons on your trousers (or pantaloons as the case may be) for thread has been placed on the free list.

Country editors may take courage and gather hope—the tariff has been removed from diamonds.

DOUBLY PROVEN.

Observer Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This grateful citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit. Mrs. Lydia Pearson, D St., McMinnville, Ore., says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I consider them an excellent remedy. I suffered a great deal from kidney trouble and acute pains in the small of my back. I was also subject to headaches and felt tired nearly all the time. I tried a number of preparations but was not relieved until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. In a short time there was an improvement and I continued taking this remedy until I was free from kidney disease." (Statement given August, 1907.)

Some Two Years Later. Mrs. Pearson confirmed her former statement saying: "The testimonial I gave publicly recommending Doan's Kidney Pills in 1907 was correct. This remedy helped me a great deal and I am glad to say so."

SEVEN YEARS OF STUDY.

Benjamin Chapin.

Seven years out of a man's life seems a long time to give to the preparation of any one task, and in these days when bluff so often takes the place of careful preparation, it is decidedly unusual to give so much time to the study and preparation of character impersonation.

The Absurdity of Alluding to Osteopathy as Massage.

Osteopathy is a complete and independent system of healing. Its practitioners, before being licensed by the State are required to be graduates of an osteopathic college after an attendance of three years of not less than nine months each.

In osteopathy the mechanical idea is uppermost. The self-sufficiency of the organism when in proper adjustment and environment and when supplied with proper food and drink, is insisted upon. It will thus be seen that an exhaustive knowledge of the human body, regarded from the mechanical standpoint, is a vitally necessary part of an osteopathic physician's equipment.

In the light of these facts how puerile become the slurs of those interested persons who seek to discredit osteopathy by alluding to it as massage! The osteopathic physician is an engineer of the human body and stands about in the same relation to the masseur as a locomotive engineer does to an engine wiper.
