Save Damaged Crops.
Attention has recently been called by the Oregon Agricultural college, to the fact that many farmers who are so unfortunate as to have hay injured or spoiled by rain or making in the mistake of either burning it in the field or allowing it to rot in piles. It is stated that spoiled clover or alfalfa hay is worth $8.50 to $10.00 per ton as fertilizer if evenly spread over the fields and plowed under, and that every ton of hay so worked into the soil is approximately worth four tons of fresh manure. A ton of clover hay contains 40 pounds of nitrogen, five pounds of phosphorus and 30 pounds of potash, which, if purchased in the open market would cost the farmer about $10.50, and as clover and vetch is yielding about two and one-half tons per acre this season, the plowing under of the spoiled hay adds a fertilizer value of not less than $25 to each acre.

World Help Farmers.
The fact that onions from Texas, potatoes from California and eggs and poultry from points outside of Oregon are being received in Portland in carload lots while the farmers in the immediate vicinity of the city, as well as those tributary to the railroads leading to this market, cannot find a market for their produce at any price has led the Portland Realty board to actively take up the question of establishing public markets where gardeners and farmers may dispose of their products direct to the consumer with great benefit to both. It is stated that the fact that farmers cannot sell their own crops in Portland without a license, and the further fact that the commission men will not buy from him except at their own prices, is causing many farmers to allow fruits and vegetables to go to waste rather than dispose of them at a loss.

Dairy Business Pays.
That the dairy business in the coast counties has been established on a paying basis is evidenced by the fact that the Clatsop County Co-operative Cheese association has recently been raising 7c more per pound for butter fat than the market price. The average amount of milk now being received is nearly 6,000 pounds per day with a prospect of greatly increased supplies in the near future. An ice manufacturing plant will be installed before the advent of hot weather next season.

TWENTY YEARS AGO IN DALLAS

Taken From the Files of The Observer, Dated Thursday, July 20, 1893.

J. J. Higgins had been appointed by President Cleveland as postmaster at Mounmouth.
It was announced that the narrow gauge railroad from Portland would be changed to broad gauge from the first of the following August. The broad gauge rails had already been laid as far as Dundee and the company was arranging the track in such shape that the entire line from Dundee to Airle could be made standard gauge in one day—Sunday, July 30.
Dallas barbers advertised to "shave on week days for 15 cents."
Walter Williams left for Tacoma where he expected to reside in the future.
Mr. Romeo filed on a homestead before the county clerk.
Wees Craven, Gen. Grant, and Fred Toner returned from a hunting trip to Mt. Hebo and reported fair success.
John J. Daly was circulating a petition to the city council permitting horses and dogs to run at large in the streets. He said it was unfair to discriminate in favor of the cow.
At a meeting of the city council the street commissioner was authorized to purchase gravel for the use on the streets at three cents a load.
The first annual meeting of the directors of the Dallas City bank resulted in the re-election of the old officers as follows: M. M. Ellis, president; William M. Savage, vice-president; C. G. Coad, cashier.
Little Homer Kirkpatrick was injured while crossing the race on Oak street, his foot slipped through a hole in the bridge and his leg was badly bruised.
The little six-year old daughter of Jack Lowens, living north of Dallas, was severely scalded by pulling a coffee pot full of hot water over on her.

Doe and Pink Patterson, Ben Wing and Claire Irvine rode over from Independence on their wheels Saturday.
The new flour mill of McDaniel & White at Rieckreall planned to start up the following week. It was described as a modern institution.
It was reported that the "wife of a well-known farmer living north of town had walked into town arriving at 4 o'clock and had complained to Sheriff Wells that her husband had attempted to cut her throat." The prediction was made that an amicable settlement might be arranged.
It was reported that a large cougar had been seen on the campground adjoining town by several parties this week and efforts to capture it have proven fruitless. It was recalled that John Grant had killed one at the same place a few years before.
Announcement was made of the sale by Z. F. Vaughn of his jewelry business to C. H. Morris of Mounmouth, who was to take possession the following Monday.
V. P. Fiske was attending the grand lodge A. O. U. W. in session at Portland, as delegate from Union lodge No. 35, of Dallas.
The new comet was visible to the naked eye and readers of The Observer were given minute instruction as to how to find it.
C. L. Howe came up from Portland on his wheel, making the run in nine hours. He went back on the train.
Boost Farm Development.
That the policy of the Portland Commercial club to continue the campaign of a farm development throughout the state is in high favor with the business interests of the city is evidenced by the fact that the president campaign has met with more prompt and favorable support among property owners of Portland than any movement of like nature that has been conducted in the past. A few weeks ago the Commercial club set out to raise a fund of $150,000 to be expended in development work throughout Oregon during the next three years and so successful has been the effort that at the present time the fund is well above the $100,000 mark and it is believed by those having the campaign in charge that the full sum will be pledged within the next month. In the list of those who have given definite sums are 160 firms and individuals representing virtually every branch of business activity in the city.

CATTLE MARKET STRONG

Keen Demand for Choice Butcher Stock is Shown; Hog Market Steady and Higher.

Union Stock Yards, Portland, July 21.—Receipts for the week have been: Cattle 1304; calves 133; hogs 2256; sheep 6372.

Cattle market last week steady to strong. Improved beef outlet had bullish effect on prices. Prime steer top $8.00 to $8.25 with bulk of steer sales at $7.75 and $8.10. Eastern Oregon steers at $8.60 and cows $7.75 featured. There has been a keen demand for choice butcher cattle especially cows and heifers. Sales were made in small quantities as the supply was comparatively short. Best cows $7.75 to $7.25, heifers $7.25 to $7.50, choice bulls $5.50 to $6.00 and choice light calves at $9.00.

The hog market was steady to higher. One load of extra fine hogs sold at $9.40 Friday morning, bulk of light swine sales $9.15 to $9.30. Sound packers have been liberal buyers on the market and the light run was quickly absorbed. Swine prices are apparently on a heavy basis at least for the present.

Sheep house business has been slow all week. Demand for both mutton and lambs has been light and the trade has shown no sign of improvement whatever over previous week's market. A liberal top is 6c as some very good stock sold at that price. Prime killing ewes at $4.00, wethers at $4.25 and yearlings at $4.50 are extreme quotations in the mutton division.

Is Elected School Principal.
F. S. Crowley, formerly of Independence has been elected principal of the Rieckreall schools for the coming term.
