Taken From the Files of The Observer, Dated AUGUST 30, 1893

The grain yield in Polk county was reported to be about 28 bushels to the acre. The crop was not quite up to the standard but the yield would have been encouraging to the farmers had there been any hope in realizing a fair price.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bureh returned from the Foley Springs Saturday and report a large crowd at the Springs and feeling fine.

Hon. C. N. McArthur was up from Portland looking after his crop this week and will ship his oats as soon as he can get cars.

THE PEDEE STORE PEDEE, OREGON

We try to give 100 cents value for a dollar. Do mail order houses always do that? Do they or the 'home' store 'hold you over' when cash is short between seasons? We can get things we don't have in a much shorter time than you can send away and get them from a mail order house. We appreciate your trade too.

HOMESTEADS

If you want a good 320 acre homestead you should write me at once. I spent several hundred dollars and almost a year's time investigating the different homestead districts of the Northwest.

This valley is thickly settled, prosperous, has schools, the advantages of a small town, daily passenger and freight automobile service connecting with railroads. We will soon have a railroad. Plenty of water and wood, good even climate, grow almost any crop. Write me now, enclosing stamp, and I will tell you all about these claims.

Hens That Swim. School Inspector (to the infant class)—Can a hen swim?

"Yes," says Maggie, with a significant nod of the head. "What! Do you say a hen can swim?"

"Yes," with repeated nod. The infant mistress is appealed to regarding the instruction imparted to the class.

"Maggie," says the infant mistress, "surely you are not thinking. Do you say a hen can swim?"

Head master enters the room. Inspector calls his attention to Maggie's repeated answer.

Head Master (to Maggie)—Do you mean to say a hen can swim? "Yes," says Maggie.

"Did you ever see a hen swim?" "Yes; a water hen." Inspector confesses he has still something to learn.—London Answers.
