Patronize A Home Industry And Trade At

THE PEDEE STORE

PEDEE, OREGON

We try to give 100 cents value for a dollar. Do mail order houses always do that? Do they or the "home" store "hold you over" when cash is short between seasons? We can get things we don't have in a much shorter time than you can send away and get them from a mail order house. We appreciate your trade too.

Summons.
In the circuit court of the state of Oregon, for the county of Polk. No. 4287.

Cyrus Powell and Amanda Powell, his wife, plaintiffs, vs. Catherine E. Martin, Werner DeLashmunt, John C. DeLashmunt, Albert D. DeLashmunt, LeRoy DeLashmunt, Earl DeLashmunt, Victor C. DeLashmunt, Mildred Z. DeLashmunt, Sarah Agnes Stout, Mary E. Baker, Henry Lee Fletcher, Faye Uglow, Viola Volheim, Martha Elizabeth Perry, John C. Uglow, trustee and executor of the estate of John S. Martin, deceased, Dan P. Stouffer, trustee and executor of the estate of John S. Martin, deceased, Matilda Travis, also all other persons or parties unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien or other interest in the real estate described in the complaint herein, defendants.

also all other persons or parties unknown claiming any right, title, estate, lien, or other interest in the real estate described in the complaint herein, defendants.

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON You and each of you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the 3rd day of November, A. D. 1913. And if you fail to appear and answer for want thereof the plaintiffs will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint, to-wit: For a judgment and decree by which it shall be declared and adjudged that each of said defendants, either or any of them have no estate or interest whatever in or to the following described land or premises, or any part thereof, to-wit: A part of the Donation Land Claim of John A. Kramer and Mary Jane Kramer, his wife, Notification No. 5279, Claim No. 49, in Township 8 South, Range 6 West of the Williamette Meridian, in the County of Polk, and State of Oregon, described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a point which is 29.45 chains west from the Northeast corner of said Donation Land Claim; thence South 19.20 chains; thence West 8.04 chains; thence North 1 degree, 33 minutes West 19.20 chains to the North line of said claim; thence East 7.57 chains to the place of beginning and containing 14.98 acres, more or less.

And that the title of plaintiffs is good and valid, and that said defendants be forever enjoined and debarred from asserting any claim whatever in or to said land or premises adverse to these plaintiffs, and for such other and further relief as to this Honorable Court shall seem meet and agreeable to equity.

This summons is published pursuant to an order made by the Honorable J. B. Teal, County Judge of Polk County, in the absence of Webster Holmes, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Polk on the 4th day of September, A. D. 1913. The date of the first publication of this summons being the 9th day of September, A. D. 1913, and the date of the last publication being the 21st day of October, A. D. 1913.

Fire Engine Burns Up Fighting Blaze; Boiler In Freak Flight

IT is seldom that a fire spreads so rapidly that it burns up a fire engine that is fighting the blaze. That's what happened recently at a big conflagration in Jersey City, N. J., when four blocks were wiped out. The flames spread so rapidly that firemen were forced to abandon one of the engines before they were able to detach it from the hydrant and hook up the hoses. What the engine looked like after the fire had died out is seen in one of these pictures. The other view shows an immense boiler which blew up at the same fire. It went through the roof of the building where it was located and up many feet. It came down with such force that it bounded up again almost as high as the building. The queer thing about it was that nobody was hurt.

CATARRH SUFFERERS

Get Immediate and Effective Relief By Using Hyomei.

Hyomei is nature's true remedy for catarrh. There is no stomach dosing—you breathe it. When using this treatment, you breathe healing balsams and effectively reach the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, the catarrhal germs are destroyed—quick and sure relief results.

Hyomei often restores health to chronic cases that had given up all hope of recovery. Its best action is at the start of the disease when the breath is becoming offensive, and constant sniffing, discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat, or that choked up feeling begin to make life a burden. At the first symptom of catarrh trouble, surely use Hyomei. Ask Conrad Stafrin for the complete outfit, $1.00. He will refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART.

It is Usually Caused by Nervous or Digestive Troubles.

Palpitation is rarely if ever due to any disease or weakness of the heart. It is almost invariably the result of nervous or digestive trouble. The beat of the heart arises within itself. There are nerves in the muscles of the heart, and they regulate its beating, although the speed or rate of the beating is not of their choosing. If they were not held in check they would set a rate about double that which is actually maintained.

The heart is supplied from the brain with two pairs of regulating nerves. One pair, the cardio motor nerves, act only to spur up the heart to quicker action. They are usually inactive, waiting the occasion for applying the spur. The other pair, the cardio inhibitory nerves, are always in action. It has been said that the heart runs in a pair of tightly held reins, and the simile is true, for these nerves check the speed.

Fear, worry, disorder of the stomach or nervous system causes these cardio inhibitory nerves to relax; then the heart begins to race. There is nothing the matter with the heart itself, and no one need be alarmed about that organ just because it beats too rapidly. Its palpitation is due to a psychological or a physical cause, something that has caused the relaxation of the reins and allowed the cardio motor nerves to apply the spur.—New York World.

CHATTY WELSHMEN.

Most Talkative, It is Said, of All the British Islanders.

Is the Welshman the most garrulous man in the British Isles? The result of an impartial test by a London newspaper has shown that for actual talkativeness the typical Welshman heads the list; next in order come Irishmen, then Scots, and last of all the Englishman.

Unobtrusively made in a number of well known London restaurants, clubs and public places, the tests invariably gave the same results. By means of a test watch the following table was compiled:

Welshmen—Very talkative, animated in manner and speaking at an average rate of 200 words a minute.

Irishmen—Also very talkative, but less animated in manner; average rate of speech, 160 words.

Scotchmen—Far less talkative and deliberate in manner; spoke at an average rate of 120 words.

Englishmen—Almost silent, rarely the first to speak; dogmatic and deliberate in manner, speaking 100 to 120 words a minute.

The comparative silence of the men, in striking contrast to the vivacious chatter of the women folk, was as usual noticeable. A curious detail was that dark men were always the bigger talkers.

Labadists of Holland. There is a sect in Holland known as the Labadists, among whose members the use of mirrors is strictly prohibited. Their founder, Jean de Labadie, a seventeenth century Calvinist minister, attracted many followers, but after his death they dwindled down, and now they are found only in a few remote villages of Friesland. Traveling in Holland in 1893, Lecky lit upon a colony of Labadists. "Intermarrying mainly among themselves," he writes, "they have quite a distinct type—a singularly beautiful one, with their delicate lips and a curious air of refinement. They are fishermen—very prosperous—and their houses, with their china and silver ornaments and prints of the houses of Orange and great Bibles with silver clasps and perfectly preternatural neatness, are very interesting to see."—London Chronicle.

Tale of a Lost Will.
A lost will found in a ceiling at Chatsworth reminds us of the curious case of Lord Hailles' will. He was a Scotch judge, and when he died in 1792, as no testamentary paper could be discovered, the heir-at-law was about to take possession of the estates to the exclusion of his daughter and only child. She sent some of her servants to look up the family mansion, which she had to give up, and from some window shutters there dropped out upon the floor from behind a panel the missing will, which secured her all the family estates and property. Why do people take the trouble to make, sign wills properly attested and then conceal them? Can they enjoy a posthumous joke?—London Spectator.

Tidy to the Last.
In "Glimpses of the Past" Miss Elizabeth Wordsworth tells this story: One stormy day a fishing smack was wrecked and fast sinking. When the skipper came on deck he found the mate busy swabbing.

"What's the use of that, Jack? Don't you see she's sinking?"
"Yes, master, I know it; but, for all that, I'd like the old gal to go down clean and tidy."

The Manifestation.
"Papa," said the young girl sweetly, "I feel it in my bones that you are going to buy me a new hat."

"Ah, do you?" chuckled papa. "In which bone do you feel it?"
"Well, I'm not sure, but I think it's in my wishbone."

In a Way.
"Are you acquainted with Mrs. Hilly, your fashionable neighbor?"

"Only in a roundabout way. Her cat boards at my house."—Kansas City Journal.

Alike, but Different.
Mrs. Nubridge—My dear Jack is so handsome; he resembles a Greek god.

Mrs. Longwood—So does my husband—Bacchus.—Boston Transcript.

He scolds best that can hurt the least.—Danish Proverb.
