POLYPUS AND GOITRE

by means of

Electricity

as used by

DR. TOEL

The Chicago Specialist Now in

to introduce his methods.

Polypus is a growth having a stem. It may grow in the nose, in the throat, from the womb or inside of it, or in the rectum. In fact it may grow in any cavity of the body having an external outlet. When growing in the nose it interferes with breathing, often closing up one or both nostrils entirely. Dr. Toel has removed as many as 14 polypi from a single nostril. In many cases these polypi grow from a cleft in a diseased, carious, tuberculous bone in the nasal cavity.

The usual process is to cut them out with scissors, or catch them in a forceps and tear out polypus and bone at the same time, or to snare them off with a steel wire. The cutting and tearing operations are extremely bloody and have all the dangers of such operations, as possible blood poisoning, pain and a return of the growth. The steel wire snare operation is bloodless if very slowly performed, often taking from 1 to 2 hours, but the parts are crushed and the danger of blood poisoning is there.

Aside of this, the operation causes much pain in its long duration.

Polypi of the throat, womb and rectum are removed by the same means having the same dangers and drawbacks as those for polypi of the nose.

The electrical operation as used by Dr. Toel is free of any loss of blood, there is none or very little pain as all the blood vessels and lymphatic vessels are sealed up during the operation. There is no danger of blood poisoning and as the root from which the polypus grows is destroyed there is little danger of a return, and finally the operation can be performed in a few minutes while chloroform or ether are only necessary in the most severe cases.

Goitre is an enlargement of the thyroid gland lying in front of the wind pipe. This growth is far more frequent in women than in men. It also is far more frequent in certain regions of the country than in others. It is very frequent in Western Oregon.

Its size often becomes very large causing great trouble to the bearer. But its danger lies in its pressure on the windpipe which softens the cartilage rings and finally compresses them so that the patient dies from suffocation. Especially dangerous is that form which extends below the breast bone when a slight congestion will often enlarge the goitre to such an extent that the patient dies before a surgeon can be called to open the windpipe and insert a silver tube to breathe through.

Treatment of goitre by medicines taken into the stomach as well as by salves applied locally has very little effect.

Removing the goitre with the knife is one of the bloodiest operations known to surgery, and if the entire goitre is removed causes a peculiar form of disease which in a few years often kills the patient.

The electrical treatment of goitre as used by Dr. Toel is free from these dangers. There is no loss of blood, no danger from surgical shock or blood poisoning, no pain to amount to anything, and then only in very severe cases, and above all the patient is not exposed to the danger of the peculiar disease depending upon knife removal of the entire goitre.

The electrical operations and treatments shrink and absorb the goitre so that the pressure symptoms disappear and the neck returns to near or entirely its former size.

Dr. Toel has for 30 years made a specialty of electrical operations and treatments.

Read the Observer of April 7th, 10th, 14th, 17th, 20th, 24th, and 28th about bloodless electrical operations for cancers and tumors, electrical treatment of kidney diseases, piles, fistula, diseases of women, skin diseases and electrical operations performed by Dr. Toel in Dallas.

I am a candidate for the republican nomination for circuit judge of the counties of Polk, Tillamook and Yamhill. I was admitted to the bar in 1874 and the most of the time since, have been engaged in active practice. I quit for a time on account of my health, but was a student of the law even then. I have never practiced on technicalities and do not believe in them.

JOHNS For REPUBLICAN Governor

Give this Job to a man who will reduce Taxes and cut down expenses

If you had an interest in a private business you would want it conducted on business principles. You have an interest in the affairs of this State. The State of Oregon is a business institution run for the benefit of the people in it who, in a certain sense, are stockholders in its business interests.

TAXES MUST BE REDUCED!

In the coming primary election, Charles A. Johns, of Portland, will ask the vote of every person who believes the State of Oregon needs to have taxes reduced and expenses cut down. The only way to reduce taxes and cut down expenses is to apply the same principles in running the State that you would apply in running your own business.

How many institutions would run along with an increase of operating expenses from year to year? Not many. Well, let's reduce our taxes and cut down our expenses. Charles A. Johns, of Portland, is running on that platform and stands on his platform. Get him on the job! Start thinking about this today!

Will you elect a man who will cut down expenses and reduce taxes, or a politician, as our next Governor? The issue is clear. One will cut down taxes—the other will give jobs to his political friends. Which do you want? Paid Advertisement.
