

MUCH WORK DONE

 ing able to do that we have kept up the monthly payments, with interest, making the $50 payment in January, as called for by the contract, and by the success of the banquet have sufficient funds on hand to keep up the payments through the summer until dues are coming in again.

"In taking up the leadership of the club a year ago I did so with great misgivings as to my ability to accomplish the necessary work of the organization, and I now feel that I have fallen short of the possibilities of the position and can only say that I have performed the duties of the office to the best of my ability. I wish to thank you for your kind and loyal support, which has enabled us to accomplish as much as we have. Together we have built a bridge over which the club will pass to bigger things.

"In severing my connection with the club as an officer, I wish to say that I will always have pleasant memories of our work together, and that I hope for the greatest success and prosperity of the organization in the future."

Young Women's Section.

The Young Women's section is composed of forty-two members. It is primarily a social organization. On the second Tuesday in each month it has been the custom of the girls to bring their lunch and meet at the Library at the supper hour, where tea was served and an informal social evening was enjoyed. Topics of interest to the members were sometimes discussed.

Two parties have been given this year. The first, an Immigration party, gave opportunity for many and varied costumes and characters, and incidentally furnished a great deal of jolly fun. The idea of the party was fully carried out, each individual being obliged to pass the Board of Medical Examiners, the Board of Immigration, and the Customs officials. Some proved most adept at smuggling, while others were "caught with the goods." The refreshments consisted of articles chosen from an actual bill of fare served at Ellis Island.

Our second party was a Valentine affair, which seemed to be much enjoyed. In return the young men of Dallas very courteously entertained the young women at a most delightful party given at the Armory, where varied amusements were provided for the enjoyment of those present. To say that the girls greatly appreciated the hospitality of the young men, would, I am sure, be but stating it mildly.

The last entertainment of the season will occur next week, when a banquet is planned for the girls alone. Preparations for this event are to be given into the hands of the domestic science class of the High School, and the members of the class will enjoy the occasion with us.

As a money-earning section, we cannot say as much for our selves as might have been said last year. We planned for each member to collect "twenty feet of pennies," in this way making the section gather a quarter of a mile of pennies. But a few of the girls responded, and as a result we collected but about $18.55.

The Program Committee.

Estella C. Barnes, Sarah Casey and Elana K. Taylor, members of the committee on Program, submitted this following report:

For the year beginning in October 1913, and ending May 5, 1914, our report is as follows:

The first meeting, being a business meeting, was given over to the formulating of plans for the year. We were favored by a vocal solo by Miss Alice Grant. Other than this no special program was given.

At the first meeting in November the reports of the delegates to the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs at Hood River were given. Miss Wilson of Salem gave a vocal solo, and we also had an interesting lecture by Mrs. Robbins of the Domestic Science department of the O. A. C. Mrs. Robbins remained with us for the two following days, and gave instruction and demonstrations in cookery of various kinds. Also in November, on the third Saturday, a reception was tendered the teachers in our public schools. Mrs. Allen Todd, president of the Shakespeare club of Portland, kindly gave readings from Macbeth on this occasion. Mrs. MacGregor rendered piano music between the scenes and Miss Wilson sang.

At the December meeting President Ackerman of the Monmouth Normal school lectured on "The Modern Idea in Education" and an interesting discussion followed. At this meeting Mrs. Walter Toole gave a vocal solo. Dr. Hodge of the U. of O. gave a talk at the January meeting, touching on the much discussed fly question, also the usefulness of birds. Miss Lora Craven sang at this meeting.

In February Mrs. Geo. Gerlinger read a most entertaining paper on "Every Man" and the rise and success of the drama and modern play. Miss Bertha Serr read selections from the ancient play "Everyman," and Miss Ada Langnecker favored us with an instrumental solo.

At the March meeting a fine talk on Art was given by Miss Parrot of the Monmouth Normal School, illustrated by various copies of famous pictures. A song was given by Miss Alice Grant and a piano solo by Miss Lucile Loughary.

At the last meeting, following a piano solo by Miss Helen Casey and a vocal duet by Miss Louise Miles and Miss Elva Lucas, Miss Pearl Horner gave a travel talk illustrated by lantern slides, views taken while journeying in Egypt and different parts of Europe.

The program committee have also added to the lectures of the University Extension Course, vocal and instrumental music and a reading by different people who kindly gave their services.

In all our committee meetings we have been most ably assisted by suggestions by the president, Mrs. Craven.

Report of Music Section.

The music section report, as given by Mrs. H. C. Eakin, chairman and Miss Edith Starbuck, secretary, follows:

The music section of the Woman's club took up the study of the French school of music for this year. Our first meeting was held on October 29, 1913. We began with the life and works of Lully and Rameau, French composers of the seventeenth century, and French opera, beginning with that period.

The life and works of such early composers as Gretry, Cherubini, Boieldieu, Herold, Anber, Meyerbeer and Halevy have been taken up and carefully studied by members of the section. Songs have been sung, piano compositions have been played and both graphophone and piano records, to illustrate the works of these great men.

One interesting meeting was given up to the study of Charles Gounod and his world-famous opera, "Faust," and the biography of Hector Berlioz and his "Damnation of Faust."

At our sixth meeting the life of Bizet and the story of his opera, "Carmen," was given, also that of Jules Massenet and several of his compositions together with the life of Offenbach and his "Love Tales of Hoffman." At these meetings several selections from these operas were played by piano and phonograph.

Our last meeting of April 29, was devoted to the life and works of two great French composers, Camille Saint Saens, who is alive today at the age of 97 years, and the much beloved Caesar Franck, who died a few years ago.

One of the most delightful numbers of this meeting, and one which was thoroughly enjoyed by all, was the story and description of the opera "Parsipal," told by Mrs. Casey and Miss Helen, as seen and heard by them in Portland a few weeks ago.

The ladies who have taken part on these programs, and who have done so so willingly, are Mrs. Oscar Hayter, Mrs. S. B. Taylor, Mrs. MacGregor, Mrs. Casey, Mrs. Zeller, Miss Ednelle Collins, Miss Caroline Bureh, Mrs. Allgood, Mrs. Van Orsdel, Miss Edith Starbuck, Miss Helen Casey, Miss Cora Luft, Mrs. A. B. Starbuck, and Mrs. Asa Robertson.

Much of the success of the music section of the Woman's club is due to our director, Mrs. G. P. MacGregor, who has outlined our course of study for the past three years, and who is so ever-ready and willing to help us with the work. Every member of the section feels very grateful to Mrs. MacGregor and thoroughly appreciates what she is doing for us. Our next meeting and the last for this year will be held on May 27. The meeting will be delivered to the study of Chopin, his life, his compositions and his piano playing. Several of his compositions will be played. Piano playing up to 1830 will also be one of the topics.

For next year our director has planned that we take up the German school of music, and devote the following two years to that study.

Report of Civic Improvement.

Mrs. Van Orsdel, as chairman of the Civic Improvement committee, made the following report:

There have been five meetings held during the last year. On September 23, at which time the following officers were selected, Mrs. Casey, secretary; Mrs. John Miller, director adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman. In March Professor Peck of O. A. C. gave us a talk on landscape gardening. That was very interesting and helpful. In the evening his illustrated lecture was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience. Mr. Ayers kindly gave the Star theater and Mr. Miles, secretary of the Commercial club, helping with the advertising.

The work we have been able to do has been mostly confined to the library grounds. A very faithful committee undertook the work. Mrs. Eakin, Mrs. Casey, Mrs. Allgood. They have selected fine roses and lilies and planted them on the grounds, and ivy next to the walls; also planted some at the court house. Mrs. Othel Williams, Mrs. George Hawkins and Mrs. John Grant were the committee to look after the improvement of the ground around the city hall. This has not been finished. The ladies looking after the different blocks in the city, have in every way they could tried to make the place more beautiful and sanitary. We have had some excellent papers; Mrs. Eakin on "Rose Culture," Mrs. Casper on the "Care of the Chrysanthemums" and Mrs. Kersey on the "Raising of Asters," and Mrs. Metzger on "Clean Up Day." At the meeting in April we decided to try to keep up the grounds around the library. A committee of three was appointed to prepare some benches for the court house yard, Mrs. Gerlinger, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Robinson.

In November, "The Doll Shop" was put on under the auspices of the Civic club. It meant a great deal of work, but would have been a success financially if the expenses had not been so heavy. But as the money all went to our own town people, we felt it was alright.

Reading Committee.

Grace Patterson, chairman of the Reading club reported that the club continued the interesting study of Greek mythology, beginning with the important gods and goddesses, and finishing with The Trojan War and Wanderings of Ulysses. At present we are studying "Myths of the Norse Gods." Our Reading club, though small in numbers, is deeply interested and faithful to attend each meeting.

Social Department.

The first affair of the year in the social line was the annual club picnic at the Armory in June. On this occasion members were privileged to invite one guest. The armory had every appearance of an out-door scene, fir trees being used to represent a park. Lunch was taken in baskets, and served in true picnic style. Music by an orchestra added to the pleasure of the evening.

The most important occasion of the year was in November, when a reception was given to the teachers of the Dallas schools. The last effort of the social committee was in February, when light refreshments were served at the close of a regular meeting.

WEALTH OF HAIR

Parisian Sage Makes Thin Liefless Hair Soft and Abundant.

Beautiful hair, thick, soft, fluffy, lustrous, and free from dandruff, is one of woman's greatest charms, yet so many have streaked, thin and lifeless hair and think there is no remedy. Pretty hair is largely a matter of care.

Frequent applications of Parisian Sage well rubbed into the scalp is all that is needed—it acts like magic. Try it tonight—you will really be surprised with the result. Not only will the hair become soft, fluffy, radiant with life and really doubly beautiful, but all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching scalp cease—your head feels fine.

All druggists sell a large bottle of Parisian Sage for fifty cents. Get it from Conrad Stafrin, he will refund the money if you are not satisfied.
