

BROWN BEAR IS CHASED

BRUIN INVADES POLK TERRITORY BY DAY.

Farmers and Townsfolk Join in Big Game Hunt, But Are Unsuccessful.

Polk county farmers and Salem sports, says the Statesman, were treated to something unique in the way of hunting yesterday morning when a huge brown bear walked out of the brush in the vicinity of the Wallace fruit farm down the river several miles from the Polk county side and began to make himself conspicuous. The huge beast was first discovered by a boy who was out hunting with his dog and a rifle. The boy is said to have shot bullets in the direction of the bear and then proceeded to arouse the neighborhood. In a short time all the ambitious nimrods in that section had given chase, the weapons hastily brought out for hunting the game, ranging from pitchforks and the huge bayonet gun handed down by grandfather from Civil war days, up.

The bear was surrounded in a clump of trees by a number of men with shot guns and had several charges pumped into him, but the beast succeeded in breaking the circle and making his getaway. Hearing of the chase a posse of Salem sportsmen hastily armed themselves and securing a number of dogs joined in the bear hunt. In the posse were: Geo. Johnson, Geo. W. Smith, Sam Adolph and J. S. Austin.

The beast was pursued by the dogs south, always keeping to cover wherever possible. It passed West Salem going through the timber to the west of that place. At last it took to the river at the log dump of the Spaulding Logging Co. The dogs were tired out by the chase and so the sportsmen returned to the city. In all six or seven shots were fired at the bear but he appeared to be little the worse for it.

Sam Adolph and Geo. Johnson in company with other sportsmen secured some hounds from Silverton last night and went up the river with lanterns to continue the chase. They returned about half past 1 o'clock having been unsuccessful in their search for the bear. Where the bear came from is a mystery. When it was first heard of in this city, Chemawa was called up and asked if they had lost any of the bears from their pit, the reply being that they had not. Besides the Chemawa bears are the common black species, while the one in question is a member of the brown species. It is considered probable that the bear came down from the Coast range mountains, but what tempted him to invade a section so thickly settled by his old-time enemy, man, is a question.

The animal is said to be a large one and it is considered that it would probably weigh between two and three hundred pounds. It was evidently frightened by being away from its familiar haunts and consequently did not attempt to put up any kind of a fight. It is probable, however, if it had been cornered at any time there might have been a different story.

INDEPENDENCE NEWS.

Neighboring Notes Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

The stork hovered over North Independence early Tuesday morning with two babies—a boy and a girl—and left them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blanchard.

Dr. Dunsmore received a telegram Wednesday informing him of the death of his brother-in-law, H. M. Flock, in Vancouver, B. C.

G. D. Robinson, of Dallas, visited C. W. Richardson and family this week.

There is some talk of getting up a Fourth of July celebration.

The Moose Military boys have received their new suits and they are certainly swell looking.

T. H. Dix has disposed of his machine shop located in the rear of the Fitchard Garage. The new proprietors are J. C. Donaldson of this city, and F. P. Agelsoe, of Corvallis.

The Ladies' Civic League will soon give a home talent play and the proceeds derived from it, will be utilized in purchasing drinking fountains for the city.

The Civic Improvement Club will add to their popularity by conducting several lunch counters during the race meet and carnival next week.

Puts License on Dogs.

An ordinance has been passed by the Monmouth city council which requires the licensing of all dogs within the corporate limits of the city, the fee to be placed at from $2.50 to $5. The ordinance came as the result of a petition to the council, signed by 80 persons, alleging that dogs were doing much damage on farms in the adjacent country. Several dogs were killed recently while attacking sheep.

Masons of Oregon to Meet.

The sixty-fourth annual communication of the Grand Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Oregon, will be held in Portland June 10, 11 and 12. Headquarters of delegates will be at the Imperial Hotel. Two special events are scheduled before the formal opening of the grand lodge assembly. The first of these will take place Monday at 10 a. m., June 8, when the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, will meet. The other event will be Tuesday evening, when Imperial Lodge U. D., of Portland, will exemplify the third degree strictly according to the Oregon work. Washington Council, Royal and Select Masters, will put on the super excellent degree some time during the week.

MISREPRESENTS THE FACTS.

Prune Crop in Polk Cannot Reach Over Sixty Per Cent.

The Monmouth correspondent to the metropolitan press is an optimistic cuss, to say the least. Notwithstanding a preponderance of evidence to the contrary he, or she, is determined to convince an unsuspecting public that the prune crop in Polk county will be up to the average, when the facts are that if more than a 60 per cent crop is harvested growers will be happily disappointed. The Observer has made a thorough investigation of prevailing conditions in various sections of the county, interviewed no less than thirty prune growers, and secured the opinion of buyers who have visited numerous orchards, and this jury concedes that the crop cannot possibly exceed the figure given above. In the face of this indisputable evidence we read in the Portland Journal under a Monmouth date line that "apples, pears and prune trees in the leading fruit districts of Polk county give indications of the usual good crop again this season. Numerous reports have been circulated concerning the prune crop for the season and some bad predictions have been made, but the past few seasons have proved that in spite of the apparent failure of the blossoms in the early spring, a substantial yield is obtained."

Nothing is gained by misrepresentation, whether designedly or otherwise. The Monmouth correspondent should bear this in mind.

BEWARE OF TRACHOMA.

Infectious Disease of Eye Prevalent in Rural Districts.

Numbers of pupils of rural schools in Oregon are suffering from trachoma, a highly infectious disease of the eye, which, if untreated, results ultimately in blindness. Alarmed by the prevalence of the malady, Dr. Calvin S. White, secretary of the state health board, has already taken steps to stamp out the disease before it spreads further.

If the disease is discovered in time it can be cured. The first symptoms are itching of the eyelids, which is followed later by granulation and the appearance of ulcers. It is a germ disease, and can be communicated in various ways, including common use of a face towel.

Many Going to Independence.

Many Dallas people are planning to attend the eighth annual race meet of the Independence Driving Club association next Friday afternoon. The program contains some interesting events that will prove a drawing attraction for those interested in fast horses. In connection with this meet the Moose lodge will hold a street carnival that possess many attractive features.

Extra Session Improbable.

Governor West has stated that he has not decided to call a special session of the Legislature, and that none would be called, unless it was pointed out that an economy program would be carried out, and the taxpayers be relieved. He admitted, however, that he had considered the matter and its possible consequences.

Injured By Fall.

Mr. B. Foster received a fall, by which he injured one of his shoulders severely. He was walking along a street crossing and at the same time watching an automobile. The walk was only about three feet wide and he stepped off where it was some twenty inches from the ground, with the above result. He is slowly improving.—Monmouth Herald.
