

The Central Figures In Stamford (Conn.) Death Mystery

Photos by American Press Association.

DISCOVERIES that are expected to go far toward clearing up the mystery of the death of Waldo R. Ballou, whose body was found in front of the Rippowam building at Stamford, Conn., have been made by Homer S. Cummings, the state attorney; City Prosecutor Phillips; City Engineer Parsons and Chief of Police Brennan. These men have spent days in the apartment of Mrs. Helen M. Angle, which is on the third floor of the Rippowam building. She is supposed to know just how Ballou, a prominent politician, died. She says he fell downstairs. The illustration shows Chief Brennan, Mrs. Angle, an iron bearing stains and the hat found near Ballou's body crushed in at the top.

CARTOON IS REJECTED IN THE BUSINESS FIELD

CARICATURE OF MR. U'REN IS BARRED FROM PAMPHLET.

Mr. Olcott Censors Drawing Offered as Argument Against $1500 Tax Exemption By Rational League.

Secretary of State Olcott, as editor of the state election pamphlet, has rejected a cartoon depicting W. S. U'ren, of Oregon City, operating a shell game. In the cartoon, which was tendered by Robert E. Smith, of Roseburg, Secretary-Treasurer of the Oregon Rational Tax Reform association, Mr. U'ren was shown at a table juggling three shells. One of the shells is labeled, "Graduated Sur-tax Amendment," another "Poll Tax" and the third, which is in the center, is labeled "$1500 Tax Exemption." Under this shell, which is slightly raised is the pea, which is labeled "Single Tax." The cartoon has the operator of the game saying: "I'll surely buffalo them this time." "Find the pea," is the caption.

Mr. Smith tendered with the cartoon an argument against the $1500 tax amendment. He argued that it would exempt more than $150,000,000 worth of property from taxation, but that no farm land would be exempt under the law. If $150,000,000 of property is exempt, said the argument, land owners will have to pay a higher tax on what is left. Another argument filed by the same association is an appeal to the voters of the cities to oppose the amendment.

Mr. Smith informed Secretary of State Olcott that the Oregon Rational Tax Reform association had a membership of 8000 farmers, and that 21 counties were represented. Mr. Smith said first he would institute mandamus proceedings against the Secretary of State. He said later, however, that he would be satisfied to have the arguments without the cartoon used in the pamphlet.

THE FIRE FOOL.

With apologies to Rudyard Kipling,
A fool there was and he flung a match,
Even as you and I.
Carelessly down in a sun dried patch,
Giving no heed that a fire might catch,
And spread to the timber with quick dispatch,
Even as you and I.

The fool returned on his way and found,
Even as you and I.

Ashes and embers all over the ground,
And far in the distance with horrible sound,
The fire consuming the timber around,
Was startled as he went by,
The Fool passed on with a wondering look,
Even as you and I.

He couldn't explain the fire that took,
The forest away and dried the brook,
And left the region a place forsook,
He was a fool, that's why.

THE remarkable favor shown by the shooting public to Remington-UMC rifles and shotguns, shot shells and metallics means just one thing—

That sportsmen everywhere are becoming more conscious of their desire for the dependability that they find only in Remington-UMC arms and ammunition.

So you see the keen sportsman, when buying a new rifle or shotgun, go to the dealer who displays the Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC. Or if he is already fitted with a rifle or shotgun, his tendency is more and more to shoot Remington-UMC shot shells and metallics—the ammunition that flatters any make of gun.

The Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC—find the dealer who displays it. Look for it on every box of ammunition you buy.

To keep your gun cleaned and lubricated right, use Rem Oil,
the new powder solvent, rust preventative, and gun lubricant.
