A Pleasing Program—The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church met at the spacious residence of Mrs. Theo. Farrington on Wednesday afternoon. Upwards of fifty members and guests were present. A splendid program was presented in which Evelyn Bennett impersonated a German emigrant; Gertrude Ellis, a southern mountaineer's daughter; Claudia Plank, a Chinese girl; Pearl Jost, a Japanese maiden; Lucile Loughary, a Mormon girl; Beatrice Blinn, an Indian; Viola Ash, a Mexican; Lenore Craven, an Eskimo; Juanita Morrison, a girl from Porto Rico; and Thelma Heppner, a negro girl of the south. These young misses appeared in costume and with songs, dialect and recitations, described the beneficent work of the society among the poorer classes in our country. Mrs. Dr. Foster, leader of the Home Guard club, introduced them in a neat speech. Mrs. Bennett read a paper on "Opening the First Mite Box." Very nice refreshments were served. The apartments were beautifully decorated with red and pink roses. It was the most successful meeting ever held by the society and reflects much credit upon Mrs. Wm. Ash, the president, and her able corps of assistants.

Wedding Anniversary—A number of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Card at Oakdale last Sunday afternoon in honor of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. A good social time was had and plenty of music. D. Shepherd sang a solo in a very pleasing manner. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Card, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson, G. D. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Card and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. FALLS CITY IN BRIEF.

Falls City Council Doings. A feature of the council meeting at Falls City Tuesday evening was the reading of a communication from Irvin Matthews concerning the condemnation proceedings in which the city recently was given a verdict in the circuit court. The writer charged "immoral" conduct on the part of the aldermanic body and thoroughly lambasted the city attorney for the part he played in the action. The trend of Mr. Matthews' letter was a request that the city withdraw from enforcing the court's order, otherwise he would appeal the case to the supreme court. The city of Falls City condemned a piece of land for bridge purposes, after having tendered Mr. Matthews $150 therefor. Following the judgment in the circuit court it was discovered that an additional parcel 10x20 feet was needed for the project as proposed by the council, and the city attorney offered to pay the costs in the suit, amounting to $77, if the owner would deed this to the city. Mr. Matthews refused to entertain the proposition, and now threatens the city with an appeal if it does not desist in its effort to gain ownership of the land in question. The language used in the communication to the council is libelous in its nature, and further developments as a result may appear upon the horizon in the not very dim vista of the future.

An ordinance granting the lighting company a twenty-five year franchise was presented to the council, and referred to the council as a committee of the whole. A meeting of the committee to consider the franchise and also the accompanying contract for lighting the city was held last night. The city attorney was instructed to proceed without unnecessary delay to collect delinquent street improvement assessments, the city needing the money advanced by it for the purpose to carry on the municipal government during the year. These delinquent assessments aggregate about $2600, which when collected will be returned to the general fund, from whence the cash was taken upon completion of the work. The several funds are at a low ebb, and it is likely that the city will be obliged to borrow money to carry it through the year. This being the case the council has decided not to make any improvements this season outside of keeping in repair the newly macadamized streets and the replacing of dilapidated sidewalks with new ones. It was ordered that the Third street foot-bridge be put in safe condition for travel. This is the structure affected to the Matthews case.

The finance committee sought further time to audit the report of the retiring auditor and police judge, G. O. Clement, pleading that it had not as yet found time to give it attention, and the council granted its request. In order to make sure of having an abundance of water during the summer the water committee was instructed to interview the Falls City Lumber company and see if the amount now being used by it could not be somewhat reduced. The auditor and police judge was also instructed to collect double water rates from those consumers who permit their neighbors to take water from their taps.

The necessary steps will be taken forthwith to cause the construction of a sidewalk of regulation width on the south side of Perry street, beginning at the Fred Holman property, for a distance of three blocks. The council transferred $90 from the road fund to the street fund for the purpose of paying interest on the 1914 street improvement bonds.

Falls City in Brief. J. C. Talbot was in Salem on business on Monday, as was also C. J. Pugh. Fred Chapin of Dallas was here on Tuesday. The baseball game given last Saturday night was an unqualified success. The attendance was large, and the hours passed most enjoyably. Mrs. Montgomery entertained her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Peterson of Dallas, last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Tetherow were guests of Judge and Mrs. Hardy Holman of Dallas on Monday. Herman Hawkins, Fay Coffin, Harve Greenwood and John Greenwood of Dallas attended the dance Saturday night.

C. G. Coad has been unable to attend to his duties as secretary of the Oregon Hop Growers' association for the past several days on account of illness.
