STORING AWAY WHEAT

DALLAS FLOURING MILLS BUSY THESE HARVEST DAYS.

Seven Thousand Bushels Received and More Is Coming From Country Daily.

To get an idea of crop conditions in Polk county and to compare the wheat grower's income this year with that of last year, a visit at the Sweeney brothers' flour mill is valuable. According to the millers they have received at least four times as much grain this season as they had at a corresponding date last year, although practically the entire crop of this district was handled through the local mill last season. To date, the managers estimate, they have taken in 7000 bushels of wheat and have been so rushed in handling it that they have had no time even to think of oats, of which there is an unusually large crop. Wagons are discharging their loads of wheat in rapid succession throughout the day, while all hands at the mill are busy storing it away until winter, when the machines will have a season's work, running at full capacity, to grind the grain into flour.

In September last year the price of wheat had reached about its limit in 75 cents at the mill. In contrast, the price this week is close to 90 cents, and, if predictions hold good, will advance to $1 before long. Flour, the final product, has also brought joy to the millers. A year ago at this time flour was selling for about $4, while this year, with a brisk demand to keep it moving, the price ranges around $5.25. Sweeney brothers have just cause for rejoicing.

ARMED MOBS TERRORIZE

Texas Fears Wholesale Slaughter by "Army" of Liberation.
Dispatches from the Mexican border tell of a running fight between Mexican bandits and a group of soldiers and Texas citizens, near Brownsville yesterday. Three bandits from a band of 35 were killed and the band retreated across the river where at least 100 were added to their strength, which has put American forces on their guard to anticipate further trouble.

A reign of terror prevails along the border and practically every able bodied man in three counties is armed, and fearful of a wholesale massacre by the Mexicans should the United States attempt to intervene in the southern country. The Mexicans will at least try to seize a part of the state of Texas, is the opinion of many along the border. The Mexicans calling themselves the "army of liberation for Mexico," are rapidly gaining reinforcements, and are pledged to kill every American of 16 years of age, according to reports that have reached Brownsville. Governor Ferguson, giving ear to these statements, has asked the United States to rush additional troops to the border and is encouraging the formation of armed bands for the protection of homes and families in case of attack.

DISPLAY IS SLIGHTLY DELAYED

Meteoric Showers Predicted by Brennan Seen Wednesday Night.

The showers of meteors predicted for Monday night failed to materialize, but Father Martin S. Brennan, professor of astronomy at Kenrick university, Missouri, did not miss his date only two days, for on Wednesday night there was quite a display visible in this section. The display is known as the Perseids and will last throughout the nights in the vicinity of Polar star. The meteors are the remnants of a comet known as Cymet 3, 1862, which is thought by scientists to be the oldest comet in the solar system. This comet "died of old age," according to astronomers and lost its compact nucleus, and finally became attenuated through the length of its orbit. Each year this planet passes through its orbit.

Col. Jackson Is Injured.

Colonel James Jackson, United States army, retired, and inspector-general of the Oregon National Guard, and who is well known to many in Dallas, refused to prosecute Harry Hanson, driver of the automobile that ran into and injured him at Portland Tuesday afternoon. Colonel Jackson is thought to be out of danger of serious hurts from the accident. "He was driving carefully, but lost his head a little when I grasped the fender, and did not put on the brakes in time," said Colonel Jackson.

Sunday Funerals No More.

There will be no more Sunday funerals in Salem, on or after August 15, according to an agreement among undertakers, sextons, ministers and livermen of the city, which has just been completed, and will apply to all except contagious cases, says the Statesman. The vogue for a cessation of Sunday funerals has been adopted in Portland, San Francisco and Oakland during the last few years and has been longer in effect in eastern cities. It was started in Salem by C. B. Webb.

MOTOR CARS CHANGED

A. S. GREEN COMES FROM PORTLAND TO DIRECT WORK.

Southern Pacific Company Orders Use of Distillate in Dallas-Salem Motor Cars.

Extensive changes are being made in the mechanism of the McKean motor cars, in use on the Southern Pacific branch line between Dallas and Salem, to equip them for the use of distillate in place of gasoline. As a result of tests made by the company it has been found that distillate is very economical as a fuel, and just as satisfactory as gasoline, and this change has been ordered on all cars of the type in use here. The expense is great, but the advantage gained and the economy effected by the rebuilding more than offsets this feature.

The change means the replacing of the carburetors in use on the cars with one of different design, one which will feed the distillate into the engine. A different throttle must be used, in fact the entire mechanical arrangement will be changed. In addition to the changes made a number of safety appliances will be added to the equipment of the cars and will include a hand-operated brake in the rear of the passenger compartment. A. S. Green, an expert at such work as is being done here, came to Dallas from the Brooklyn shops in Portland to direct the work of alteration and, with a capable force of assistants, completed the first car yesterday. The motor car equipment in use on the line between Dallas and Salem includes three 70-foot cars of a modern type, and the rebuilding of their engines will cost the Southern Pacific company several thousand dollars before the work is completed. One car at a time is rebuilt so that there will be no interruption to the service.

Insane Woman Taken to Salem.

Mrs. Hattie Holland, laboring under many delusions, was brought to Dallas yesterday from Spring Valley by members of her family. Sheriff Orr took charge of the woman and notified the authorities at Salem to send attendants for her. In the meantime the sheriff and others stood close guard over the patient, since the county has no woman's ward or padded cell in its jail. At the appointed time the attendants hadn't appeared, and the guards continued to wait. The last train of the evening brought no one to accompany the woman. Sheriff Orr bundled her into his machine and took her to Salem himself. Mrs. Holland is not violent, but just mildly deluded on a number of things. She leaves a husband at Spring Valley and is the mother of two children.

Miss Jackson Goes to Idaho.

Miss Ruth Jackson, a graduate student of O. A. C., receiving a master's degree in agriculture, has been elected to head that department in the Idaho State Normal at Albion, at a very attractive salary. Miss Jackson has been associated with some of the leading specialists of the United States department of agriculture in various phases of agriculture, and has done much practical work here as the basis for her degree.—Times Gazette.

Quail Are Numerous.

That Bob White quail are becoming plentiful in this county is the statement of sportsmen. According to a prominent sportsman of Dallas the birds may be seen in large numbers in the fields and people driving along country roads can hear their whistle frequently. A few years ago these birds were scarce in this section of the state, but in the past five years they have increased in number rapidly.

Semi-Weekly Lectures.

Last Monday the Adventist tent at the corner of Mill and Shelton streets was taken down and shipped to Portland. At the closing meeting it was announced that Friday and Sunday nights of each week there would be a lecture in the Adventist church. The subject announced for tonight is "Approaching Armageddon." A song service will precede the lecture.

West's Picture on Capitol Walls.

A fine oil painting of former Governor West has been hung in the house of representatives at Salem. The work is different from the many pictures that are hung on the same walls, and in the background shows the granting of woman suffrage in the state. The painting is by John Trullinger of Astoria.

No Loss of Timber This Year.

Favorable weather conditions and careful preparations for the season are the chief factors which have so far made for a clean record on the part of patrol organizations in the forests of this state during the present season. Reports recently received by the Western Forestry and Conservation association, from all protective agencies in the state, show practically no loss of timber through fires up to the present time. In spite of the prevailing favorable conditions the utmost care is exercised and urged by all agencies to prevent damage during the next month.

THE BIG GAME HUNTER PROVES THAT HE KNOWS THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW.

ALL around you, men are talking about it. You, yourself, are probably telling your friends about the Real Tobacco Chew.

No user wants to see his friends go without it because it gives a man real tobacco satisfaction and comfort.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED.

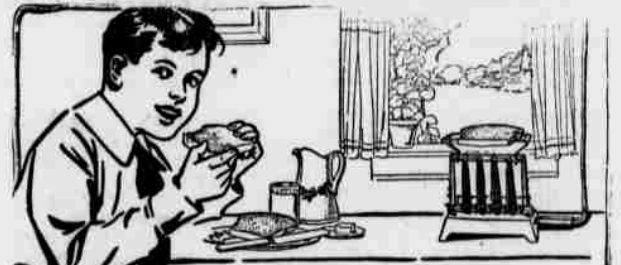

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

Here's Praise From Boyville Gee, but I'm glad mother has a G-E Radiant Toaster

I just LOVE toast when it isn't tough an' old an' all burned. There used to be a time when Mother lifted the lid off the stove an' had to stan' there and blister her fingers holdin' a piece of bread, with a fork, over the coals. Wasn't hot when I got it either, 'cause she made up a whole lot at once.

I've learn'd to make my own toast before I go to school in the mornin'. It's FUN, that's what it is, and say, fellers, it's S-O-M-E Toast.

You just ought to get your dad to look at one of those toasters, he'll buy it all right! They're on sale at
