The guests spent a very pleasant evening at games and contests, interspersed with an excellent program. Walter (Ole) Fuller entertained with several Swedish impersonations, and Mrs. Ella J. Metzger entertained. At 6 o'clock a fine basket luncheon was served to about 60 at the park tables. Each of the ladies had prepared a portion of the lunch and it took more the form of a banquet than a picnic dinner. The evening was spent round a roaring bonfire where merriment found expression in songs and stories. The hand practice in the park gave added pleasure to the outing, especially when the boys played "Tipperary," that the pleasure-seekers might sing and dance. To reward the musicians for their offering they were taken in on the watermelon feed that wound up the pleasant evening. So successful was the annual picnic that the ladies have already started to plan their new year's "Husband" party, which is a popular annual event. Celebrates Birthday.—A pleasant time was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Edgar at Oak Grove last Sunday, about fifty relatives and friends met with them to celebrate Mrs. Edgar's birthday. The young folks married in traveling clothes and immediately after the breakfast started on the motor tour, which will keep them in California about six weeks. The party spent some time with Mrs. Fink's sister, Mrs. Frank Webster, and with Mrs. Frank Morrill, her good friend, both of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Fink will make their home in McMinnville. Epworth League Social.—About fifty members of the Epworth league of the Methodist church attended a social on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elliott, about a mile south of town. Old fashioned games furnished the chief diversion for the large and merry gathering, and ice cream, cake and lemonade were the refreshments. Many automobiles owned by church members were commandeered to take the crowd to the Elliott farm, where the guests enjoyed themselves until 11 o'clock. HOP CONTRACTS FEW

BUYERS AWAITING HARVEST BEFORE NAMING PRICES.

Picking in Fuggie Yards Now in Progress—War Effects Market Conditions Somewhat.

Hop growers are awaiting developments in the market with expectancy and interest. While the crop, the harvest of which is now in progress in Fuggie yards, is occupying attention, the market, is of course, uppermost in the minds of growers. Owing to unusual conditions prevailing this year, none are able to satisfactorily solve the price problem. Much of the prosperity of Polk county depends upon this industry, there being something over 5,000 acres within the hallock planted to this crop, and therefore every resident is interested with the grower. Practically no contracts are being made in Oregon at this time, buyers evidently waiting to see what the crop will be, and consequently there is little of a substantial character on which to base price predictions. In California some October contracts have been made at 12 1/2 and 13 cents. What the Oregon crop will be is a matter of wide difference of opinion, hop men placing it variously at from 100,000 to 130,000 bales. It is known that a number of yards have been abandoned, owing to the mold and vermin, and it is probable that the yield will not be so great as last year. The hot weather of the past week has meant great things for the hop crop and if it continues until after the picking season the yield doubtless will be better than had been anticipated. The cards are, to a great extent, in the hands of the weather man and it remains to see what he will deal. The hops probably will be of a wide range of quality. The California crop is still estimated at about 120,000 bales, which is an increase of about 3000 over last year. In New York, however, indications are that the yield will be short, owing to the fact that yards have been abandoned because of mold and vermin and the weather. The American crop will probably amount to 300,000 bales, which is practically the same as the yield last year. However, there is said to be only about 5000 bales holdover from last season, compared with a 30,000 holdover last year. In addition, the English crop is said to be light this year. This is indicated by cables from England which were received in Portland yesterday. They estimated the English crop at 250,000 cwt., which is more than 50 per cent less than the yield for last year. All things taken into consideration, hop men are of the opinion that the price of hops should be good this year, if it were not for the unusual conditions growing out of the European war and the unsettled state of business, greatly a result of that conflict. DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE PLAY. Theatricals Will Produce "The County Chairman," Before Christmas. Just before the Christmas holidays, if present plans mature, the Dallas Dramatic club will open the new Orpheum theater with a production of "The County Chairman," George Ade's famous political and romantic drama. The club has been examining many manuscripts and has selected the George Ade drama as the best for this event. Maeklin Arbuckle has made himself world-famous through his interpretation of the title role, and his supporting cast has been excellent. Such things do not daunt the Dallas club and it is proceeding with plans in absolute confidence that it will present a creditable production. Past performances of the organization would indicate that its confidence is not misplaced, as many difficult roles have been filled and a number of very good shows have been staged by the organization. Sometime within the coming month the club will begin earnest preparation for the production. Roles have not been assigned as yet but some of the club members have designated J. E. Sibley as the best man in Dallas to wear the shoes of Maeklin Arbuckle as the county chairman. Fred West's interpretation of negro characters will probably entitle him to be cast in the second important part as a colored roustabout. Mr. Smith, owner of the Orpheum, has offered his new show house to the club free of charge for the evening. Edison Installing Invention. The installation of the new nickel batteries invented by Thomas A. Edison by which it is hoped to prevent the escape of chlorine gas in submarines is in progress on board the submarine K-1 at the New York navy yard. Chlorine gas is one of the greatest dangers of undersea boats and many officers with them believe it caused the loss of the F-4 at Honolulu several months ago. If the batteries are as effective as it is hoped, the navy will possess the finest underwater craft in which the danger of chlorine is eliminated. The Land Products Show. The Second Manufacturers and Land Products show will be held in Portland from October 25 to November 13. Polk county will be represented. The army will be used to display the manufactures. Other buildings will contain educational and entertainment features. An exposi-

Puts Dallas on the Map.

The Angora Journal, published at Paluxy, Texas, has the following about one of Polk's goat raisers:

"U. S. Grant was the first president of the association and held that office continuously up to the meeting at Albuquerque in 1914, when he was succeeded by A. B. Collins. Mr. Grant is located at Dallas, Oregon, and it is said that he was the means of placing Dallas on the map. He was one of the first to achieve distinction as a breeder of high-class Angora goats. "Grant Goats" are known wherever Angoras are known. He has produced some of the most noted bucks ever produced in this country. Grant is considered steady, conservative and possessed of considerable sound judgment, tact and diplomacy." Fair Funds Are Low. The county fair board is going to be handicapped this fall because of a shortage of funds. It has less than $400 in cash on hand at the present time, and $200 of this amount is due to the collector of state fair exhibits. Of the $1500 received from the county $550 was paid over to the Dallas Commercial club for money borrowed last year, and money from the state must go for premiums only. The expense of pulling off the fair this fall will leave the association quite deeply in debt unless it realizes well from attractions and concession privileges. Fine Program for Band Concert. The regular Saturday evening band concert will be given on the court house lawn tomorrow night. Director George Marsh has selected a varied and pleasing program in which popular music predominates: March, Captain Betty; overture, All Hits; Moroccan, Forest Whispers; selection, The Spring Maid; popular, I Didn't Raise My Boy to be a Soldier; waltz, Luzare; popular, Tipperary; serenade, Thoughts; march, Shuffling Dance. Hop Tickets Don't Count. If you want hop insurance, you can make money by getting your tickets printed yourself and then getting insurance in the Old Reliable Oregon Fire Relief association. Tickets are all-fired cheap, these days; if you don't believe it, consult the printers. Ask Al Snyder about it.—Adv. Want to Exhibit Here. The Oregon Social Hygiene society has written the secretary of the fair board with a view to making an exhibit in Dallas during fair week. The society is desirous of securing a down-town store building in which to make a display. Judge Teal Appointed. Judge J. B. Teal has been appointed one of the Oregon delegates to the tenth international dry farming congress and exposition, to be held in Denver, Colorado, September 27 to October 9. The appointment was made by Governor Withycombe. Mrs. Edith Holecomb of Salem is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kearnth on Academy street. Morris Fowle, a prominent rancher of the Airlie neighborhood, was a Dallas visitor Tuesday. Observer Want Ads. do the business. COMPLETELY COVERS THE FIELD. The attention of the reader is today called to the large amount of local news contained in this issue of The Observer, covering every phase of the week's doings throughout the county. It is probably the most complete regular edition of any newspaper ever published within the county, which is saying considerable. It contains more than twenty columns of local happenings, or more than is published by all the other newspapers of Polk county combined. And yet The Observer is a twice-a-week publication. The Tuesday issue of The Observer had over twenty columns of reading matter, the greater part of which covered local affairs exclusively. We are not "bragging" about the greatness of this publication, but merely want to call the attention of the reader to the indisputable fact that the real news of the week is to be found only in its columns. And we hope, in the near future, to make The Observer even bigger and better than at present. Its circulation is rapidly increasing without solicitation, which is an indication that it is appreciated. During the past year its subscription list has shown an almost phenomenal growth, not only in Polk county but in adjoining territory as well. This should be a pointer for advertisers. The Observer is read, because it gives the news. "You know it." FOR SALE—Practically new 3 1/2 in. wide tire, Studebaker wagon; a bargain. J. D.
