SOCIETY

Informal Afternoon—The Leisure Hour club, an organization of ladies of the Presbyterian church, spent a very enjoyable informal afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. L. Crider on Thursday. Between forty and fifty members of the club assembled at the Crider home and spent the afternoon at needlework. Mrs. Crider served a delightful luncheon late in the day. The ladies of the club meet each week at the home of one of the members, and usually busy themselves with their needles. The Leisure Hour club is popular among the church ladies and at the afternoon teas at which they meet there are always a large number.

Tendered Reception—Their friends in that locality tendered Miss Ulalala Davis and Mr. Fred Suver a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Domes of McCoy last evening, when a large number assembled to offer pre-marriage congratulations. The contracting parties will be wedded tomorrow, and will make their home in Dallas, where Mr. Suver is engaged in the laundry business.

Wedding—George A. Rich and Inetta L. Hooper of Independence were united in marriage Friday morning in the Methodist church, Rev. George Bennett, the pastor, performing the ceremony.

Fine Clover Seed.

Clover seed from the farm of G. E. McCrow of McCoy will be added to the Polk county exhibit at Land show. The grower brought samples of the seed to Dallas the other day, and Mrs. Braden, special representative of the county at the forthcoming show in Portland, pronounced it of the highest class, containing not a single foul seed. Mr. McCrow's crop this season netted him $71 per acre.

STAMP TAX ADVOCATED

HENRY CLEWS DISCUSSES NEED FOR INCREASED REVENUE.

High Tariff Under Present Conditions Not Considered Desirable as Lacking Stimulant.

If the farmers of the United States now turn in and sell their products at profitable prices the effect of the allies' loan will be as beneficial to this country as to England and France, says Henry Clews, the well-known New York banker, in his current letter on trade conditions.

"Indeed," says Mr. Clews, "we must sell, for if our farmers do not find a good market for their surplus crops the result here will be disaster and discontent."

"Our exports are also being stimulated, as every one knows, by heavy shipments of war materials; so that, in view of continued small imports, the outlook is for a continued huge excess of exports running at the rate of about $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 a month. Some experts already calculate that if the war continues, the surplus when the fiscal year ends will have reached anywhere from $1,300,000,000 to $1,500,000,000. Continued small imports due to Europe's limited ability to sell, are a problem that time alone will solve."

"Our customs revenue is being sharply reduced, and the treasury deficit is growing, with increasing expenditures for 'preparedness' ahead. Some new form of taxation will be inevitable. Very little additional can be raised from the tariff, for the reason that an advance in duties would still further restrict imports, and tend to diminish rather than increase customs revenue. The sugar duties, which now provide $50,000,000 of revenue, ought to be retained, because if cut off the consumer would probably not receive any of the advantage. Small duties on tea and coffee would bring considerable revenue and would also be but slightly felt by the consumer, if at all. Very considerable revenue could be derived from stamp taxes, one of the most efficient and least objectionable forms of taxation. Present war stamp taxes will possibly be retained."

"The war has been largely, if not entirely, discounted. We are now discounting the approach of peace."

FEW INJURIES REPORTED.

Many Accidents in State, But Polk County Has Only Four.

Polk county escaped with an unusually light casualty list last week according to the report of the state industrial accident commission, which lists 186 injuries to workmen throughout the state, with only four in this county. Only two of these accidents were fatal. Sawmill accidents claimed the greater number of victims in the week past, altogether 63. Railroad operations were next with 24 victims. The Polk county laborers suffering from the accidents were William A. Kirkpatrick, Dallas, leg wounded in sawmill; J. A. West, Falls City, arm bruised while logging; Clarence Gray, Dallas, finger injured in quarry and E. E. Williams, Independence, fingers bruised while employed by transportation company.

NO CONGRESS FOR OSWALD.

Former Governor Denies Rumor That He Will Run.

Former Governor Oswald West says the third congressional district could not run fast enough to give him a congressional job. "I am too busy engaged in a work that is of far more importance to the people of Oregon than is the question of who shall be representative from this district. The work of which I speak is that of putting new life into several of the all but dead irrigation projects of Central Oregon. We have just about succeeded in adjusting the affairs of one project and we hope to see construction started within the next 90 days. As soon as work is started on this project we hope to have good news to announce as to another one. I am familiar with the details surrounding the affairs of most of these projects, and I know of no greater work that one could do than that of assisting in putting new life into those now lying dormant."

Estate Divided For Heirs.

The Himes brothers have just completed the partitioning of the David Hubbard estate for the satisfaction of the heirs. The property consists of about 238 acres and was divided according to its valuation. There are four heirs to profit by the division.

"Everything is Done Electrically Now"

"Yes, boy, in my day we had long lines of overhead shafting with flapping belts right at our elbows. We had to watch close or get hurt. There were lots of accidents. Then too, every time we wanted to change speed we had to throw a running belt. There were only three or four speeds at that."

"You can't realize how easy we have it here with these G-E motors that will give you any speed you want by simply turning a crank that can't go wrong."

G-E motors will help you avoid accidents and increase production. Ask
