NO BRIDGE DECISION REACHED.

County Courts Still Investigating Two Types of Bridges.

Neither Polk nor Marion county has swerved from their favorite type of bridge. Investigations are proceeding in a friendly way but there is little hope of agreement unless the Marion county court concludes that the concrete bridge should be built. They are taking a longer breathing spell than usual this time as the next meeting is slated for a week from Saturday.

Judge Kirkpatrick was quoted in error last Friday by this paper as not favoring a steel bridge erected in concrete. He favors the steel-encased-in-cement bridge and prefers a high level bridge, although the latter distinction is not likely to prove a bone of serious contention. They are now determining whether the river will stand a concrete structure at the center street site.

It is understood that the committee from the Commercial club appointed to arrange for the planking of the bridge can go ahead with building the 800 feet approach on the Polk county side and the planking, but the railway officials will give no permission to use the bridge until the two county courts have signed a contract for a new bridge. Hence, everything remains in "status quo."

IMPERIAL OPENING THURSDAY.

Housewarmers Will Dance and Partake of Hospitality of Management.

The new management of the Imperial hotel will celebrate its official opening Thursday evening, February 1 with a big dance and general housewarming. The public is cordially invited to partake of the management's hospitality. Refreshments will be served "buffet style" to the guests and a special 50c table d'hotel dinner will be served from 6 to 8.

The hotel has been open to the trade for about two weeks, Thursday's jollification and entertainment celebrates the official opening, not the real opening. Mr. and Mrs. Murray, the new managers, are enthusiastic over Dallas and intend to locate permanently here. They have other property interests in the Willamette valley, owning a ranch near Carlton, Oregon. "This is not a temporary business proposition," said Mr. Murray. "The hotel is permanently opened and will remain as one of Dallas business concerns," according to Mr. F. L. Shull, owner of the building.

MONTEITH CONCERT SATURDAY

Musical Treat of Season In Store For Dallas People.

Ticket sales for the Monteith-Eichenlaub concert point to a large crowd Saturday night, according to J. C. Uglow, who, with Roy Miller, is taking charge of the local end of the proposition. People are expected from several districts in the county; word has been received that many Monmouth citizens will hear the celebrated baritone and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eichenlaub, at the Christian church. Monteith was here last year and made a big hit with Dallas people. He is considered the greatest baritone singer in the northwest and probably the entire Pacific coast. Frank Eichenlaub, violinist, has studied under Sevek and other music teachers who have turned out the greatest of modern violinists. Mrs. Eichenlaub is an accomplished piano soloist and accompanist.

The concert is being brought to Dallas, not with any idea of financial profit, but merely to furnish local people a musical treat of the highest order. Messrs. Uglow and Miller have offered to turn the proposition over to the Women's club, if they think they can make any money out of it. The talent is costing more per unit than any other attraction of its kind that ever came to Dallas.

"Traveling Salesman" Tonight.

Frank McIntyre, one of the foremost comedians on the stage, makes his motion picture debut in the Famous Players adaptation of his best known success, "The Traveling Salesman," in which he toured the country for three seasons. It is an interesting coincidence that Mr. McIntyre's first appearance on the screen should be made in an adaptation of the play in which he scored his first great success.

"The Traveling Salesman" is the Paramount Picture at the Orpheum theatre tonight and tomorrow. It is a remarkable mixture of comedy and drama, in which this jovial comedian is thoroughly at home, having played in every known form of theatrical presentation from farce and musical comedy to heavy dramas. McIntyre himself has traveled as much as the average salesman in his tours all over the country, and he plays the part with an understanding that gives his performance a complete reality.

Don't fail to hear John Claire Monteith at the Christian church Saturday night.

Announcement

It will no longer be necessary for you to wait an indefinite time to see the photo-plays advertised in the Metropolitan dailies. Why? For the very simple reason that our contracts enable us to show those pictures, or a goodly number of them at least, very shortly after their release.

For example, we will show you the Paramount Picture before any other city in the state, outside of Portland, putting one over on Salem, isn't it?

Another service booked is the International-Pathé. This service will be used off Portland's best theatre, The Broadway. The week will be rounded out with selected Bluebird plays, with the celebrated L-KO comedies.

We think this service is the best on the market today. Better pictures are made we will book them.

A line of feature service such as this is, of course, priced, but we must continue to play the game as we see it, using absolutely the best obtainable. The patronage we are receiving shows us that our efforts are appreciated.

Any suggestions you may have to offer to better the service will be carefully considered. We are here to please you, ourselves.
