Society

Woman's Club Meets.

After a short business meeting the Woman's club on Tuesday afternoon gave itself over to the enjoyment of the program which opened with a pleasing solo by Miss Bess Owens, accompanied by Miss Helen Poling. Miss Taylor of the Monmouth Normal school was then introduced and greatly interested her hearers with a talk on "Play and Playgrounds." She pointed out the most important place which well directed play has in the physical development of the child, and described the use and construction of several kinds of play apparatus. She recommended that all public school playgrounds be equipped with suitable play apparatus and that they be in use all the year. The closing number of the program was a selection by the high school orchestra and was much enjoyed.

The Young Women's section has presented the club with a handsome set of oak chairs for the use of officers, a gift much appreciated by officers and members alike.

The Civic section will meet the third Tuesday of the month and will be entertained at the home of the chairman, Mrs. C. Stafrin, assisted by Mrs. A. B. Robinson, Jr.

The club voted to contribute $75 to the scholarship loan fund this year.

After adjournment light refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Basket Social Held.

Assembly No. 46 of the United Artisan lodge met at the Woodman hall Wednesday evening. The fore part of the evening was devoted to lodge ceremonies. A short business meeting was held, after which a basket social was enjoyed. The men cleverly prepared the baskets and the "eats," and the ladies made the bids. Much amusement was derived from the bidding. Many unique and clever baskets were displayed. Dancing was one of the main features of the evening. Music was furnished by Rice and Williams. J. B. Sword, district manager of the United Artisans of Portland, made an official visit to the assembly. About 40 members were present.

Mrs. N. L. Guy Entertains.

Mrs. N. L. Guy charmingly entertained the members of the Textile club at her home Monday evening. The evening was enjoyably spent in fancy work. Late in the evening a delightful luncheon was served. The members of the club present were: Messdames Ida Manston, G. L. Hawkins, W. R. Ellis, E. V. Dalton, Dodge Bieknell, L. J. Clements, H. H. Donkelberger and N. L. Guy and the Misses Maud Robertson, Effie Brown, Frances Dempsey and Nora Robertson.

Entertain Sunday School Class

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Simonton entertained the members of the intermediate boys' class of the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening in honor of their nephew, Hollis Smith, who has attained his fifteenth birthday. The seven boys who constitute the class were all present with their teacher. These were, Stuart Bennett, Phillip Wilson, Harvey Whitehorn, Wallace MacKenzie, Lowell Simpson, Hollis Smith, Wilbur Hamilton, and the teacher, Rev. D. A. MacKenzie. The boys sat down to a well-laden supper table at seven o'clock, and spent the remainder of the happy evening playing finch and checkers.

Reception Saturday Evening.

Mrs. S. B. Taylor and Mrs. J. C. Uglow were hostesses at an informal reception Saturday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Eichenlaub, and John Claire Monteith. The reception was held at Uglow's music room, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion in potted plants and ferns. During the evening a dainty luncheon was served by the hostesses. Those bidden were: Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Starbuck, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hayter, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Volheim, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Uglow, Will Caldwell, Roy Miller, and the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Eichenlaub and Mr. Monteith.

"Merry Matrons" Entertain.

The Merry Matrons entertained the ladies of the M. E. church Tuesday afternoon at the church parlors in honor of Mrs. Johnson, one of the members who is going away. Mrs. Helene Carpenter gave a piano solo, after which a conundrum contest became the diversion. Mrs. Chas. Lynn presented the guest of honor with a very pretty jelly knife from the club. Mrs. Johnson thanked the ladies for the gift and assured them that she couldn't have better friends in her new home than she has had here. A very dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. F. Cooper, Mrs. F. Odum, Mrs. O. Powell and Mrs. C. Foster. Then after wishing Mrs. Johnson both happiness and success in her new home, the party broke up.

Mrs. Clinton Foster Entertains.

Baskets of violets, carnations and ferns adorned the rooms of the Foster home Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Clinton Foster entertained the members of the Sew and So club. The afternoon was spent in fancy work. Mrs. Harold Rich assisted the hostess in serving a dainty three-course luncheon. The members of the Sew and So club are: Mrs. Carl Williams, Mrs. O. I. Chenoweth, Mrs. Lief Finseth, Mrs. Harold Rich, Mrs. L. J. Horn, Mrs. Harry Viers, and Mrs. Maurice Dalton.

Buy's Interest in Grocery.

Simon W. Grindheim this week purchased an interest in Viers & Company's grocery store, formerly the Vassall grocery. Mr. Viers took full charge of the store when he bought A. M. Vassall's interest the first of the month, and with the sale of a part interest to Mr. Grindheim the store will continue under the firm name, Viers & Company, just recently adopted.
